

WOMEN'S HOME AND MAGAZINE PAGE

FIND PARENTS SHARING PLAY WITH CHILDREN

Union Mothers' Club Members Pay Awakening Visit To City Playgrounds.

RIVER HAS BIG PULL

Boys Trek Five Miles To Learn Good Sportsmanship At Birketts.

"One of the things that pleased and surprised me most in visiting the playgrounds on Tuesday afternoon was to see such a large sprinkling of mothers and fathers, some of the fathers teaching their little boys to swim."

The foregoing comment was made to the women's department of The Advertiser, Tuesday evening, by Mrs. John A. Rose, president of the London Union Mothers' Club, following an afternoon spent in seeing for herself London playgrounds, in company with several members of the Union Mothers' Club sub-executive, and Trustee (Mrs.) John I. A. Hunt. Arrangements for cars were made by the chamber of commerce, Messrs. Philip Pocock, chairman of the utilities commission, and Mr. T. W. McFarland giving the use of their automobiles and participating in the trip.

Further with regard to the delights of the playgrounds, Mrs. Rose said, "It was gratifying in the first place to see the mothers and fathers taking such an interest in the play life of their own and other people's children. At the annual meeting of the Union Mothers' Club, I urged upon the members of the individual clubs the importance of taking an interest in the playgrounds, and I was pleased to recognize several of our club mothers this afternoon."

"Out of the playgrounds movement has grown a recognition of the importance of recreation and of play for the growing up young people and adults, as well as the boys and girls. Indeed, the National Council of Women has changed the name of one of its standing committees from committee on playgrounds to committee on national recreation."

Forging Ahead. "One thing we had thought the playgrounds would lack, and that was appeal to the grown-ups and their interest. The discovery we were mistaken was one of the agreeable surprises of the trip. And it was a revelation to discover the way the playgrounds movement is going ahead here."

Members of the sub-executive who shared in the trip with Mrs. Rose were: Mesdames W. A. Tanner, A. Cress, T. Benson, J. Gemmell, A. E. Tutt. Delay was caused by the heavy shower of the early part of the afternoon and, in consequence, it was not possible to inspect all the playgrounds of the city before 5 o'clock when the chief interest was leaving the children themselves. Starting with Thames Park, where aquatic sports were in full swing, wading and bathing in the swimming pool, visits were paid to Birketts, on the river bank behind McClary's; Queen's Park, Tecumseh and Lord Roberts School grounds, and Dexter's swimming pool, in all of which supervisors were on duty.

While Thames Park was recognized as probably the most efficiently equipped, the mothers completely lost their hearts to Birketts, declaring it to be the ideal natural playground, with a feature irresistible to boys and girls, a real river in which to wade, dip and swim, a modern edition of "the old swimming hole."

Children, it was discovered, had come as far as five miles to share the joys of Birketts, trekking from beyond Ealing in the east, and away to the city limits in the north. "The swimming brought them," said Mrs. Rose.

"And you found the playgrounds thoroughly supervised, every precaution taken for the safety of the children?" asked The Advertiser.

Are "Brothers' Keepers." "That would be pretty big task for one supervisor to look after many children to look after, wouldn't it?" countered the president of the London Union Mothers' Club. "It would keep two pretty busy all the time in some cases. Some of the supervisors told me they get the best possible assistance from the older boys after they win their confidence and get them on their side. They are in this way developing a sense of responsibility for the younger and weaker children, developing in them the protective spirit, which, it seems to me, is a very fine thing in the making of citizens. I am sure the supervisors themselves are getting a great deal out of their work besides jobs for the summer."

"In the playgrounds the children are learning to play the game fairly, a pretty important life lesson. What is life, after all, but a game, and what better to learn than to play the game of life fairly and squarely, with consideration for the rights of others, and sense of responsibility towards others?"

