How Noted Misers Live and Die

STARVED TO DEATH SURROUNDED BY BAGS OF GOLD-THE LON- contemptible miser who ever lived was the country it has been the practice of DON SATURDAY JOURNAL CITES STRANGE CASES.

[London Saturday Journal.] every ten he dies of starvation.

amounting to nearly £500.

grew until they made the deeply found to be worth nearly one million shaded lawn a place of gloom. Dancer pounds. was so stingy that he seldom washed his hands and face; and when he did! so he never used either soap or tow- the case of an English lady, Miss Elizbody by a band of hay and his legs was a born miser. Personally, she likewise were swathed in hay and was attractive and received a good straw. At last he boarded up every many offers of marriage, but she alhad a sense of gratitude. A neighbor last she accepted a man who was even more marked. teapot yielded up Bank of England cats' meat who happened to be pass- ley, oats, and other crops show the Wood street, which owes its immorrooms there were cracked jugs filled son, and then finished her journey on As an illustration of what can be

John Elwes, who began his life as a should be rected over her remains.

It is one of the laws governing the peared in his nature; for his uncle ters of fine old oaks. But the soil was two beds and two chairs. His sole atnever tilled, just as the house was tendant was an old woman. He died their benevolence, declaring that they been preserved by some happy chance. never thied, just as the house was tendant was an one tendant was an one of his son, whimpering had saved his life, and that some day Very few persons realize how many ly it fell into decay. As the years went that he had lost a small money-bag, they would receive a rich reward. trees there are in the square mile that on, the gates rotted from their hinges which he had brought with him, and When he died he was 86 years of age, goes to make up that part of London and the broken windowpanes were which he declared, with tears, was all and though he had practically done no known as the city. Here in this most stuffed with filthy rags. About the the money he had in the world. Af- work, he was found to have £175,000. populous, busy part of town there are house the untrimmed hedges grew and ter his death, however, his estate was

The records of avarice now and then show gleams of humor. They appear in els, but dabbed at the wrinkles with abeth Bolatne, of Canterbury, who had door and window of his house, save one ways jilted any one in favor of anwindow on the upper story, which he other who had a little more money. aired or washed. Lady Tempest, pity- crusts to tainted meat. This strange nois fell considerably below it. ing the old man, sent him a decent couple set up a carriage, such as it With the most fertile land in the notes to the value of £750. In many ing, sold her carriage to another per- same contrast.

A MESSAGE FOR

strain of avarice which finally ap- ed in a factory, but later obtained a spite of the protests of scientists and small position in the excise, coming the demonstrations of agricultural colworkings of poetic justice that a man was a noted miser, and his mother to London with 5 shillings in his poc- leges and experiment stations.

