

BEST SPOT TO WHIP BOYS.

THE SCHOOL BOARD LISTENS TO MEDICAL TESTIMONY.

Recommendation that the Strap be Applied to Other Portions of the Body Than the Hands is Sent Back—Oral Hearing Will Go On—Contractor Criticized Excessively.

At the meeting of the Public School Board last night, the chief subject of argument was the teacher's right to punish boys on that portion of the body designed by nature for such purposes.

The following clause in the management report created the discussion: "That section 15 of the regulations relating to the duties of principals and assistants be amended to read as follows: Administer punishment, when necessary, with the strap applied to the hands, and, in cases of extreme punishment, when necessary, to other portions of the body."

Chairman Hamby said that before the old regulation was amended, punishment on the hands only was superseded, some explanation of the course should be given.

Trustee Burns, chairman of the Management Committee said that in view of the fact that the Police Magistrate had decided that a teacher had a right to inflict as a punishment on a pupil as a parent might administer to his own child; it was the opinion of the committee that the strap should be used only in cases of extreme punishment.

Dr. Ogden spoke against the change. Trustee Kent thought that the clause was attractive, but that it should be amended so that it should not be applied to the hands of the teacher, children should be given time to consider a thing. Whipping made a child more obedient, the strap was a relic of the old cat-in-hat which had been a failure in the army and the navy.

Trustee C. A. Brown said that the clause had been improperly considered in committee and moved that it be referred back.

Dr. Gillen, on the ground that sufficient notice had not been given, moved that the clause be struck out. There were various ways of punishing children. The strap should be used only in cases of extreme punishment.

Trustees C. A. Brown and Starr pointed out that the subject was introduced in respect to a public demand. Dr. Noble, the second of the motion, took the ground that two hours' work was too much time to devote to the subject.

Contractor Criticized Excessively. Architect Siddall's report entirely commended the contractor. The charge of erecting a defective wall at Queen Victoria School, in one of two instances where the contractor had been used, but they had been properly flushed up with good mortar and the work was found to be satisfactory throughout.

Mr. Siddall further said that he could not refrain from expressing the belief that the bricklayer who brought the charges upon the contractor was found in the first hour of the proceedings of embarrassing his employer.

The school children's celebration of the anniversary of the Battle of Queenston Heights will be held on Saturday, Oct. 12.

In addition to the transfers already published, Miss Kennedy goes from McCaul-street and Miss Wilson from the school at Fern-avenue School. Dr. Ogden received the salary on which W. E. Cobban is engaged as male assistant at Wellesley School, from $550 to $500, but was voted down.

BOY BURNED AT A STAKE. Andrew Vandine, Twinned by His Cousins at the West End. East Liverpool, O., Oct. 3.—The 6-year-old son of Andrew Vandine was companions, and so badly injured that he cannot recover. His torturers were about the same boys who were doing, but after the fire had been started around the other end of the street, they became frightened and ran away, leaving him to his fate.

Some of the neighbors happened to see the performance and ran to the fire and he was badly burned. The physicians say it is impossible for him to live.

MOSLEM RIOTS RENEWED.

Twenty Armenians Killed—The Churches Full of Refugees.

London, Oct. 3.—A despatch from Constantinople under the date of Oct. 3, says: The rioting which prevailed here on Monday was renewed last evening, when the Sofias chased and attacked every Armenian they met in the streets. The Stamboul district of the city, killing 20 of them during the night. The Sofias also attacked a cafe in which there were 20 Armenians and killed every one of them. The fugitive Armenians are taking refuge in the churches. The clergy are untiring in their efforts to reassure them, and address the frightened Armenians almost continuously.

The conduct of the Armenians in going armed to take part in the demonstration in front of the palace gates on Monday is generally condemned and no doubt now entertained that the rioting originated in an organized movement on the part of the Armenian Revolutionary Committee. The rioters and knives taken from dead or dying Armenians by the police were all of the same pattern.

The Armenians in the employ of the Post Office realized the gravity of the emote of their countrymen, fled from the city, being afraid that the Government would treat them as traitors. They returned to-day, however, with the exception of Artym Oshaka, secretary of the Post Office Ministry, who is accused of being in sympathy with the Armenian conspirators.

Press Officer as to the Blame. London, Oct. 4.—The Graphic says: "It is impossible in face of this serious rioting to attribute the blame to any one party. The Armenian reformers, or Armenian reformers. The criminal folly of the authors of the scheme."

The Post says: "It is all very well after the event to blame the violence with which the Armenians retaliated against the Moslems, but it is not so easy to do so when the crisis affecting the peace of Europe is at hand. It is not surprising that the Sultan's children should be shown the discretion that would have been shown by the police controlling ordinary European crowds."

