SUFFRAGETTES INVADÉ HOUSE

Keir Hardie's Former Secretary Speaks Her Mind
Very Briefly

AN EXTRAORDINARY SCENE

Women And Unemployed: Tax
Ability of Whole Police Force

London, Oct. 13.—The climax of the suffrage campaign was reached to-day, when an enormous mob hemmed in parliament and stopped traffic in all the streets leading to Westminster. For more than two hours the crowd scuffled good naturedly with the police, interfered with the theatre-goers, broke windows and disorganized things generally in the centre of London. The heroine of the day was Mrs. Travers Symonds, formerly secretary to James Keir Hardie, the Socialist and independent member of parliament, who reached the door of the House of Commons by strategy. The House was solemnly debating a bill to prevent children from cigarette smoking, when the woman dashed past the doorkeeper to a position in front of the speaker's chair and shouted "win to the left."

Three officials seized Mrs. Symonds and carried her out bodily. She was then led to the outer door and dismissed. As a result of the coup, an order was issued that hereafter women should not be admitted to the building on any pretext whatever, and in the future the historic grill will not screen female spectators.

The speaker issued by the suffragettes for 50,000 people to help them "rush" Westminster at 10 o'clock this evening. It was not more than a stroke yet. Not less than twice that number responded to the call, and nine-tenths of these were young people who came to see the fun. There were also a few hundred of the unemployed and their sympathizers. Parliament was in a state of siege. A close triple line of police held them around the three sides of the square in front of the building. The yards between the main street and the front and two hundred guarded the terraces in the rear against assault by the way which the women twice attempted.

All the mounted police in London and the suburbs had been mobilized at this centre, and many of them were unstacked in the streets for the horses. The whole police force, together with cavalry, infantry and machine guns, to the number of more than 6,000 was kept busy in restraining the pushing, struggling masses, especially about Trafalgar Square, where a wooden monument looked down upon dense crowds in all directions, with buses, motor cars and cabs mostly filled with sight-seers trying to thread their way through.

The police kept the streets adjoining to the House of Commons clear, where they tried their ability to keep the people moving. The crowd cheered, sang songs, and gave voice to all the sarcastic remarks that a London crowd is capable of. These were aimed in a semi-good-natured way at the suffragettes, who distinguished by their range sashes awarded overseas, and distributing tracts. A delegation of thirteen suffragettes which approached the police cordon and was firmly refused admittance to Parliament, attempting to make a rush, but the women, with the least possible roughness, were turned back into a road resembling a football gridiron. The police were pelted with stones and some other missiles, but nobody was seriously hurt, or taken to hospital. Mrs. Pankhurst, Miss Pankhurst and Mrs. Lawrence were summoned to court yesterday for inciting a breach of the peace. This morning they coolly refused to obey the summons, but agreed to surrender themselves at six o'clock in the evening, which they did, spending the night in Bow Street station.

Suffragettes employed have had practically the whole police force on duty continually for forty-eight hours.

London, Oct. 14.—A great crowd surrounded the Bow Street police court this morning when the women suffragists and the men without work who were arrested yesterday during the disorders in front of the houses of parliament were arraigned. In the throng were women wearing badges with the words, "Vote for Women."

The three leaders of the militant suffragists, Mrs. Drummond, Mrs. Pankhurst and Miss Crystabel Pankhurst, demanded a trial by jury. Their cases were postponed until October 21.

"We have the power to make what traffic had been disorganized for four hours, and that eight policemen had been injured by the demonstrators.

Miss Pankhurst acted as attorney for Mrs. Drummond and Mrs. Pankhurst, and her cross-examination of Superintendent Wells furnished much amusement for the spectators. Most of the other prisoners were ordered to give bonds for their good behavior, but preferred to go to jail instead. When one of them was offered her freedom on her personal recognizance she said to the presiding magistrate: "You won't get any of my money. I will go to prison."

Another declared that she had not obstructed the police. Far from it; it was the police who had obstructed her.

Detroit's Defeat

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 14.—It is Chicago, champions of the world again. Frank Chance's Cubs clinched the best of five games, which were played on the whole series were Chicago, Detroit, 10 to 1.

The Chicago team, consisting of critics showed superiority in every department of the game in the series as a whole. They outplayed Detroit in every particular on the day that Detroit had a victory over Pelester's curves. Detroit was handicapped by the inability to cut down runners at second and by the failure of her happy hitting outfielders to hit critical moments when hits meant runs. None of the Detroit players seemed to realize the Chicago batsmen were playing with Detroit's only victory was found for seven hits through the windmill in Detroit's batting order.

