PEACE

After more than four years' duration of the most terrible war the world has ever known, the nations are again at peace. While we are all so pleased that we cannot find words sufficient to properly express it, we cannot yet realize what peace means to the entire world. Saturday night our time was taken up in celebrating the abdication of the Kaiser; Sunday we listened to interesting sermons by the clergymen of our various denominations, all of whom referred to the peace now at hand. Monday the good news arrived and again we celebrated, taking time, of course, to attend the union Thanksgiving service at eleven o'clock. But yesterday, after the excitement was all over, the stores remained closed, a beautiful thanksgiving service was held at noon and the whole town took on a peaceful appearance from north to south and from east to west. It is certainly grand to be at peace. The boys and girls who joined in the rejoicing Monday will remember it as the day of the greatest event in their lives, the greatest event in modern history.

Death of Mrs. Vaughn Young.

(Annapolis Spectator.)

The death took place at Middleton last Monday, after an attack of influenza, of Florence Kathleen, wife of Vaughn Young of that town, and daughter of A. M. King, of Annapolis Royal, leaving besides her husband, a little boy only three months old. Mrs. Young was next to Claude C. King, the third of the family of A. M. King, and granddaughter of Mrs. Agnes King, and was very highly esteemed in this town, where she had lived all her life until married about three years ago. Her sisters are Miss Hazel King, of the Canadian Army nursing staff, now in England, and Miss Daphne, also a nurse, who was with her at the last, besides May and Evelyn at home.

The body was brought to Annapolis by train at noon on Tuesday and taken to St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, where an outdoor service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. B. Muir, assisted by Rev. T. C. Mellor, interment being made in the family lot in Woodlawn Cemetery, beside the grave of her mother. The large and representative gathering at the funeral testified abundantly to the cordial sympathy felt for the family and popular regret at the sudden taking away of one who had always retained her youthful friendships here and only a week ago was a visitor at her father's home.

Sudden Death at Smith's Cove.

Mr. Harry Buchner, who has been in failing health for more than a year, died very suddenly on Friday afternoon, Nov. 8th.

Mr. Buchner was born in the city of Welland, Ont., in the year 1851. He was contractor for several years for Public Works in connection with the building of the Welland Canal.

After that he travelled for the Vacuum Oil Co. for several years, when he was made manager of the Head Office in Toronto and later of the Boston office, until about five years ago when he retired, and came to reside in Smith's Cove. He was a man well liked by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

He leaves to mourn his loss, a wife, who was a daughter of the late J. M. Potter, Esq., formerly of Smith's Cove and three sons, H. L. of Worcester, Mass., Warren, Arthur and one daughter, Mrs. Irene Sheldon, of New York.

The funeral services, which will be conducted by Rev. W. I. Croft, will be held from his late home this (Wednesday) afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

Death of a Child

On Tuesday, the 5th inst., there passed away in Lewinwood, P.E.I., Allison, the ten months' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Corvitt. Death was caused by convulsions. In their sorrow much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents.

The funeral was conducted on Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. P. H. Beis.

Death of Mrs. Ernest Jackson.

Word has been received here of the death of the wife of Mr. Ernest Jackson, son of Mr. James Jackson, of Carleton's Corner. Mrs. Jackson is survived by a husband and is an employee of the Halifax and Southwestern Railway. She leaves no family. The MONITOR extends its sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Local Happenings

The Centrelia Red Cross Meeting, will be held at Mrs. Caldwell's Friday, Nov. 15th.

The old railway station in Annapolis which had not been used as a passenger depot for many years, was destroyed by fire Monday evening.

Next Friday evening at 7.30 the St. James church "Organized" Bible Class will hold its inaugural meeting for the season 1918-19. All interested in Bible study are cordially invited.

Owing to the railway station and freight shed having been destroyed by fire, a box car is being used for a freight shed. Mr. W. V. Jones agent, wishes to give notice that the public are requested to remove their freight promptly on arrival.

Owing to Monday being a holiday in Bridgetown, and the space given to war news in this issue, a quantity of correspondence and a large number of village notes, as well as personal marine news and other regular features, have been crowded out.

A coincidence in Monday's Oddfellows' patriotic parade was the marching together of Serg. Goodwin, of the Canadian Forces at Halifax, and Mr. Fred Y. Marshall of Block Island, New York. Mr. Marshall is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Marshall, Clarence.

As most of our readers will recall, a service of intercession on behalf of the war has been held in St. James Church on Friday afternoons since August, 1914. Hostilities having now ceased these services will be concluded next Friday afternoon by a simple service of Thanksgiving commencing at the usual hour, 4.30.

Sunday next has been fixed by the Government as a day of national thanksgiving to celebrate the conclusion of peace. Churches throughout the Dominion are requested to hold special thanksgiving services. This will be observed in the various churches in Bridgetown and the surrounding towns and villages.

Wedding Bells

TAYLOR—BENT

A correspondent writes: On Nov. 6th an event occurred in which two of our young people, Mr. Lindsay Owen Taylor and Miss Mable Eldene Bent, were very much interested.

On account of the prevailing epidemic, the marriage was celebrated quietly.

On Wednesday afternoon the young couple drove to Margareville, where they were united in marriage by Rev. G. H. Gage. The bride looked charming dressed in a handsome suit with hat to match.

After a nice drive along the shore they returned to the home of Mr. Charles Taylor, father of the bride, where a reception was held only the very near friends being present. During the evening a large number of young people from Port George and Josher's Corner gathered and gave them a hearty serenade. After refreshments were served the bride and groom many good wishes for a happy and prosperous future. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will reside at Port George.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS.

Dargie Bros Have Succeeded Joseph I. Foster, Bridgetown's Well Known Grocerman.

As will be seen by Mr. Joseph I. Foster's advertisement which appears in this issue, Mr. Foster, after nearly twenty-six years of successful business in Bridgetown, has sold out his grocery business to Messrs. E. N. and P. C. Dargie, who will continue the same under the name of Dargie Bros.

Mr. E. N. Dargie has had more than eight years' experience in the grocery business with C. L. Piggett and later with B. N. Messinger, while his brother Mr. P. C., has also spent many years as salesman in Bridgetown and elsewhere.

We believe with a liberal amount of newspaper advertising (which is always necessary with any new firm) and with their past experience and popularity they will receive a large share of the public patronage. We wish them every success.