wallowing in any one of the greater starved herself to death, although she ket. He formed the acquaintance of Whereas arable land should under vices which beset humanity shall be had £125,000 in her possession. She a brewer, into whose good graces he proper treatment grow richer and more allowed to work out his own destruct had, however, given her son an excel- wormed his way, until he learned all countiful year by year, our agricultural tion. And particularly noticeable is lent education, and when he came of the details of the business. At the acres are deteriorating so fast that the this in the case of the miser. He starts age he inherited from her and from his brewer's death Cooke told the widow owner derives from them an annual inon his get-rich-at-any-cost path, de- uncle sums of money amounting to that the business could be carried on come equal to no more than what nying himself the little luxuries of £400,000. Elwes was peculiar in two profitably only if she married him, would be a moderate rental if they life. and ends, alas! in begrudging respects. First, because he struggled since he alone knew all the secrets of were in ordinary condition and propeven the necessities. The one inevit- and pinched to save pennies so far as the trade. This he persuaded her to erly cultivated. able result is that in nine cases out of his personal comfort was concerned, do, and thus Cooke found himself poswhile at the some time he squander- sessed of a comfortable fortune. Money A striking example is the death a ed thousands of pounds in gambling, begets the love of money, so that lew weeks ago of a man at Hanwell. He was a member of some of the most Cooke now showed his miserly in-Once a compositor, the evidence at the fashionable clubs in London, which, stincts to the full. He dispensed with inquest showed that since the death of however, he frequented solely for the all servants, cut down the food of his his father (a cab proprietor) he had sake of gaming. He used to boast household to the starvation point, and lived an altogether eccentric life. He that few men played more recklessly deprived his wife of so many necesnever spoke to his neighbors and re- than he. On one occasion he even sat saries that before long she died. Cooke, fused to see his friends and acquaint-ances. Every day, wet or fine, he made a journey to the nearest baker's shop last he reeled out of the room ex- used to make visits to persons whom to buy a loaf of bread. This, with a hausted he was the loser of a small he knew, timing his calls so as to be small quantity of milk, left regularly fortune. All this time his personal ex- asked to dinner or to supper. Then he at his door, was his only food. Yet, on penses were less than those of a poor would throw out hints to the effect his death, brought about by starva- clerk. When he went into the country that he had just made his will, and this summer. Weeks of sunshine have tion, gold and silver were found in his he hired a room in a farmer's cottage, that he had not forgotten his enterhouse to the extent of several pounds, and dressed in the meanest possible tainers. He pretended to be very of color it seldom attains. while his bank book showed deposits clothing. He was fond of hunting, yet anxious to get the exact names of the he tried to hunt at small expense. He children, which he would then write summer days may be here, Londoners One of the most remarkable misers made his huntsmen milk the cows and down in a memorandum book. Nat- have one great advantage over dwellwas a man named Daniel Dancer. He cook his meals. As he grew old he urally he was very well fed on such ers in most other cities. They can alwas a man named Daniel Dancer. The cook his means. As an arrange was a miser by heredity. Dancer was gave up hunting, and practiced a still occasions. At other times he would ways find, even in the very heart of born at Harrow and inherited most of more rigid economy. He owned many pretend to fall down in a fit at the their metropolis, cool, shady spots like his father's savings. He lived in a houses in London and would occupy door of some handsome house, into bits of the country, with magnificent house which stood amid eighty acres whichever one of them happened to be which he would be carried and kindly trees, tiny strips of grass and perhaps of rich meadow land, dotted by clus- empty. His sole furniture consisted of treated. On the following day he used a sun dial, a fountain or an old oaken

AMERICAN FARMS

NEGLECT OF FERTILIZATION THE CAUSES.

In the closing decade of the last cenused to enter by means of a ladder, Finally, suitors became scarce; and tury the land values of Ohio shrank ike a second Robinson Crusoe. Yet finally one wag suggested that na man $60,000,000. In Minnesota, the great even Daniel Dancer had some virtues, should propose to her unless she would wheat state, the average yield an acre the city is the plane. It is to London corner is just off Fenchurch street and of his, one Lady Tempest, had been much older than herself, but who apkind to him during an illness, and had pealed to her fancy because he could age annual product an acre of all the culties that would daunt most of the wash and iron clothes and keep the culties that would daunt most of the church remains embowered in the trees among which is a could be coul necessities of life. This he refused to house clean, and thus save her the ex- $11 38. This figure, poor as it is, do. He would not even give up the pense of a servant maid. Also, he was must owe a great deal to the newly in London one could never be out of green leaves the desolate old tower. heap of sacks on which he had slept an obliging creature as to his food, opened territories, for the great agrisight of a tree, and thanks to the Londoners love these quaint old years, and which had never been for he would eat anything from moldy cultural States of Minnesota and Illi bed. It made a great impression on was. It was drawn by two clumsy world, says the Craftsman, we are prohis mind; so that when he was actual- farm horses. The coachman's livery ducing much less than other peoples ly dying he sent for her and handed was a moth-eaten military uniform. extract from lands of poorer quality her a folded document. "Here is my When he drove out for any distance, and longer subjection to tilth. During comes the fragrant lime, will," said he. "I have left everything the top of the carriage was covered the ten years ending with 1906 we to you." Soon after he died; and when with a host of pickle jars, garden tools, raised thirteen and five-tenths bushels he had been buried a search was made and a warming pan. It happened of wheat to the acre. In Austria and both in his house and in the outbuild- finally that, during an excursion, one Hungary the average was seventeen ings. Under a heap of refuse the of the horses dropped dead from star- bushels; in France it was nineteen and searchers found £30,000 in gold. In vation. Immediately Miss Bolaine- and eight-tenths; in Germany, twenty the stable an old jacket, which was for so she caleld herself even after her seven and six-tenths; and in the nailed to the manger, had £625 in marriage—descended from her coach, United Kingdom, thirty-two and twoone of its pockets. In the house a auctioned off the animal to a seller of tenths bushels. The figures for bar-with gold and silver. His chimney foot. When she died she provided in done here under intensive farming, it her will for a most gorgeous funeral, may be stated that in Yellowstone A very different type of miser was and directed that a costly monument County, Montana, the following yields an acre have been secured: Wheat, 53

