TODAY'S BEST BASEBALL STORY

Eddie Cicotte is one of the charter members of the Order of Kerchoo, past master of the Hay Fever. Far from permitting a little thing like that to trouble him he makes use of it. He was pitching a game for the Chicago White Sox in Philadelphia, and he perpetrated a frightful balk. The umpire was just lifting his hand to call the balk when Eddle cut loose a kerchoo that started the flags flapping on the stands.

"Balk nothing!" yelled Eddie as he recovered. "I was sneezing!"

A few moments later a runner reached first. Eddle commenced to make faces, distort his features, and, right in the midst of a terrific sneeze he shot the ball to first and nipped the runner.

"JUMPER" BIG HELP TO FED. LEADERS Esmond, who leaped from the major leagues, fearing he would be banished to the "bushes," has become one of the chief factors in lifting the Indianapolis club to the top of the Federal League. His work has been of a sensational order and his timely hitting has helped the Hoofeds to the top of the race.

President Thomas, of the Chicago Cubs, when threatened with prosecution for overcrowding his wooden stands at a New York game, said: "It never shall happen again." He was righter than he thinks.

Hamilton, Sept. 11 .- Jack White, manager of the Hamilton Canadian League Club, left for his home in Philadelphia this morning. He waited over until today in the hope that the directors would get together and decide whether they required his services next season, but waited in vain.

A meeting was called for Tuesday night, but only four of the directors attended, and for that reason nothing was done. Another meeting has been called for Monday, September 14, and then White's case will be decided on. Before leaving the popular successor to Bob Yates stated that he would like very much to have a chance to get charge of the club before the season opened, for he was confident that he could round up a team that would be up there fighting all the way. "If I was certain that I would be in charge next year, I could start in immediately to build up a club and then I would have no excuses to make if I fell down," he said. White was quite pleased with the manner in which he was treated while in

"I could not have asked for better treatment," he said. "The directors acted like perfect gentlemen toward me. For this reason I want to get back into Hamilton next year, and show my appreciation by trotting out a real ball

The game was witnessed by a big crowd and it was a strenuous en-counter. The locals went on the field, determined to overcome the three-goal lead, and they never let up for a minute. Only the great defence work of the visiting team saved it from a worse

Reuter Was Not There. The London club was without the services of Reuter, its crack goalkeeper, who played such a fine game against Hanover when the teams met in London, He was unable to get away at the last moment and Donohue, a spare player, was used in his place. Donohue had never played between the nets before, but he gave a good account of himself and stopped a number of shots that were ticketed for goals.

Play was fast and strenuous throughout. The Hanover boys outscored the visitors two to one in the first half and led at half time by the score of 4 to 2. In the last half the play was closer and the Londoners gave a much better account of themselves. Doyle, of the O. A. L. A., refereed. The

Behold, Summer Pastimers, The Last Picture!

Let it be remembered that NO SETS OF ANSWERS WILL BE ACCEPTED BEFORE September 24, 1914, and may be sent in so as to reach our office not later than October 1, 1914.

The fun is only just beginning. We have been informed by many of our readers that they are saving their real efforts for the time when all the pictures are in their possession, which will be by tomorrow. Therefore, the true opportunity awaits you now, even though you may have seen only a few of our pictures in the past season or none at all. Begin today. You have already observed that nobody can get ahead of you because no sets of answers will be accepted until Thursday, September 24, And even then no sets of answers will be considered until October 1, when all competitors have been heard from. You can get all the 75 pictures now by purchasing either the Handbook or the Logbook. Act at once and secure for yourself wholesome and easy recreation, as well as diversion from the all too serious experiences of the war.

Summer Pastime Rebus Picture No. 75

Answer Form No. 75, Advertiser's Summer Pastime

The name of the player represented by the picture is

Name of PARTICIPANT .....

HANDBOOK .- Competitors in the Summer Pastime have already purchased the Handbook in large quantities, but some few may have been holding out on the assumption that they may be clever enough to solve all the pictures without the assistance of the lists of names which is part of the Handbook. It may be that these persons are right, but we believe that 25 cents represents a fairly good investment when in return can be obtained smoothly arranged material, among which the 75 correct answers are positively guaranteed to be.

The Handbook also contains three sets of coupons or answer forms, ranging from one to twenty-five. For those who are going to try for four prizes, as the rules permit, it is quite obvious that these extra coupons have a value equal to seventy-five additional copies of this

It should also be borne in mind that even in order to win one prize it may be desirable to turn in more than one set of answers. You may not be sure of your judgment on some of the pictures, and, therefore, you may be securing yourself against losing out, by entering two, three or four sets of answers.

The Summer Pastime Handbook costs 25 cents. It can be obtained by calling at our office or by sending us 30 cents, in which case the Handbook will be mailed. A complete set of pictures now go with it.

LOGBOOK.—For the further convenience of those who are playing the game we present the Participant's Logbook, containing three sets of answer forms, numbered from 26 to 75, or 150 in all. These, together with the coupons in the Handbook, constitute three complete sets of coupons from beginning to end. Furthermore, the Logbook contains a fourth complete set of answer forms, which can be used to replace the original set of answer forms first required to be cut from this newspaper. Thus a competitor who has the Handbook and Logbook may make complete entry in compact, convenient form, making sure that none of his answers will be lost in bundling together, etc., and also making it easy for the judges to go over his or her work.

Finally, THE LOGBOOK CONTAINS POSITIVE AND PLAIN CLUES, WHICH SHOULD GIVE YOU THE ANSWERS TO TWENTY PICTURES IN THE SERIES. The price of the Logbook is 50 cents, and can be called for at our office, or will be mailed on receipt of The price of the Handbook and Logbook together at our office, or mailed, is 75 cents.

There is no obligation to buy either of these books. But their worth has been described, and whoever wishes may obtain these books. We wish all our competitors good luck. Be sure to watch for tomorrow's picture, and then continue to read the notices of general interest that we shall print between now and the last day of sending in answers, which will be October 1, 1914.