The Daily News denounces what it terms the "disgraceful attempt of one or two English journals to represent the Turk as a lamb and the Armenian as a wolf." It says that the massacre was a mere massacre, promising to give the names of the historic crimes of the Turkish capital.

The Standard will publish a despatch from Constantinople on Wednesday a large number of shops and houses in the city were destroyed by the rioting. The streets were patrolled by the police, who were virtually in a state of siege. The despatch adds that a witness of an occurrence states a respectable-looking Armenian was arrested by two gendarmes on the morning of the rioting. When he was tested against being arrested the gendarmes threatened to strip his body open with their swords.

The Armenian Patriarch received a letter from the Sultan to call upon the Government. The letter stated that none of his followers would be permitted to accompany him. The Patriarch therefore declined to accept the invitation and remains at the Patriarchate, where he attended to the several hundred Armenians who had fled to him for refuge.

The official visited the Patriarchate and summoned its occupants to surrender, giving them until 3 o'clock on Wednesday to do so. After which time if they did not surrender, the building would be surrounded by the police and prepared for a night of anything worse.

Reviewing the incident it appears that the police generally were not supplied with ball cartridges. They were instructed to use the flats of their swords and the butts of their rifles. First instance was verbal. The Armenians fired with their rifles. With the exception of the few who were killed, the rest were taken to the hospital. It is hoped that the police will not resort to force, as in that event a fearful massacre would be the result.

The refugees are huddled together in the building with hardly standing room. The demand for food and scraps are brought to them. Seven corpses have been delivered from the Patriarchate for burial.

The reports that Armenians who were arrested and taken to the Patriarchate and Tuesday's rioting in Constantinople. It is known to a certainty that five of the prisoners were killed and it would excite no surprise to hear that others met their death in the same manner. Eye witnesses did not discharge their rifles until Major Severat Bey ordered them to do so upon them. Turkish officials view the trouble as being the direct outcome of the agitation in Europe, especially in Great Britain, in favor of the Armenians as against the Turk.

TRYING TO SCARE BRITAIN.

Report that the U. S. Had sent an Ultimatum to Venezuela.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Despatches stating that the Secretary Olney had given Great Britain 90 days in which to accede to arbitration in the Venezuelan boundary dispute are pronounced at the State Department as absurdities on their face. An ultimatum implies war. It is conditions are not complied with, Congress alone has the right to declare war. If any such ridiculous proposal is made to the Secretary of State, Olney had been sent out he would be liable to immediate impeachment on the ground of having accepted such a proposal.

The United States has made an urgent representation in favor of arbitration and has transmitted to Ambassador Bayard a carefully prepared brief representing the Venezuelan case. The case as adopted by the United States and the matter rests for the present.

London, Oct. 3.—The Westminster Gazette, in an article under the caption, "Turn About is Fair Play," says: "The ultimatum which the Secretary of State has sent to Great Britain is a masterpiece of diplomacy. It is submitted to arbitration within 90 days. The United States will enter into arbitration within 90 days. The United States will enter into arbitration within 90 days."

The St. James Gazette says: "Isn't it awful? But it might be still more awful if we only knew what the United States Government is up to. The United States Government is up to something. The United States Government is up to something."

Meeting of the Syndicate called. New York, Oct. 3.—A hastily called meeting of the syndicate of the Orinoco Company, the concern which now operates the lands at the mouth of the Orinoco river in Venezuela, was held here to-day behind closed doors. The meeting was attended by the syndicate members. Donald Grant, the railroad magnate, who now owns the lands, was present. The syndicate members discussed the situation and the possibility of a settlement.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—A momentous morning session in the Durrant trial was relieved by the contempt of the Orinoco river in Venezuela. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—A momentous morning session in the Durrant trial was relieved by the contempt of the Orinoco river in Venezuela. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—A momentous morning session in the Durrant trial was relieved by the contempt of the Orinoco river in Venezuela. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—A momentous morning session in the Durrant trial was relieved by the contempt of the Orinoco river in Venezuela. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—A momentous morning session in the Durrant trial was relieved by the contempt of the Orinoco river in Venezuela. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—A momentous morning session in the Durrant trial was relieved by the contempt of the Orinoco river in Venezuela. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—A momentous morning session in the Durrant trial was relieved by the contempt of the Orinoco river in Venezuela. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—A momentous morning session in the Durrant trial was relieved by the contempt of the Orinoco river in Venezuela. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—A momentous morning session in the Durrant trial was relieved by the contempt of the Orinoco river in Venezuela. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company. The trial was held in the presence of the United States and the Orinoco Company.