with the palace itself. PILE SUFFERERS and roofs it over with leaves. From One Who Has Been Cured of an Unusu-Stationers' Hall court.

> no doubt, it was growing in the old parishes on which the bank is built. It is as healthy as any tree within miles of London and in the summer evenings sends forth an exquisite perfume. This year a pair of wood pigeons nested in its branches..

The Temple Gardens and Finsbury Circus are the chief paradises of trees in the city. Fountain court, in the of hers would live. The explanation is Temple, has a venerable elm and plenty of plane and mulberry trees. Finstwenty-five mulberries, twenty limes, two fine weeping ashes and an elm. The old city churchyards are also repositories of London's greenery. One can turn off from the rush and noise of a busy street and sit in the shade of ancient trees in a quiet ancient churchyard and forget the modern world is in existence, so far away seems all bustle and hurry. still famous in the annals of city his-knotted black trunk with a seat the sins of the worthless and the

1,213 bushels, wile 1,420 tons of al-falfa have been grown on 200 acres. The impoverishment of our lands has en brought about in the main by ingle cropping and the neglect of fertilization. Almost everywhere in an Englishman named Thomas Cooke. our farmers to select the crop which His wealth and his shameful penury promised the best immediate return made him known all over Great Brit- and to plant their fields in it year after ain. When a boy, Cooke was employ- year without rest or change, and in

THE BEAUTY SPOTS OF OLD LONDON

OASES THAT FLOURISH IN THE

Not for many years has the foliage of London trees been as beautiful as brought it to a luxuriance and richness

No matter how hot and dry the

Among the 1,200, however, there is not a single specimen of the English national tree, the oak. Though there GROW POORER national tree, the oak. Though there is a beech street there are no beeches. But there is plenty of variety in those trees that do grow and thrive bits of rags. The tatters which he been well brought up, and was a siscalled clothes were held around his ter-in-law of a countess. Miss Bolaine

NECLECT OF FERTILIZATION

10 the heart of the city. There are the law of a six been well brought up, and was a six been well brought up, 26 elms, 8 ash trees, 8 sycamores, 11 elder trees, 4 rowans, 9 figs, 6 wych elms, 7 mulberry trees, 2 birches, 3 weeping ashes, 3 willows, 3 service trees and 1 solitary pear tree, which some 1,200 well-established trees.

The most frequently seen tree in He was honest in his dealings with others; and, as the event showed, he be forfeited if she failed to marry. At years. In Kansas the retrogression is smoke of central London, for it flourishes and grows in the face of diffi-

grows in the Master of the Temple's

It was Leigh Hunt who boasted that fine hardy fig tree covering with its hardy plane even nowadays this is very spots in their rapidly changing city, nearly true. There are in the city and there is always much lamentation alone 520 plane trees, and it 'would and many petitions when it is learned be difficult to estimate the number in that one of the oases is to be swept all London together.