PAPER TRUST INQUIRY

Witness at Minneapolis Refuses to Answer Questions Regarding Canadian Contract

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 14.—Whether the United States government has to power to extract the secrets of an agreement between the Canadian Government and citizens of the United States came very near being decided here today.

The hearing, presided over by Congressman James R. Mann, chairman of the select congressional committee appointed to investigate the works of the so-called paper trust, the future supply of pulpwood, and the necessity of a revision of the tariff on wood and material used to make pulp.

"The question arose when one of the witnesses, E. J. Backus, manager of the Minneapolis Paper Co., was asked to answer some of Mr. Mann's questions regarding the power company's contract relations with the Canadian government."

"I think we have plenty of spruce on the American side," Mr. Backus said in reply to a question. "If you have, why don't you stop grinding mill in the United States?" asked Mr. Mann.

"We intend to have grinding mills on both sides eventually," he replied. "What terms do you make with the Canadian government to get the right to cut timber on Crown lands?"

"We make a contract," he charges. "The contract calls for the payment of most of the concessions are granted for developing water power and plants for twenty years, renewable of course."

"Renewable at what rate?" "At forty cents."

"Do they agree to renew the contract?" Mr. Backus referred to the necessity of having a permit from the government to do business and Mr. Mann asked if he had one.

"I might say no, and yes." "You might say, but what do you say?" demanded Mr. Mann.

"I don't care to say," same the answer, very firmly.

"You have the power to compel an answer, but do not wish to enforce our powers unless necessary."

"I don't believe you have the power to make public affairs with a foreign government."

"Do they object to making public the terms they have with you for the development of water power?"

"I don't know as they do, but I object."

The matter was then dropped.

COUNTERFEITING GANG UNEARTHED

Plant Found on Old Farm Near Town of Gowanda, New York State

CANADIAN AND U. S. BILLS

Capture Made Through Arrest of Band's Leader at Oakville, Ontario

Buffalo, Oct. 14.—One of the most complete counterfeit plants ever discovered in this country was unearthed today by United States and Canadian secret service officers on a farm near Gowanda, Cattaraugus county. It was operated by Thomas Washington Crozier and his son, who were arrested the other day at Oakville, Ont.

More arrests will follow, and the secret service men hope to clean up a bad gang.

W. L. Garrison, of the United States secret service, and James Parkinson, inspector for the Dominion secret service, returned to Buffalo late yesterday with a complete counterfeit plant. It was found on a farm, which the elder Crozier bought but recently. The farm is in a most secluded locality, where operations could be carried on without attracting attention. The plant included 150 Farmers' Bank of Canada $10 notes and $5 notes, also 10 Standard Bank of Canada and $25 U. S. $5 certificates, making a total of $345.

In a deserted old house were also discovered rubber stamps and letters, 47 engraving tools, one set of United States silver certificates, one set of Imperial Bank of Canada $10 bank plates, one set of Quebec Bank of Canada $10 plates, one set of Standard Bank of Canada $10 plates, one set of Farmers' Bank $10 notes and a set of the same bank $5 notes.

The officers also found buried under an old barn on the premises a front plate of the United Empire Bank of Canada $5 note and parts of finished and unfinished plates.

According to the officers, the elder Crozier bought the Cattaraugus farm last summer and while on his way from Canada, always bringing with him a receiver has been in charge of the sawmill in the interests of the mortgagee suspended Saturday night was put in by the men who have liens on the logs for wages.

The sawmill, which employs a number of men, is a well known plant for some time, with the exception of one saw which has been kept running to cut fuel for the boiler which runs the electric lighting plant. The men decided to force things, and on Saturday an understanding was reached between the men and the owner, and those who run the saw and engine that no more logs were to be cut until the men received their wages in full.

At Seal Harbor a complete tie-up of the sawmill has been effected. The sawmill is a well known plant. A receiver has been in charge of the sawmill in the interests of the mortgagee suspended Saturday night was put in by the men who have liens on the logs for wages.

MANITOBA CONTEST OVER TEMPERANCE

Local Option Question to be Fought Out at Municipal Elections

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—The municipal elections in Manitoba this fall promise to be the most interesting held in the province for many years. It is to be a battle royal between the organized temperance and the organized liquor influences. Both parties have been preparing for the vote.