"When we got to Thames Park, we found the Thames Park girls had gone to the Tecumseh playground to play a baseball match. Birketts children, we were told, were playing a match at the Lord Roberts playground. In this way the children from different sections of the city are coming together and a feeling of the unity of the whole city is being created in the hearts and minds of the young citizens-to-be. In other words, they are getting the city viewpoint. Altogether, a trip to the playgrounds is a most awakening experience, and it must be a satisfaction to the members of the commission to

Mail-Box Cot Fund Is Now $720

FIRST a crib and then a cot! This is the way the ambition of the Cynthia Grey family circle has grown up to serve the War Memorial Children's Hospital. In the early days of the movement, $500 for the endowment of a crib seemed a large amount to be collected. When the $500 mark was exceeded, then there sprouted the idea of raising the objective to $1,000, which would endow a cot in memory of husbands, brothers, fathers, sweethearts and sons of the Boxes who gave their lives in the great war. Hit by bit, mite by mite, with here and there a bill to speed the treasure on its way, and the great big goal given by the Mail-Box quilt, the fund has steadily and weekly increased until almost three-quarters of the journey to the goal has been achieved. A receipt has just been received from the honorary treasurer, Mrs. C. T. Campbell, for an installment of $32 paid in this week, which she acknowledges as follows:

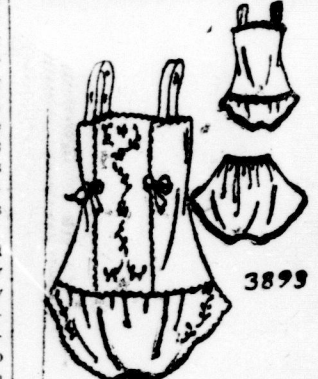

Dear Cynthia Grey: The Advertiser Mail-Box Fund for the War Memorial Children's Hospital is steadily growing. The last check of thirty-two dollars ($32) brings the amount to $720. It will not be long until the $1,000 will be in, and then how happy the contributors will be. Thanking you, on behalf of the hospital committee, I am, sincerely yours, L. K. Campbell, hon. treasurer, Hospital Fund.

HARRIETSVILLE W. I. DOUBLES MEMBERSHIP

Brings to Close Successful Campaign—Plans Garden Party.

Harrietsville Women's Institute has just brought to a close a most successful membership campaign in which the numbers on the roll were more than doubled, according to reports presented at the July meeting, held at the home of Mrs. R. Young. Mrs. E. O'Neill's team had the proud distinction of announcing 46 members as their quota, while that of Mrs. B. Marsh introduced 27 names; 73 in all as a result of the big drive. An inspiring feature of the meeting was an address by Mrs. H. Bullard on the subject of "Fostering the Community Spirit." Mrs. R. Young and Mrs. H. Mahar gave a piano duet, and Mrs. L. McCallum a piano solo. Arrangements were made to hold a garden party on Aug. 4, at the home of Mr. D. McVicar, Harrietsville.

ADVERTISER PATTERNS

An Up-to-Date Underwear Style. Comfort and grace are combined in this model, which comprises a chemise in vest length and "step-in" drawers. Crepe, crepe de chine, or pongee would be attractive for this style, also batiste, silk and nainsook. Embroidery, lace and insertion are attractive for decoration. The pattern is cut in four sizes, small extra large 46-48 inches bust measure. A medium size requires 1 1/2 yards of 36-inch material for the vest and 1 1/2 yards for the drawers.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 15 cents in silver or stamps. Address all pattern orders to Pattern Department.

Name .....

Town .....

Province .....

Age (if child's or misses' pattern).....

Measurements Bust..... Waist.....

CAUTION: Be careful to inclose the above illustration, and send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is sent, you need mark only 38, 44 or whatever it may be. When in waist measure, 22, 24, 26, or whatever it may be. If a skirt, give waist and length measure. When misses' or child's pattern, write only the figure representing "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from the date of application.

Simple Treatment For Oily Skins

If your skin is sallow, oily or muddy, if the pores are full of dirt and other accumulations—if blackheads inhabit the face—get from your druggist a package of peroxide powder. At night just before retiring, take your wash cloth, wet it with hot water and sprinkle a liberal quantity of the peroxide powder on it. Now rub over your face with it. In a few seconds you will feel a delightful tingling sensation. Now, with your finger, rub the powder in dissolving away every particle of the dust and dirt and excess oil—even to the blackheads—you can just feel it doing its work.

After a minute or two, wash off with plenty of warm water, finishing up with cold—the colder the better. Now dry the skin and look in your mirror—you'll be surprised at the wonderful refreshed appearance of your complexion.—Adv.

Personals

Mrs. J. W. Jones and Mrs. I. Buttery are staying at Elgin House, Muskoka.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gleeson have returned home, after a brief motor trip to Detroit.

Miss Grace Sing, Maitland street, is taking a summer course in Toronto University.

