—Captain Mutton, of the Salvation Army, has been notified of his removal from the London corps, and a grand farewell will be tendered him by the army next Sunday. The Captain has been an efficient and diligent officer, and made many friends during his brief stay in the city. He will doubtless receive a promotion when his orders from headquarters arrive.

—Alex. McDonald, a smart-looking boy, was obarged with larceny at the Folice Court this morning, but was discharged, no one appearing against him. A small sum of money had been stolen some time ago from the Free Press office, where McDonald worked, and it appears that the guilty person had purposely left the latch of the window open, through which an accomplice climbed and robbed the till.

—Leater & Williams' London Gaiety and Novelty Company, acknowledged to be one of the beat of the kind, will be at the Graud Opera House on Tuesday night in "Me and Jack." The Washington Critic says: "This is a decidedly amusing burlesque and held the house to the finish. The company is composed of, a number of clever variety artists, and the burleaque was interspersed with pleasing specialties."

—Two or three boys old enough to know better disturbed the Salvation Army meeting last evening at the Pall Mall street barracks. They had a flask of liquor and were conducting themselves in such a disorderly manner that the army officers were forced to eject them, whereupon the miscreants amashed a window. James A. Barber, one of the youths, was arrested, and at the Police Court this morning was charged with malicious damage and with being drunk and disorderly. He was fined §1 as payment for the window and §4 for his conduct.

-Mr. W. J. Walker having rented his farm and being about to move to London a large number of his friends and neighbors gathered at his residence last Wednesday evening to pay him a farewell visit. W. Sutherland was appointed chairman and a short programme was carried out. An address was read by W. H. Sutherland and a silver tea service was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Walker by James Sutherland and George McKay, jun., on behalf of their many friends. Short addresses were given by several of the neighbors and a very pleasant evening was spent. — [Embro Courier.

—At the regular seni-monthly meeting of the Central Circle, C. L. S. C., Mr. G. H. Cowan was inducted into the presididential chair so faithfully filled by Mr. R. A. Little during the past season. The president, in his fopening remarks, urged the members to press forward undauntedly in their search for truth. An able address was then given on the Magna Charta—the groundwork of English liberty. An animated table-talk followed, in which the civil war of Henry III.'s time was tully discussed. An excellent essay was contributed on the "Life of John Wycliffe, the Morning Star of the Reformation," after which the circle joined in a discussion on the Wars of the ned in a discussion on the Wars of the ses. No. 2 Committee had a short session last evening, transacting the business in quick style. There were present: Alder men Garratt, Dreamey, Thomas, Wyatt, O'Meara, Secretary Graydon and Commissioner Owens. In the absence of Chairman Jones, Ald. Garratt took the head of the table. Three compensation claims for alleged injuries through defective sidewalks, and which were referred back to the committee with power, were left with the Chairman, Engineer and City Solicitor. The two former were also detailed to look after the foreman's complaint, that the gravel supplied by M. Shae was not screened. Some complaint, that the gravel supplied by M. Shae was not screened. "Beechwood," the residence of Mrs. John Birrell, Queen street, South London, was thronged with a pleasant company last evening. The Ladies' Help in connection with St. James' Church were responsible for the social gathering, for which an excellent programme had been provided, consisting of a piano solo by Mr. E. Macoomb; song, Mr. W. C. Davis; reading, Mr. Geo. B. Sippi; recitation, Miss Freda Puddicombe; song, Mrse C. Hutchinson; recitation, Miss Edith Hyman; song, Mr. W. Halle, and a reading by Mr. Alexander. In every way the affair was a success, the proceeds amounting to over $50, which will be applied toward the purchase of a new bell for the church.

In Favor of Commissioners.

The Trades and Labor Council met last night in Labor Hall, Dufferin avenue. After the minutes of last meeting were read, a communication was received from Factory Inspector Earber re fire escapes, also a copy of Ontario Factories Act, which were filled for future reference. A communication from Workingmen's Library Committee, notifying delegates to that committee to attend next meeting of Library Eard, was read. A copy of the proceedings of the City Council was also received and filed. After reports of Legislative, Municipal and Education committees were disposed of the council took up the question of municipal reform and discussed it from all points of view, and it was unanimously resolved that the Trades and Labor Council indorse the scheme of running the city affairs by paid commissioners. The meeting was one of interest throughout, representatives from all the labor organizations being present.

W. S. Bryers Barkwell,

Chosen Friends in the East End Hall last night a pleasing success. Mr. Wm. Lutriell performed the duties of chairman, and introduced the programme, which was carried out in a highly satisfactory manner. Miss Mutch was in fine voice, and gave an excellent rendition of "In Old Madrid," which received an encore. Mr. J. W. Beicher, in "The Diver," won the plaudits of the audience. "Sixth Air" (De Beriot), by Master George Angus, in a violin solo, was well executed, as was also a violin selection by Miss Croden. The sailers' hornpipe, by Messrs. Rattray, Hodgins and Murray, proved very popular with the audience, and Miss Allen's recitations were highly appreciated. The following was the programme, Mr. E. Green acting efficiently as accompanist:
