FOREVER MEMORABLE.

LONDON, Nov. 1. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—The British War Cabinet has telegraphed Marshall hearty congratulations on his splendid success in dealing a fatal blow to the Turkish Army, and liberating Mesopotamia from the ten yoke under which its people have suffered for many centuries. The victory was due to the resourceful and energetic leadership, and excellent staff work, and the endurance and resource of all ranks, who worthily maintained the reputations of the British and India armies. The Mesopotamian expedition will be forever memorable in the annals of the British Empire.

O. C. S. MEMORIAL.

AUTOCRACY COLLAPSING.
LONDON, Nov. 1. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—Ex-Emir Asquith, speaking at Glasgow today, said that the most striking change occurring in Europe was the complete and irrevocable collapse of autocracy. In 1914 three Emperors ruled the greater part of Europe, and large part of Asia. The Russian Emperor now had been deposed and ordered, the Austrian Emperor was dead and strayed, while the third Emperor was hovering on the verge of deposition. Whatever be the terms of the peace, those thrones cannot be rebuilt. We entered the war as the champions of small nations, and despite their tribulations every one of them would ultimately find its just and large part of Asia.