Dr. E. G. Detweiler and Mrs. Detweiler have taken a cottage at Southampton for the month of August.

Mrs. A. T. Edwards is going next week to Nipahwin-Gregory, Muskoka, where she will spend a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Earl McLurg, of Hale street, have returned home after a week's motor trip to Bay City.

Miss Bodkin, superintending nurse at the Creche is leaving the beginning of August for a month's vacation.

Robert Liddle, men's secretary of the London Y. M. C. A., is leaving the end of the week for a vacation in Muskoka.

Mr. and Mrs. W. McPhillips and Miss Eleanor McPhillips, London, arrived on Monday at the King Edward, Toronto.

Mrs. A. Dick, Miss Marjorie Dick and Master Bruce Dick are visiting in Toronto and Caledonia for the next two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Blackall have left for Dauphin, Manitoba, where they will be guests of their daughter, Mrs. W. H. Johnston.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McLurg and daughter, of 337 St. James street, are spending a couple of weeks at Hillcrest Inn, Port Stanley.

Charles W. Kent of New York City, is spending a month's vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kent, at their home at Springbank.

Mrs. E. G. Detweiler and children, Mary and Ruth, went up on Monday to Ipperwash Beach, where they are guests for this week of Mrs. Harry T. Reason.

Miss Agnes and Miss Caroline Vrooman have returned after spending a very pleasant week in Maxwell with their brother, the Rev. G. H. Vrooman.

Mrs. Charles Ayars, Toronto, has returned home after enjoying two weeks' vacation with her brother, Rev. L. Bartlett, Yarmouth Center, and Mrs. C. Brown, Regina street.

George R. Sinclair, physical director of the London Y. M. C. A., is spending the summer months with his family at his summer cottage on Lake Couchiching, at the border of the Muskoka district.

A dozen girl friends showered the popular bride-elect, Miss Ella McCallum, with towels on Tuesday evening at a happily informal little party arranged in her honor by Miss Edith Johnston, 526 King street.

Mrs. Henderson of Winnipeg, formerly Mah Smith of this city, has arrived in town to visit her sisters, Mrs. J. I. Ferguson and Miss Bertha Smith, and is receiving a warm welcome from old friends here.

Mrs. F. J. Greenaway returns home Wednesday evening, after attending in the monthly meeting of the National Executive I. O. O. E., of which she was made a councillor at the convention this summer in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Bischoff are spending a few days in London with Mr. and Mrs. W. P. C. Baldwin, 562 Maitland street, renewing old acquaintances. They motored from Cleveland, and are returning by Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Arthur Gleeson is entertaining in honor of the bride-elect, Miss Marguerite Johnston, the guests including a group of younger girls formerly associated with St. Paul's Cathedral choir, of which Miss Johnston was a popular member.

Dr. E. G. Detweiler, superintendent of First Presbyterian Sunday School, entertained the teachers at a supper party this week at the Blue Dragon Tea Rooms, following which the last meeting before the holiday season was held. Plans were made for the fall work, and discussion took place with regard to new features to be introduced.

Welcome news to the many friends and admirers in London of Rev. Dr. Thomas Roy is the announcement that he is returning to the city for a couple of weeks in August, to occupy his former pulpit for a couple of Sundays, that of Talbot Street Baptist Church. With Mrs. Roy and he is holidaying at present in the Maritime Provinces.

Mrs. Alfred S. Smith, 40 Empress avenue, has been entertaining a happy house party this week, including her daughters, Mrs. H. A. Babcock and Mrs. C. E. Finch, and their husbands, of Toronto, her son Mr. Alfred Raymond Smith of Detroit, and sister, Miss Saunders, also of Detroit. They came to London for the marriage of Miss Joanna Mary Raymond Smith, and Mrs. Edgar Burchell of Edmonton, Alberta, on Tuesday.

Most gratifying to Alma Daughters in the city are the comments of London young people who attended the Interdenominational Summer School at Alma College this summer. Admission is enthusiastically expressed of the beauty of the stately old building and surroundings, the attractiveness of the drawing-room and rest-room, and the comfort throughout the college. Special words of praise have been given for the handsome gate, which makes a dignified and impressive approach. The

Healthy Baby Is Happy Baby.

ARE London babies healthier and happier in summer because of the work of the London Child Welfare Association?

If sickness brings misery, then the answer is in the affirmative.

According to Miss Bertha Smith, supervisor of child welfare nurses, bread "summer complaint" has been practically unknown this summer among the clinic babies and in the households which are on the visiting lists of the welfare nurses. Proper feeding and generally intelligent care are making summer days as safe for wee tots and as happy for them as for the grown-ups who love the outdoor months.

tablet on this states it was the gift to their Alma Mater of Alma Daughters, scattered throughout the country. London Alma Daughters are proud of the fact the gate was "made in London."

At the midsummer meeting of the Campbell Becher Chapter, I. O. O. E., held Monday evening in the home of Mrs. J. E. Wylie, Waterloo street, north, arrangements were made for the birthday picnic of the chapter, to take place the end of July at the home of Mrs. J. E. Richards, Port Stanley. Mrs. W. Hodgins, Mrs. Harry Morgan and Mrs. Gordon Edgecombe were appointed a committee to work out the details. Plans were also made for the ice cream booth at the Western Fair, which will be covered by Mrs. Mrs. B. Dainoff, Mrs. Eric Reid, 1; Claude White. A most hearty vote of thanks was moved to the regent, Mrs. F. J. Greenaway, at the conclusion of her illuminating report of the National I. O. O. E. annual meeting in Vancouver.

Victorian Order Says "Thank You"

The president and committee of the Victorian Order of Nurses gratefully acknowledge the following donations for April, May and June, 1922: London Technical and Art School—Large chart showing all visits paid by nurses from Jan. 1 to Dec. 30, 1922.

Miss Upshall, for Bible class, First Presbyterian Church—12 infants' shirts.

Mrs. Rowntree—3 infants' shirts, 2 infants' bands, 2 Gertrude slips.

Miss Florence Fox—Old linen, 2 dressing sacque, 2 pillowcases, magazine.

Miss Leach, for Helping-Hand Guild—3 infants' dresses, 4 barracoats, 4 Gertrude slips.

Mrs. Beamer, for the Cradle Roll Department, New St. James' Presbyterian Church—6 infants' shirts, 6 barracoats, 6 infants' slips, 18 bands, 3 pairs kid booties, 2 dozen diapers, safety pins.

The Girls' Auxiliary, St. James' Church, S. London—Old linen and magazines.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thorpe—Old linen.

Mrs. Fenton—Old linen.

Mrs. Steele—Old linen.

Unknown—Old linen, babies' dresses.

Miss Gladstone—6 linings for district bags.

Mrs. Schwab, for May Queen Rebekah Lodge, No. 5, I. O. O. F.—Old linen.

Miss B. Horwood, for Bound to Win Club, Askew Street Methodist Church—1 1/2 doz. infants' flannel slips, 1 1/2 doz. infants' flannel Gertrudes, 4 doz. diapers.

Miss R. Sterling, for The Erie Club, S. London—18 cotton bags, 3 instrument cases.

Mrs. Gates $5, Mrs. Pearson $5, Mrs. Hale $5, Mrs. Graham $10, Mrs. White $10.25, Miss Morley $5, Miss Macdonald $5, Yarker estate $25, May Queen Rebekah Lodge $5.45, Miss McFee $1.86.

Western Ontario Women's Activities

Address News For This Column to The Editor of Women's Page.

SALEM WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

A correspondent from Salem Women's Institute writes: "Mrs. M. R. Crawford of London, gave a splendid address on Y. M. C. A. work at the July meeting of the Salem Women's Institute, held at the home of Mrs. John Eagan, and attended by about forty members and friends. Mrs. Crawford showed clearly the great value of the Y. M. C. A. for all young women away from home. She emphasized the close tie that exists between the workers in rural districts and city centers. The good of home properly served unless girls are carefully guarded. Mrs. Norman Anderson, district secretary, gave an interesting talk on the value of the federation to the branch, urging the importance of every branch promptly paying its federation dues, fifteen cents per member, from the institute funds. Tempting refreshments were served at the close of the meeting when the hostess was assisted by her daughter from London. The August meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sam Walker."

ECZEMA

You are not experimenting when you use Dr. Chase's Ointment. It relieves at once and gradually heals the skin. Sample box Dr. Chase's Ointment free if you mention this box, all dealers or Edmondson, Sales & Co., Limited, Toronto.

TRY A MEAL AT THE NEW, CLEAN

Lascelles Cafe

Dundas, Near Wellington. 25¢ guest registered at the Highland Inn.

