

Fabr, hats are favorites for early autumn wear. They are light in weight, ad yet not quite so "summery" in appearance as the straws, nor heavy ad wintry as the felts.

The ob in the sketch is made of white pongee and is trimmed with a black sati ruche around the crown. A full black aigret lends height to the othervse flat effect.

HAVI YOU EXTENDED THE CUP OF

COLD WATER TO PARCHED SOULS? Lessons For Us All in the Story of "Lost Patience."

BY CYNTHIA GREY.

Few caes coming to public attention in this city have ever aroused more genule feeling than that presented some little time ago in the letter from "LostPatience," seeking help and courage to lead a straight life, amid muchardship and suffering. Many letters have come from our read-"LostPatience," seeking help and courage to lead a straight life, expresng sympathy and desire to help. Some of these have been printothers ave been forwarded as requested.

One whan offered a temporary home and care until 'Lost Patience" could get aresh start in life and health. Another set forth at length the qualities can honest man she knew, hoping to bring the two together and ake bothappier. A man sent a practical offer of marriage, with a comfortable hae, to which to take this waif of adversity. Another wrote sim-Harly on balf of a friend.

My relers will be interested, I am sure, to know that this particular woman Hs found the courage to lead a straight life, and the helping hand the needec-through her letters to this newspaper.

Let's I thankful for that, but let us not calmly forget this incident. We may all dw a lesson from it—the lesson of helping the unfortunate BE-PORE theare lost, BEFORE they are forced to write as this woman wrote. Locabout you. Isn't there some woman fighting bravely against almost overhelming odds? Isn't there a woman YOU might save by a little friendshipa little counsel and advice, perhaps a little financial help? Have YOU donall you can for those about you? Have YOU extended the cup of cold wateto the parched souls in your neighborhood?

ALL AROUND THE HOME

If the and small steaks are placed | burned flavor will penetrate, but wait in tin piplates and set on top of the till perfectly cold, then remove the and his wife, should both leave cards urned part with a cheese grater.

ed, andhe tin plates will be much easier eaned than the broiler grate

If ejes are kept in a large stone jar

THE STORY OF

Always place citron in a moderately lot oven for a few moments before cutting it up for cakes or pudding.

many shand moist much longer.

To get the best results from shredded cocoanut when it is to be used in cake icing or candy, soak it for half ot distub while warm, or the an hour in warm water before adding.

TALES FROM ARABIAN NIGHTS

THE THIRD BEGGAR. Prince Agib is my name, and I have aways been known as the Travelling Frince. A few years ago my father and I, on a long journey, became separated.
As I was trying desperately to find the right road. I came in front of a large copper palace, dazzling in the sunshine. Ten handsome young men came forth, each blind in the right eye, and with them a tall, old man. They welcomed me and invited me to supper in a large hall where stood a basin filled with ashes. They all rubbed their faces and their hair with the ashes, beat their breasts, and cried continually: "This is the fruit of our idleness and curiosity." Such a scene aroused my interest, and I begged to know what it was all about. Seeing that I was determined, they presented me with a large sheepskin and a knife. "Sew yourself in this," they said, "and a large bird called a roc will pick you up and carry you to a distant mountain and drop you there. Cut the skin, frighten away the roc, and walk forward to the great palace. This little trip has cost each one of us the loss of an eye. We can tell you no more."

I carried out all the advice, and very soon found myself before the palace. In the long hall I was greeted by a charming lady, with whom I soon fell in love. But one day she came to me and said sadly, "Agib, I must leave you for a while; I cannot tell you where I am going. I will leave the keys of my palace to you and you may enter any excepting the room that opens with this little gold key; if you love me, I pray you do not pry into that room, for f you do I may never see you again." After an affectionate farevell she left

I took the keys and began opening the rooms. In the first there was a most wonderful orchard, full of unknown fruits. In the next room I found pigeon's egg, rubies and emeralds. One a great flower garden, and the fragrance was sweeter than the rarest per-

The next day in the third room I found a grove filled with every kind of song birds-canaries, and larks, and cious stones-pearls as large as a we will see.)

A large bird, called a roc, will carry you to a distant mountain."

was filled with heaps of gold and silver

(And, now, tell me, children. wouldn't you want just a peep at the nightingales. The fourth door was a door of the golden key, and do you large court surrounded by forty doors. think the prince will be able to re-Back of each was a treasury of pre- sist such a big temptation? Tomorrow

We Women Will "Marry" as Smith with Mary Jones; or John Well as "Be Married"

[By Cynthia Grey.] What will all the girls who "married" June say, when they hear that Richard Grant White, a word authority, says that a woman can't "marry"; that she can only "be married?"

Smith and Mary Jones. I have no hesitation in saying that all of these forms are incorrect. The woman is married to the man. It is her name that is lost in his, not his in hers; she days, and stop-over at Philadelphia. becomes a member of his family, not Particulars, 8 King street east, Tohe of hers; it is her life that is merged, or supposed to be merged, in his, not his in hers; she follows his fortunes, and takes his station, not he Well says Mr. White.

"The usual mode of making the and ouncement is: Married, John limith to Mary Jones. Some people attachment is necessarily mutual. But, awing been dissatisfied with this nevertheless, we do not speak of tying lorm, we have seen: Married, John a ship to a boat, but a boat to a ship.

Tunes, and takes his station, not he has been used for over THIRTY YEARS by MILLIONS OF MOTHERS for their CHILDREN WHILE TEETHING, with net he to he; except, indeed, as all attachment is necessarily mutual. But, nevertheless, we do not speak of tying and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Sold all over the world.

And so long, at least, as man is the larger, the stronger, the more individually important, as long as woman generally lives in her husband's house and bears his name—still more should she not bear his name-it is the woman who is married to the man. "In speaking of the ceremony it is proper to say that he married her, and not that she married him, but that she was married to him; and the proper form of announcement is: Married, Mary Jones to John Smith. To marry is to give, or to be given to a husband, mari,"

You're long on etymology, Mr. White, but short on observation. You haven't noticed that times are changng, and that the woman no longer sinks herself in her husband's self, in

You ought to be glad that women are conservative enough to keep the old word "marry," though it implies the obsolete idea that the husband owns the wife. We could have coined a new word to fit the changing con-ditions. We have sentiment enough to keep the dear old word, however. But we have not sentiment enough to use It in the old meaning, now that some of us have tasted the joy of equality with our husbands, and the bliss of freedom. We prefer interdependence of the husband and wife, not the dependence of the wife on the husband. We will continue to "marry," as well as to "be married." We yield to the men to whom we "are married," but the men we "marry" also yield

HOME

Where we love is home, Home that our feet may leave but not our hearts. Though o'er us shines the jasper-lighted dome; The chain may lengthen, but it never parts. -Oliver Wendell Holmes.

CYNTHIA GREY'S CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Miss Grey: What will remove mildew spots from a dress? MASIE. A.-As you do not state what color or material the dress is I cannot advise you. What will remove mildew from some materials will not do at all to use on others.

Dear Miss Grey: I have an American penny dated 1827 and a Canadian penny of 1882. Can I get any money for them? P. B. G. A.—The premium is so small on the 1827 penny that it would not pay you to send it or take it to a numismatist There is no premium on the Canadian Dear Miss Grey: If a mother and daughter return the first call of a man well as the wife? PERPLEXED.

A .- Cards are left for the wife only; a woman never leaves her card for the husband.

Dear Miss Grey: I wish to give my daughter a surprise birthday party. What would be suitable for decorations, refreshments and lively amusements for an evening occasion?

READER. A.-If possible have the party on the lawn and porch, so you can decorate with lanterns; they always add such a festive appearance. I should have dancing for amusement, with just ice cream and a birthday cake. Of course, a plentiful supply of iced drinks must be provided.

Dear Miss Grey: As you have helped me before I will ask you to answer this as soon as possible. In sending a wedding present shouldn't it be addressed to the bride or her parents? They do not live in the same town where I reside. NELLIE. A.—A wedding present is always addressed to the bride.

Dear Miss Grey: Will you kindly state what action a young lady of irreproachable character, quiet, refined, and of good conduct on all occasions, may take against certain evil-minded parties who maliciously criticise and impute her to be unchaste, simply because she is self-supporting, alone, and unprotected? A suggestion from you will be appreciated. A.—If a girl is truly good, nothing that may be said against her can harm her in the least. Criticisms are always hard to bear. One's life, straight and honorable, will prove all statements false, but it may take time.

Dear Miss Grey: How should an initation for a house party be written? May a boy have such a party and ask girls? Is it proper to ask for auto-graphs for a collection? How long should a house party last? F. B. H. A.—Invitations to house parties are of arrival and departure, generaly from "Saturday to Monday." If in a suburb a timetable is cut in four sizes—6, proper for a boy to have a house party size. if he has a mother, sister, cousin or aunt living in the house to act as host- to any address on receipt of 10 cents ess. There is nothing improper in in silver or stamps. collecting autographs, but it is a horrible bore generally, unless you buy them at auction and book stores.

Miss Elizabeth Murray, member of the British army reserve corps, is now in America learning all about American army hospitals and nurses. To be a member of the corps, one's ancestry must be irreproachable, health perfect, and examination standings perfect. Her associates are the families of the officers.

$11 00, Atlantic City and Return Via Lehigh Valley Railroad, from Suspension Bridge, Friday, Aug. 26. ronto.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup

in tea may mean to you flavor or strength or fragrant richness. Red Rose Tea is blended with such nicety that it is the combination of all three points of merit. Will you try a package.

NEVER SOLD IN BULK

Your Grocer Will Recommend It

From the window of the tower I could look across the lake, and there beyond the sparkling waters lay Zakbar. I climbed the remaining steps to the top of the tower, and from there looked out about the surrounding country.

What had happened to Karl and Barnsmurk? Was Kurlmurt cooling his large was a surrounded to the stairs, trying to think of some means of escape. Once I was tempted to throw back the bolt and have the thing out again. If

What had happened to Karl and trying to think of some means of escape. Barnsmurk? Was Kurlmurt cooling his heels, or, rather, tramping up and down there in the castle I could see so plainly, asking what had happened to us?

Truth to tell, my thoughts were many and perplexing that morning, and my brain too tired to think what was best to do.

had been sure, would not release the princess, but only bring about an open break with Zergald, which we would be quick to turn to his own advantage. So now, even if Karl and Barnsmurk had got clear of their assailants in the garden, they and Kurlmurt would best garden, they and Kurlmurt would hesitate before riding in force to the castle, for if such a course would have availed nothing before, they could not know it was now the only way.

If Karl and Barnsmurk were prisoners, Kurlmurt would be in the dark and afraid to move for fear of spoiling mat-

An attack in force was the only way

Already the holiday air of the city, which had been growing the week, would be reaching its climax. All final pre
The property of the city, which had been growing the week, would be reaching its climax. All final pre wering signal.

A balf hour bassed, and then out on

ADVERTISER PATTERNS BEAUTY PATTERN COMPANY.

No. 8759—A Neat and Desirable Frock. Girls' dress, with high or Dutch neck finish, and with or without plastron and turnover cuff. A simple but effective design is here shown, developed in tan linene, with an insert of embroidery on the front to simulate a chemisette. The plastron portions may be omitted, thus giving a plain waist, which can be finished with high or Dutch neck-a practical style for pattern is cut in four sizes-6, 8, 10 "Saturday to Monday." If in a suburb and 12 years. It requires 3% yards of 36-inch material for the 8-year

A pattern of this illustration mailed

PATTERN DEPARTMENT OF THE Please send above-mentioned pattern, as Street Address ..... Town .....

Provin e ..... Measurement-Bust Waist Age (if child's or misses' pattern).....

CAUTION-Be careful to inclose above CAUTION—Be careful to inclose above illustration and send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is bust measure, you need only mark it 32, 34, or whatsver it may be. When in waist measure, 22, 24, 26, or whatever it may be. If a skirt, give waist and length measure. When misses' or child's pattern, write only the figure representing the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from the date of order. The price of each pattern is 10 cents in cash or in postage stamps.

there was an undercurrent of feeling in some places that something might happen, and a faint hope in others, nothing but the coronation of Prince Joachim would follow unless we could manage some way to get clear of the tower. What to do? What could be done? My head ached, my arm pained me whenever I moved it. No way to send word to Kurimurt, no way to clear Heinrich from our path. A day before I might have bribed him, but now, after our personal encounter, nothing could be done.

our personal encounter, nothing could be done.

I crept down the stairs and found the princess sleeping like a child. Then I went on down to the door to see if the bolts were still in place.

As I stood examining them I heard some one in the outer room. Then Heinrich, who had evidently heard my step on the stairs, spoke.

"Does her Highness enjoy her change of quarters?" For a moment I remained slient, considering whether it would pay to answer him or not. Then I decided I might possibly gather from his words some hint of his plans, so replied:

"They are certainly preferred."

"Well, I'm glad she's pleased, for I'm quite content. Of course, I don't propose to starve either of you, and if you'll open the door a crack I'll let you have a crust."

"Thanks," I answered; "I consider it safer to keep the bolts home."

"Thanks," I answered; "I consider it safer to keep the bolts home."

"As you like," he answered with a laugh. "It will be for three days, and then I suppose Zergald will be inclined to be magnanimous with Joachim crowned."

So then, as I had thought that was So then, as I had thought, that was his plan. We were to be in the latest was his plan. We were to be held prisoners until after the coronation. My attempt at rescue had ended quite dis-

"Are you alone?" I asked.
"Yes," came the answer.
"How much will you make out of the thing if Joachim is crowned?"
"All I want. But if I was liable to lose I would not consider a deal with you."
There was anger in his tone, and then

There was anger in his tone, and then suddenly it all vanished and he laughed. "My head's as sore as your cursed arm can be, but I've got you now. It's not always the one who has the upper hand at the start that wins out."

I saw there was no chance of making terms with Heinrich now, so turned back up the stairs, sick at heart.

"I've got you on the hip," he called after me, "and I would not take any price for my chances. With her Highness and you under lock, Joachim is as good as crowned, and when he is I'll run Scarvania." soreness and great weakness remained. good as crowned, and when he is I'll run From the window of the tower I could Scarvania."

It had been plainly agreed between us all, when we planned the thing, that an open attack on the castle would avail nothing. In fact, such an attack was a thing was out of the question, and I put the scheme aside as quickly as I thought of it.

Then finally. Heinrich is the plant of the pla quickly as I thought of it.

Then finally, Heinrich bade me a hearty good-morning, and went on, as he said, to a delightful breakfast, leaving two of his men on guard.

I climbed back up the stairs, my heart heavy. A few water-soaked crackers were in my pocket, and my flask was three-quarters full. That was our scant ration for three days, and then what would we get?

would we get?

At the head of the stairs I met Hilma.
She looked radiant. Her cheeks were flushed, and as she greeted me she held out a flag, one that I had thrown over her as an extra covering.

"Yes?" I questioned.

"My flag!" she answered.

from the tower upside down."

she answered. "Hang I An attack in force was the only way we could be rescued, for surely Heinrich had the princess as safe as before. Her prison quarters had simply been changed and to far less comfortable ones.

Thus I turned the matter over as I leaned against the battlement and saw the sun rise on our last day of hope. Thursday it was, and unless rescue came before another day our work would be for naught, as the grand dukes met on Friday.

Already the holiday air of the site.

A half hour passed, and then out on the morning breeze across the lake broke the standard of her Highness, up-side down. Instantly I sprang to the halyard and dipped our flag thrice. The answer came back.

"It means rescue!" I cried.
"Yes." Hilma answered, turning her eager, flushed face to mine, "Yes," and then the light went out of her eyes and the color died down in her cheeks. "Yes, it means rescue and—I suppose we must be rescued from ourselves. CHAPTER XXXII.

A Test of Strength.

My elation knew no bounds, for I felt certain Kurlmurt or Karl, or perhaps both, had read our signal and would answer in force. answer in force.

The danger in such a course gave way before the necessity, for there seemed no other way of our getting clear of the tower unless Heinrich's forces were driven

If Zergald had not seen the princess' flag and become suspicious because of its flying over his castle, certainly Kurl-murt could muster a force and reach us before any help could come to Hein From the flag tower I could look down upon the many towers and turrets of the castle. The moat ran about it and outside of it a high wall. On the side toward the lake the wall was close to the water's edge, then a few feet of ground, then the moat, another few feet of earth and the castle walls. At the front, the moat ran perhaps twenty feet from the castle wall, but the main entrance reached out like an arm until it touched the edge of the moat.

There the drawbridge was built, and I saw that it was down.

From the drawbridge twelve feet of From the drawbridge twelve feet of ground stretched to the solid wall of masonry. Opposite the drawbridge were the huge gates, and these were closed and barred.

Kurlmurt would first have to scale the wall, and this done, the necessity of wall, and this done, the necessity of crossing the moat would arise, for cer-tainly Heinrich would raise the draw-

FASCINATING HAIR

WOMEN WHO USE PARISIAN SAGE HAVE IT AND KEEP IT.

You never saw a beautiful woman who didn't have beautiful hair. The charm of a beautiful woman lies in Many women do not realize the attractions they possess because they do not give proper attention to the hair. The women of Paris are famed for their beauty, not because their facial features are superior to those of other woien, but because they know how to keep young by supplying vigor, lustre strength to the

 $\mathbf{U}\mathbf{p}$ to three waist and length measure. When is or child's pattern, write only the representing the age. It is not sary to write "inches" or "years." in runs cannot reach you in less than week from the date of order. The of each pattern is 10 cents in cash postage stamps.

PATTERN DEPARTMENT.

LOY-UGN ADVERTISER.

To town in Canada for 50 cents a large bottle, and it is guaranteed to grow beautiful, luxuriant hair; to turn dull, lifeless hair into lustrous hair; to stop falling hair; to stop itching of the scalp. Made only in Canada by Giroux Manufacturing Company, Fort Erie, Ont. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every bottle.

A poor digestion and flagging appetite can be much improved by using a natural Coffee of the highest grade, unadulterated, undoctored.

Seal Brand

Sold in 1 and 2 lb. Cans only. CHASE & SANBORN, MONTREAL.

Invest your spare cash in Huron and Erie Debentures and get 4 per cent, per annum interest instead of the 3 per cent. allowed on Savings Accounts. The security is guaranteed by Assets of over $12,500,000, Huron and Erie Debentures are issued for sums of $100 and upward; for terms of one year or longer. Write for Debenture Booklet, which gives full particulars.

Reserve - -

Incorporated 1864. 442 Richmond St., London. 366 Talbot St., St. Thomas. 24

A meat diet is too heating

Shredded Wheat is the natural summer food. Cooling, yet full of rich nourishment. All the strength-giving elements of the whole wheat. A biscuit covered with fresh fruit is enjoyable. Serve with cream and sugar.

Sold by all grocers, 13c. a carton, two for 25c.

My Lady Beautiful

Health is true beauty. The charm of bright eyes, rosy cheeks, rounded figure, buoyant and elastic step is within the reach of every woman. Reasonable care in diet, regular exercise and due amount of sleep with an

Beecham's Pills

will keep most women in health. The timely use of these pills will strengthen the system, renew the supply of blood and relieve nausea and depression. The beneficial effects of Beecham's Pills on the bowels, liver, stomach, blood and complexion, make them women's greatest aid to health and in a true sense shape.

Nature's Cosmetic

At any point the attacking force would looked into mine nor did she refer to e open to a merciless fire from the

As I surveyed the grounds and figured out the practical impossibility of success, my spirits fell, and though I said nothing to Hilma, I feared that any attempt at came, not come, not come. rescue would go hard.

The morning wore away and still no sign came of Kurlmurt or Karl. A half dozen times I travelled to the door and each time I could hear the sound of voices on the other side. Once as I listened the lapticle came into the come.

the guard was placed, and after asking one or two questions as to whether I had attempted any move went away.

I had seen no messenger leave the castle, so felt reasonably sure Heinrich had sent no word to Zergald of what had transpired.

As the day wore on my wounds began to trouble me again, and the fever which had left me during the night returned.

had left me during the night returned.
My head grew dizzy, and the princess, noticing my flushed face, forced me to lie down on the couch.

Hilma herself seemed to have suffered no shock from her trying night, and was as fresh and natural as if she were in her own home and not in danger of her life. Her galety of manner had, it is true, left her, and though she spoke confidently have its way. The end, be what it might, was only ours to accept when it came, not ours to discuss or try to (To Be Continued.)

of our speedy rescue, her eyes neve that which must have been first on her mind. Both of us, I think, felt that matters were cast in a mold and Fate must

Since 1847 Since 1847 the mark of the world's best silver plate 1847 ROGERS BROS. This name on knives, forks, etc., is a guide in buying and an assurance of worth. Best tea sets, dishes, waiters, etc., are stamped MERIDEN BRITA CO. Sold by LEADING DEALERS & Silver Plate that Wears