Next to the plane in popularity buildings or ugly warehouses or trethere are 220 specimens, and then 215 But lamentations and petitions are poplars, of which only 8 are the tall fruitless, and the day is not far dis-Lombardy poplars landscape painters love. The thorns, hawthorn and blackthorn, number 61 and laburnums are

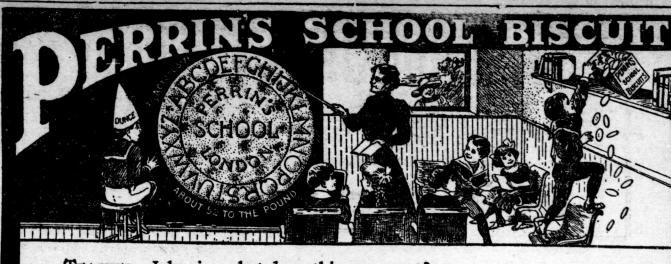

Many of the city's trees are famous in verse and song. There is the plane tree at the corner of Cheapside and tality to Wordsworth. Now it is no longer an inspiring sight, as it has A GIFTED AUTHORESS PURSUED been cut and lopped until it is little more than a mere bunch. Then there were the two famous limes that grew in Crosby Square. They have gone

Some very beautiful plane trees are those along the north side of St. Paul's Churchyard. They are 70 feet in learned that a monument was being height and command the gaze of every raised to her in her native land; and Still another well-known plane tree, though it has not been immortalized by any poet, is packed away behind the ing the chief part in its inauguration.

It gets almost no sunshine and has a daily shower of soot from nearby that dreary neighborhood. Presumably once it was in a beautiful garden you live and have your daily being. which has now become the crowded vanished church of one of the three

The lime and plane avenue of Christ Church is worth seeing and the music of the birds at Cripplegate makes one posthumous fame. And this tragedy of sure one is in the depths of the country. The trees at Cripplegate have sibilities is deepened by what I be always been the homes of countless lieve to be the fact-that this inbirds. Milton used to sit and listen to cessant and killing drudgery was unthem when he was a parishioner at dertaken largely for worthless people, TEACHER—Johnnie, what does this represent?

JOHNNIE-Perrin's School Biscuits.

TEACHER-What do you know about them?

JOHNNIE-They are good to eat. Mother says they are the best biscuits made for hungry boys and girls.

TEACHER-Correct, Johnnie, your Mother is right. I also use them and find them exceedingly good.

DIARRHOEA

There is no need of anyone suffering long with this disease, for to effect a quick cure it is only necessary to take a few doses of

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

In fact, in most cases one dose is sufficient. It never fails and can be relied upon in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is equally valuable for children and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year. In the world's history no medicine has ever met with greater success. PRICE THIRTY-FIVE CENTS.

ley, where once stood the church of Allhallows Staining. Now only the away by relentless progress and model of which mendous offices are to rise in its place tant when all these charming places will have disappeared.

MRS. OLIPHANT'S SAD STORY

BY MISFORTUNE.

It was a coincidence that I should have been reading a story of Mrs Oliphant just at the moment when I one passing the cathedral on that side. with her distinguished countryman and fellow novelist, Mr. J. M. Barrie, tak houses in Stationers' Hall court. It I know few stories in literary hisfills the dingy court with its presence tory more pathetic than that of Mrs. Oliphant. At her best she is the equal of any novelist of her time; there is not a story of hers which does chimneys, yet for ages it has grown not contain some picture of a group and flourished to the admiration and or of an individual which breathes life gratitude of all who work or live in and gives you the impression of a world more real than that amid which

Her method of expression, so simple, so easy, so inevitable, reaches style at The lime tree in the garden of the its highest-when, that is to say, it Bank of England is undoubtedly the seems but the unconscious, most fachief of all the city trees. It is a miliar, most natural narrative of magnificent specimen and dominates something that has really occurred. the little garden plot. It is older even But Mrs. Oliphant is seldom for long than the bank itself and at one time, at her highest. Her novels, beginning with some good idea or single churchyard of St. Christopher's, the purpose, gradually become discursive, involved, disproportionate; until the main theme is swallowed up and submerged underneath another and a secondary theme; and until her world becomes so crowded with figures that you have a sense of confusion and blur. Nobody felt these defects of her books more keenly than she did. She put it in the tragic phrase that not a line as tragic as the expression. All her life-long she worked too hard; she wrote too much. One book was scarcely finished when the other had to be begun. It is clear to anybody accustomed to appraise literary work that often she began her story without any clear idea in her mind of the plot, the characters, the ultimate purpose; that she allowed her pen-often weary-to divagate according to its own sweet will; and that as she had no time to prepare, so also she had no time to blot. Writing for bread, she could not stop to think of style, or art, or a genius diverted from its highest pos is a poplar with a twisted, wrinkled, alties, and the innocent atoning for

on Mortgages of Real Estate at Current Rates

All Business Strictly Confidential

Liberal Terms of Repayment

Loans Completed Quickly Expenses Moderate

Full information gladly given

Loan and Savings Co., London, Ont.