MAKE GOOD SHOWING IN FRIENDLY MATCHES

London Hunt Ladies' Golf Club Defeats Brantford and Woodstock Players.

With two inter-club matches already over, the week has opened in a strenuous way for a number of the members of the London Hunt Ladies' Golf Club. In each case an excellent showing was made by the local players.

Monday a team of nine motored down to Brantford to return the visit paid a few weeks ago by golfers from the Telephone City, and notwithstanding a drenching on the links for some of these during the afternoon they returned home well pleased over a score of three up. The following were the scores:

London—Mrs. Frank Spry, 1; Mrs. Marshall Graydon, 1; Mrs. E. L. Williams, 0; Mrs. G. Q. Warner, 0; Mrs. W. G. Webster, 1; Mrs. J. Wishart, 1; Mrs. D. McLean, 1; Mrs. G. Belton, 0; Mrs. E. Reid, 1.

Brantford—Mrs. Lemming, 0; Miss Bishop, 0; Miss Schell, 1; Miss Buck, 1; Miss Digby, 0; Mrs. Dempster, 0; Miss Bunnell, 0; Mrs. Wernick, 1; Miss McFarlane, 0.

Tuesday afternoon a team of twelve arrived from the Woodstock Ladies' Golf Club to play a friendly match at the London Hunt, which, following luncheon, was postponed until after the shower. At the tea was served, Mrs. Ronald Harris, president of the London Hunt Ladies' Club, graciously performing the duties of hostess. The London Hunt Club was eleven up at the conclusion of the playing. The following were the individual results:

London—Mrs. George Little, 1; Mrs. Marshall Graydon, 1; Mrs. Ronald Harris, 1; Mrs. W. G. Webster, 1; Mrs. Wishart, 1; Mrs. Eric Reid, 1; Mrs. H. Higgins, 0; Mrs. A. McPherson, 1; Mrs. Rex Gale, 1; Mrs. Claude Brown, 1; Mrs. Langford, 1; Miss Enid Fisher, 1.

Woodstock—Miss Agnes White, 0; Miss Clark, 0; Mrs. Yarker, 0; Miss M. Millman, 0; Mrs. Gray, 0; Mrs. Wilkinson, 0; Mrs. Armstrong, 1; Mrs. B. Dainoff, 0; Miss M. Malone, 0; Mrs. Whitney, 0; Miss M. Watson, 0; Miss F. Kerr, 0.

WITH THE BRIDES

BURCHELL-SMITH.

Beautiful with a profusion of brown-eyed Susans and asparagus fern, artistically arranged by the deft hands of girl friends of the bride, St. George's Church, West London, was the scene of an interesting nuptial event Tuesday forenoon, when Joanna Mary Raymond, daughter of the late Alfred S. Smith and Mrs. Smith, of 40 Empress avenue, was united in marriage to Mr. Edgar Burchell of Edmonton, Alberta. Rev. Canon G. R. Sage, rector of the church, officiating at the organ and playing appropriate music during the service. The bride, wearing a gown of white, carried a white-covered prayer book, wearing a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses. She was unattended. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, wore a handsome black satin gown with steel and jet garniture, and a black hat, a corsage of mauve sweet peas giving a relieving touch of color. Mrs. Babcock was in a modish costume of cream and henna crepe knit, with which she wore a black picture hat and corsage toning in with the henna shades. Mrs. E. C. Finch of Toronto, another sister of the bride, wore a trimming of brown crepe knit, with trimming of brown crepe and hat to match. Following the service, the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's mother, which was doubly attractive for the occasion, decorated throughout with sweet peas. The guests, in addition to relatives, included a few intimate friends. A buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, after which the happy couple left for Toronto, en route to their new home on the Great Lakes from Port McNicoll to Port Arthur. For traveling Mrs. Burchell donned a becoming sports costume, cream skirt and hat, with smart red tuxedo coat.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alfred Raymond Smith of Detroit, wore smart cream suit, embroidered with silk braid, the coat opening over a sequin-trimmed blouse, and a white hat she carried a white-covered prayer book, wearing a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses. She was unattended. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, wore a handsome black satin gown with steel and jet garniture, and a black hat, a corsage of mauve sweet peas giving a relieving touch of color. Mrs. Babcock was in a modish costume of cream and henna crepe knit, with which she wore a black picture hat and corsage toning in with the henna shades. Mrs. E. C. Finch of Toronto, another sister of the bride, wore a trimming of brown crepe knit, with trimming of brown crepe and hat to match. Following the service, the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's mother, which was doubly attractive for the occasion, decorated throughout with sweet peas. The guests, in addition to relatives, included a few intimate friends. A buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, after which the happy couple left for Toronto, en route to their new home on the Great Lakes from Port McNicoll to Port Arthur. For traveling Mrs. Burchell donned a becoming sports costume, cream skirt and hat, with smart red tuxedo coat.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alfred Raymond Smith of Detroit, wore smart cream suit, embroidered with silk braid, the coat opening over a sequin-trimmed blouse, and a white hat she carried a white-covered prayer book, wearing a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses. She was unattended. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, wore a handsome black satin gown with steel and jet garniture, and a black hat, a corsage of mauve sweet peas giving a relieving touch of color. Mrs. Babcock was in a modish costume of cream and henna crepe knit, with which she wore a black picture hat and corsage toning in with the henna shades. Mrs. E. C. Finch of Toronto, another sister of the bride, wore a trimming of brown crepe knit, with trimming of brown crepe and hat to match. Following the service, the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's mother, which was doubly attractive for the occasion, decorated throughout with sweet peas. The guests, in addition to relatives, included a few intimate friends. A buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, after which the happy couple left for Toronto, en route to their new home on the Great Lakes from Port McNicoll to Port Arthur. For traveling Mrs. Burchell donned a becoming sports costume, cream skirt and hat, with smart red tuxedo coat.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alfred Raymond Smith of Detroit, wore smart cream suit, embroidered with silk braid, the coat opening over a sequin-trimmed blouse, and a white hat she carried a white-covered prayer book, wearing a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses. She was unattended. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, wore a handsome black satin gown with steel and jet garniture, and a black hat, a corsage of mauve sweet peas giving a relieving touch of color. Mrs. Babcock was in a modish costume of cream and henna crepe knit, with which she wore a black picture hat and corsage toning in with the henna shades. Mrs. E. C. Finch of Toronto, another sister of the bride, wore a trimming of brown crepe knit, with trimming of brown crepe and hat to match. Following the service, the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's mother, which was doubly attractive for the occasion, decorated throughout with sweet peas. The guests, in addition to relatives, included a few intimate friends. A buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, after which the happy couple left for Toronto, en route to their new home on the Great Lakes from Port McNicoll to Port Arthur. For traveling Mrs. Burchell donned a becoming sports costume, cream skirt and hat, with smart red tuxedo coat.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alfred Raymond Smith of Detroit, wore smart cream suit, embroidered with silk braid, the coat opening over a sequin-trimmed blouse, and a white hat she carried a white-covered prayer book, wearing a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses. She was unattended. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, wore a handsome black satin gown with steel and jet garniture, and a black hat, a corsage of mauve sweet peas giving a relieving touch of color. Mrs. Babcock was in a modish costume of cream and henna crepe knit, with which she wore a black picture hat and corsage toning in with the henna shades. Mrs. E. C. Finch of Toronto, another sister of the bride, wore a trimming of brown crepe knit, with trimming of brown crepe and hat to match. Following the service, the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's mother, which was doubly attractive for the occasion, decorated throughout with sweet peas. The guests, in addition to relatives, included a few intimate friends. A buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, after which the happy couple left for Toronto, en route to their new home on the Great Lakes from Port McNicoll to Port Arthur. For traveling Mrs. Burchell donned a becoming sports costume, cream skirt and hat, with smart red tuxedo coat.