GAMBLING TRICKS.

BEHIND THE SCENES AT FAMOUS MONTE CARLO.

Nothing-A Player Who "Goes Broke" Can Recover 10 Per Cent of His Losses and Get Railway Fare Home. The police of Monte Carlo are so admirably organized that a few hours after anybody's arrest the names of the visitor is already reported to the administration of the casino, with, of course, the address and various details, such as the amount of luggage, the appearance, the price of the room or pension taken, etc. These details are all important to the inspector of the casino, who is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time.

The inspector of the casino is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time.

The inspector of the casino is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time.

The inspector of the casino is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time.

The inspector of the casino is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time.

The inspector of the casino is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time.

The inspector of the casino is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time.

The inspector of the casino is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time.

The inspector of the casino is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time.

The inspector of the casino is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time.

The inspector of the casino is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time.

The inspector of the casino is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time.

The inspector of the casino is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time.

The inspector of the casino is a very clever and shrewd man. He is in a position to know the names of all the gamblers who are in the casino, and he is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time. He is able to identify them at any time.

SMILED, LOST HER TEETH.

Were Not Paid for and Now the Dentist Acts Them Back.

Bridget, Conn., Oct. 3.—When Beardsley, the dentist, made Mrs. Jenkins, of Stratford, a set of false teeth, she put them in, and she wore them a while, and, if they needed no changes, would pay him. That was five years ago. Beardsley has sent her frequent bills, but nothing has ever come of it. To-day Beardsley met Mrs. Jenkins face to face in the main shopping street.

"Good morning," said he. "When are you going to pay me for the teeth?" "Oh, very soon," said Mrs. Jenkins, in an uneasy smile. "But I really ought not to pay you, they hurt me so."

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

SMILED, LOST HER TEETH.

Were Not Paid for and Now the Dentist Acts Them Back.

Bridget, Conn., Oct. 3.—When Beardsley, the dentist, made Mrs. Jenkins, of Stratford, a set of false teeth, she put them in, and she wore them a while, and, if they needed no changes, would pay him. That was five years ago. Beardsley has sent her frequent bills, but nothing has ever come of it. To-day Beardsley met Mrs. Jenkins face to face in the main shopping street.

"Good morning," said he. "When are you going to pay me for the teeth?" "Oh, very soon," said Mrs. Jenkins, in an uneasy smile. "But I really ought not to pay you, they hurt me so."

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

SMILED, LOST HER TEETH.

Were Not Paid for and Now the Dentist Acts Them Back.

Bridget, Conn., Oct. 3.—When Beardsley, the dentist, made Mrs. Jenkins, of Stratford, a set of false teeth, she put them in, and she wore them a while, and, if they needed no changes, would pay him. That was five years ago. Beardsley has sent her frequent bills, but nothing has ever come of it. To-day Beardsley met Mrs. Jenkins face to face in the main shopping street.

"Good morning," said he. "When are you going to pay me for the teeth?" "Oh, very soon," said Mrs. Jenkins, in an uneasy smile. "But I really ought not to pay you, they hurt me so."

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

SMILED, LOST HER TEETH.

Were Not Paid for and Now the Dentist Acts Them Back.

Bridget, Conn., Oct. 3.—When Beardsley, the dentist, made Mrs. Jenkins, of Stratford, a set of false teeth, she put them in, and she wore them a while, and, if they needed no changes, would pay him. That was five years ago. Beardsley has sent her frequent bills, but nothing has ever come of it. To-day Beardsley met Mrs. Jenkins face to face in the main shopping street.

"Good morning," said he. "When are you going to pay me for the teeth?" "Oh, very soon," said Mrs. Jenkins, in an uneasy smile. "But I really ought not to pay you, they hurt me so."

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

SMILED, LOST HER TEETH.

Were Not Paid for and Now the Dentist Acts Them Back.

Bridget, Conn., Oct. 3.—When Beardsley, the dentist, made Mrs. Jenkins, of Stratford, a set of false teeth, she put them in, and she wore them a while, and, if they needed no changes, would pay him. That was five years ago. Beardsley has sent her frequent bills, but nothing has ever come of it. To-day Beardsley met Mrs. Jenkins face to face in the main shopping street.

"Good morning," said he. "When are you going to pay me for the teeth?" "Oh, very soon," said Mrs. Jenkins, in an uneasy smile. "But I really ought not to pay you, they hurt me so."

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her.

"What is it?" asked Mr. Beardsley with interest, coming very near to her. "What is it?"