As soon as the government revised the liquor act last session and provided for local option with only a majority vote of the people, the temperance people saw their opportunity. They determined to bring the question to a vote in a large number of municipalities this year. W. W. Buchanan, head of the temperance organization, in an automobile, organized the province with his temperance workers.

The licensed hotelkeepers association also were benefited. By the revision of the act in that a special vote was allowed to be taken each year, provided there was a twenty-five per cent petition presented to the municipal council. The temperance people were compelled to have their twenty-five per cent petition in the hands of the council before October 1, but no date was set for a petition for repeal to be in. The season for the presentation of petitions is now past and all that remains for opposing parties is to continue canvassing for the day of polling.

At the outset of the campaign local option was in force and still remains in force in 28 towns and municipalities.

On account of the act calling for a petition to be presented to the council prior to October 1, the hotelkeepers' association claim that the temperance people are too late with all their petitions except 11. They would have the law enforced and prevent elections being held in the other 22 districts. This will make the same number of elections for local option as for the repeal of existing local option laws. Just how much the present local option map of the province will be changed is not known.

I.O.F. IN NEW YORK

State Superintendent of Insurance
Finds that Order be on a
Solid Basis

Rochester, N.Y., Oct. 14.—By reason of certain actions having been brought in the supreme court of this state, by members of the order, who were arrested on the 12th inst., certain charges were made that the funds of the Independent Order of Foresters have not now a word of support by the executive officers.

The superintendent of insurance of the state of New York on account of these actions, has issued a full license of the order in this state until a full and complete examination could be made by that department of the affairs of the order. The same having been made by such department, and the result thereof showing that the order was on a solid basis, and that the increase in the rate of assessment, which was warranted by the order, and the renewal of its license, which in and of itself is a sufficient warranty of the solidity of the order.

This, it will be remembered, is the order founded by the late Dr. Oronhyah, a full-blooded Mohawk Indian, now deceased.

This evening a dispatch was received from Møldo, Norway, telling of the descent of the Swiss balloon, Helvetia, to the ocean, and the rescue of the aeronauts by fishermen.

COMPANY BUYS WATERFRONTAGE

G.T.P. Prepares For Steamship
Line Between Here And
Prince Rupert

LIES NORTH OF CAUSEWAY

Work Not Expected to Commence on Wharves During Present Season

The G.T.P. concluded the purchase from Clifford W. Brown yesterday of the waterfront property lying between the Alaska Steamship company's wharf and the north end of the causeway. The Alaska Steamship company's wharf is 400 feet long. The purchase price was not mentioned by Mr. Darcy Tait, the assistant solicitor of the G.T.P., but he confirmed the report. The latter follows out the announcement of Mr. M. Hays, the president of the new transportation company, that the wharves will be built at the north end of the causeway when he stated that the company's connection with Victoria will be by a steamship line and that no wharves will be projected. The agreement will be registered within the next few days and the transaction finally closed, Mr. Tait stated. While the purchase price was not announced, it is said that the railway pays Mr. Brown a figure in the neighborhood of $150,000 for the property. No steps towards building wharves or freight sheds are as yet projected and nothing will be done this year. It will not be long, however, ere the erection of the wharves and other improvements will be undertaken. It is believed that the G.T.P. will establish its own coast service of steamers and that no considerable proportion of materials and supplies for the steamers will be taken in via Prince Rupert and carried by the railway's own steamers. In this event the wharves will be a necessity. The waterfront property to be north of the causeway will soon assume a very different appearance. Paris, Oct. 14.—It is believed here that the international conference on the Balkan situation, which is now regarded as certain, will be limited to the ratification of previous arrangements. The matters to be settled between Turkey and the powers probably will be the recognition of the independence of Bulgaria and the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina as accomplished.

It is declared here in competent quarters that Great Britain, provisionally upon the consent of Turkey, is now ready to see the Dardanelles opened to certain of the powers. The Black Sea is regarded as a mare clausum, and Turkey's compensation for the change is to be largely financial.

M. Vestnich, the Serbian minister to France, explained today that the purpose of M. Patish's visit to the various capitals was to lay the case of Serbia before the signatories of the Berlin treaty. "We have decided to submit our claims to the powers," the minister said. "If we don't receive justice, our people will become desperate. Our existence is at stake and if our case rests upon national and not dynamic considerations, we expect general sympathy, but particularly from America."