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alfred Raymond Smith of Detroit, wore smart cream suit, embroidered with silk braid, the coat opening over a sequin-trimmed blouse, and a white hat she carried a white-covered prayer book, wearing a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses. She was unattended. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, wore a handsome black satin gown with steel and jet garniture, and a black hat, a corsage of mauve sweet peas giving a relieving touch of color. Mrs. Babcock was in a modish costume of cream and henna crepe knit, with which she wore a black picture hat and corsage toning in with the henna shades. Mrs. E. C. Finch of Toronto, another sister of the bride, wore a trimming of brown crepe knit, with trimming of brown crepe and hat to match. Following the service, the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's mother, which was doubly attractive for the occasion, decorated throughout with sweet peas. The guests, in addition to relatives, included a few intimate friends. A buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, after which the happy couple left for Toronto, en route to their new home on the Great Lakes from Port McNicoll to Port Arthur. For traveling Mrs. Burchell donned a becoming sports costume, cream skirt and hat, with smart red tuxedo coat.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alfred Raymond Smith of Detroit, wore smart cream suit, embroidered with silk braid, the coat opening over a sequin-trimmed blouse, and a white hat she carried a white-covered prayer book, wearing a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses. She was unattended. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, wore a handsome black satin gown with steel and jet garniture, and a black hat, a corsage of mauve sweet peas giving a relieving touch of color. Mrs. Babcock was in a modish costume of cream and henna crepe knit, with which she wore a black picture hat and corsage toning in with the henna shades. Mrs. E. C. Finch of Toronto, another sister of the bride, wore a trimming of brown crepe knit, with trimming of brown crepe and hat to match. Following the service, the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's mother, which was doubly attractive for the occasion, decorated throughout with sweet peas. The guests, in addition to relatives, included a few intimate friends. A buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, after which the happy couple left for Toronto, en route to their new home on the Great Lakes from Port McNicoll to Port Arthur. For traveling Mrs. Burchell donned a becoming sports costume, cream skirt and hat, with smart red tuxedo coat.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alfred Raymond Smith of Detroit, wore smart cream suit, embroidered with silk braid, the coat opening over a sequin-trimmed blouse, and a white hat she carried a white-covered prayer book, wearing a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses. She was unattended. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, wore a handsome black satin gown with steel and jet garniture, and a black hat, a corsage of mauve sweet peas giving a relieving touch of color. Mrs. Babcock was in a modish costume of cream and henna crepe knit, with which she wore a black picture hat and corsage toning in with the henna shades. Mrs. E. C. Finch of Toronto, another sister of the bride, wore a trimming of brown crepe knit, with trimming of brown crepe and hat to match. Following the service, the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's mother, which was doubly attractive for the occasion, decorated throughout with sweet peas. The guests, in addition to relatives, included a few intimate friends. A buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, after which the happy couple left for Toronto, en route to their new home on the Great Lakes from Port McNicoll to Port Arthur. For traveling Mrs. Burchell donned a becoming sports costume, cream skirt and hat, with smart red tuxedo coat.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alfred Raymond Smith of Detroit, wore smart cream suit, embroidered with silk braid, the coat opening over a sequin-trimmed blouse, and a white hat she carried a white-covered prayer book, wearing a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses. She was unattended. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, wore a handsome black satin gown with steel and jet garniture, and a black hat, a corsage of mauve sweet peas giving a relieving touch of color. Mrs. Babcock was in a modish costume of cream and henna crepe knit, with which she wore a black picture hat and corsage toning in with the henna shades. Mrs. E. C. Finch of Toronto, another sister of the bride, wore a trimming of brown crepe knit, with trimming of brown crepe and hat to match. Following the service, the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's mother, which was doubly attractive for the occasion, decorated throughout with sweet peas. The guests, in addition to relatives, included a few intimate friends. A buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, after which the happy couple left for Toronto, en route to their new home on the Great Lakes from Port McNicoll to Port Arthur. For traveling Mrs. Burchell donned a becoming sports costume, cream skirt and hat, with smart red tuxedo coat.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alfred Raymond Smith of Detroit, wore smart cream suit, embroidered with silk braid, the coat opening over a sequin-trimmed blouse, and a white hat she carried a white-covered prayer book, wearing a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses. She was unattended. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, wore a handsome black satin gown with steel and jet garniture, and a black hat, a corsage of mauve sweet peas giving a relieving touch of color. Mrs. Babcock was in a modish costume of cream and henna crepe knit, with which she wore a black picture hat and corsage toning in with the henna shades. Mrs. E. C. Finch of Toronto, another sister of the bride, wore a trimming of brown crepe knit, with trimming of brown crepe and hat to match. Following the service, the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's mother, which was doubly attractive for the occasion, decorated throughout with sweet peas. The guests, in addition to relatives, included a few intimate friends. A buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, after which the happy couple left for Toronto, en route to their new home on the Great Lakes from Port McNicoll to Port Arthur. For traveling Mrs. Burchell donned a becoming sports costume, cream skirt and hat, with smart red tuxedo coat.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alfred Raymond Smith of Detroit, wore smart cream suit, embroidered with silk braid, the coat opening over a sequin-tr