NERVOUS DEBILIT

OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT will cure you and make a man of you. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers heat up; the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and mental systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs become natural and mauly. You feel yourself a man and know marriage cannot be a failure. We lavite all the afflicted to consult us confidentially and free of charge. Don't let quacks and fakirs rob you of your hard-earned dollars. NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my seret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for baths, but received little benefit. While at the morning man I commenced the New Method Treatment all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

CURES GUARANTEED OR NO PAY

CURES GUARANTEED OR NO PAY We treat and cure VARICOCELE, STRICTURE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, BLOOD AND URINARY COMPLAINTS, KIDNEY AND BLADDER DISEASES and all Diseases peculiar to Men.

CONSULTATION FREE. BOOKS FREE. If unable to call write for a Question Blank for Home Treatment.

Cor. Michigan Ave., and Griswold St., Detroit, Mich.

THE CANADA METAL CO., LIMITED, WILLIAM ST., TORONTO

tragic episodes of this kind in the life a mothers' love and grief-more terthe church, and though many of the and because Mrs. Oliphant was one of of Mrs. Oliphant. She came to see rible and more touching than the trees are not the same he walked those lofty and generous spirits to him once; and her business was to an- pages in which Mrs. Oliphant deamong, yet the birds of Cripplegate are whom self-sacrifice comes too easily, nounce that she would pay the bills scribes the gradual sinking to death of and who, being willing to be sacrificed, which a relative had forged, and she her last child. It is years since I read are, after the manner of this world, sat down to write and write and write these pages; but they haunt me still. At St. Botolph's, Aldersgate, there sacrificed; the worthy paying the pen until the forgeries were met, and the After that there was no more for her relative saved from destruction. And to do, except to keep on writing still; finally, the last child left to her—a boy and, attacked by cancer, she also sank Another peaceful little old world solicitor, lifted the veil on one of the of family history—I know no story of Weekly.

piles ever recommended is now generally conceded, the proof of which is added to almost every day by unsolicited letters telling of cases where persons have suffered for bury Circus has fourteen plane trees. periods of ten, twenty and thirty years only to be cured at last by this ointment. Surgical operations are past, because they are expensive, dangerous and not entirely satisfactory. Dr. Chase's Ointment came, it stayed, and will remain, because, as well as being cheap, it cures and isn't in any way dangerous.

SUFFFRING CANNOT BE DESCRIBED.

Mrs. Geo. H. Simser, Grant, Russell Co., Ont., writes:-"Eleven years ago I began to suffer from piles, and as they caused keen distress and became worse I doctored for them, but with little or no avail. They were bleeding, itching and protruding, and, oh, the torture I suffered at times can never be described. It was with suffering that the bowels moved, and as nothing brought relief I could only endure the misery with an aching heart and without hope of cure.

ally Severe Case by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

extremely severe. We welcome the severest cases because more credit is reflected on the preparation when cured, and Dr. Chase's Ointment can cure piles of every description. Not only do the thousands of testimonials printed from time to time witness its virtue, but also the years of success it has had since being on the market. The sale has increased by leaps and bounds; if it couldn't cure you can rest assured that the story of

Dr. Chase's Ointment

wouldn't be one of success. That it is the most effective and satisfactory treatment for Never give up hope until Dr. Chase's Ointment has been tried, even if your case is "Finally a lady told me about Dr. Chase's Ointment curing piles, and, to my surprise I felt relief at once on using this ointment; the little tumors soon disappeared, the ulcers healed, and the bowels became regular. That was five years ago, and I have never been troubled with this terrible ailment since, a thousand thanks to Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for irregular kidneys and torpid liver; one pill a around it that looks as if it had once been the centre of a village green. Inow dead for some years—who was a died before she did. I know few pages around her.—T. P. O'Connor in T. P.'s dose, one cent a dose.