True Elixir o Aids Digestion, Stimulates the Circulation, Invigorates the Brain. Nerve Tissue, Tones Up the Heart, Insures Refreshing Sleep and Prolongs Life. It is a Most Wonderful Remedy in the Prevention and Cure of Dysentery, Cramps, Cholera, Congestion, Diarrhoea, Chills, Fevers,

Heat Prostrations and All Other Summer Complaints. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain, great care being used to have every kernal thoroughly malted, producing a liquid food, tonic and stimulant, requiring no digestion, in the form of a medicinal whiskey. 1860-just a half century ago-the formula of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey was discovered. It was also discovered that it was a great curative agent | cil has been unable to find tenants. in the treatment of all summer ills and in throat, lung and stomach troubles.

The merit and honesty of an article that has been before the public for such a length of time cannot be questioned. Scientists have tested it, chemists have analyzed it and always found it pure and full of medicinal virtue; doctors have prescribed it, ministers of the Gospel, temperance advocates and men and women in all walks of life have used it, and all indorse it as the most effective tonic stimulant that nourishes the body, stimulates the circulation of the blood and acts as an aid to digestion, thus keeping the entire system in a normal, healthy condition and stopping the inroads of disease and old age.

During these fifty years some chemists and other dealers, who were interested in products which they claimed to be "just as good as" Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, have done everything in their power to discredit Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and the great work it has done for humanity, but without Left to itself the island site was overgrown by all manner of shrubs hybrid plants and flowers, to which even botanists could not put a name, a mystery and a wonder to every one—a wonder because of the wealth of color that was produced, a mystery ecause no one could understand how they sprang up from the ground upon which for centuries had stood a bit of the oldest part of London.

French Industries. Now it has been definitely settled that "Paris in London," a scheme which some years ago was thrown out by a grandmotherly county council because it feared for the morals of the younger portion of the community. is to be proceeded with, for the latest crop of advertising boardings announces that the site has been definitely acquired by the French Palace Development Syndicate, Limited, which is to erect on it a palace of French ndustries, and building operations are to be commenced in the autumn.

But the title Palace of French Industries does not by any means adequately convey the extent of the scheme, which is so comprehensive that t includes a restaurant, a theatre and club. In fact, it will be a miniature of Paris set down in the midst of

The area to be covered is a pretty arge one, being no less than three and a quarter acres, a space which might well inspire any architect, and M. Ernest Gerard, to whom the commission has been given, may be relied upon to make the most of his opportunity. The style chosen is the French Renaissance, and the elevation fronting Aldwych will be the most important architectural feature of the build-

The scheme was originally suggested by the entente cordiale between the two countries, which came into being about six years ago. This will be commemorated by a sculptured bas-relief in the tympanum over the central entrance, which will represent the late King Edward welcoming President Loubet, and grouped around the cenfamous people, including King George and the Duke of Connaught.

ROYAL PARENTS SEE PRINCE CONFIRMED

"Paris in London" Will Soon Impressive Ceremony Took Place in Private Chapel at Windsor.

London, July 13.—Prince Edward of Wales was confirmed recently in the private chapel at Windsor by the Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by

The Archbishop of Canterbury placed his hands on the young prince's head, and invoked the Holy Spirit, the chief feature of the confirmation service, at which those who have been baptized in infancy renew their vows in person, the godparents thereby relieved from reponsibility.

To the right of the aisle stood King George, Queen Mary, Princess Mary, and Prince Albert; on the left Queen Alexandra and the dowager empress, while behind them were the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, and Prince Arthur. Mr. Asquaith, the premier, was seated on the extreme right.

Crowds had turned out and lined the route at all points between Marlborough House, Buckingham Palace, and he Great Western station, says the Daily Graphic, in the expectation of seeing the royal party, and particularly the Queen Mother, who has not been out in public since the funeral of the late King. All except those in the neighborhood of Buckingham Palace were disappointed in the latter expectation, for at the last moment Queen Alexandra decided, for the sake of greater privacy, to go by road. Her majesty and her sister, the dowager empress of Russia, left Buckingham Palace by motor car for Windsor.

The King and Queen were respectfully greeted on their way to the station. King George wore ordinary morning dress, while his two sons were in naval cadets' uniform. The royal party were received at Paddington by Viscount Churchill, chairman of the directors: Mr. Inglis, the general manager of the line; Mr. G. K. Mills, the secretary, and a number of other railway officials, as well as by the Earl of Granard, master of the horse, and other household officials, who had arrived in advance of their majesties. The party included Princess Christian, Princess Louise (Duchess of Argyll), Princess Henry of Battenberg, with her sons, Prince Maurice and Prince Albert; Prince Arthur of Connaught, Prince Francis of Teck, Lord Annaly and Earl Howe.

The prince occupied a seat immediately in front of the communion table. while King George and Queen Mary. Prince Albert of Wales and Princess Mary of Wales, sat a little in the rear to the right. On the left were Queen Alexandra and the Empress Marie, while other members of the royal family, including those already mentioned. and the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia, the Princess Royal, and the Duke of Fife, occupied chairs on each side of the centre aisle, from which the ordinary pews had been removed. Some 70 or 80 guests, including the prime minister, the lord chancellor and the home secretary, who had ben honored with invitations, occupied the pews on either side of the chapel.

Immigration Officer Who Insulted St Louis Woman Is H. Gilboit.

Ottawa, July 14.—After being kept quiet for some time, the name of the Dominion immigration official who insulted Canadians on a train at Windsor, Ont., and was forced to apologize by W. R. Taylor, editor of the Sentinei-Review, Woodstock, has been made public. He is H. Gilboit.

The woman whom he was insulting when Mr. Taylor protested was Mrs. Percy Tressider, of St. Louis, Mo., who was on her way to Ottawa to spend her holidays with her father-in-law, G. C. R. Tressider, clerk in the department of public works. She was sitting opposite Mr. Taylor when the at Windsor, and coming up the aisle of the coach turned his attention to Mrs. Tressider.
