A Temperance Lecture.

They drank their whiskey and beer; To Bacchus they bended the knee, And often they said with a sneer, A lemonade drinker is he.

He never with them would "go round;" He left them to frolic at will; They're all of them under the ground; He's drinking his lemonade still. -Boston Convier.

Prohibition is a Certainty.

Prohibition is a certainty in this country, and that within a very few years. Every civilized nation on earth is looking Dower'd with hope, with promise blest, for some cure of the greatest evil that affects the earth. The fact that all counciliation of the greatest evil that affects the earth. The fact that all counciliations is considered by the control of the cont fects the earth. The fact that all countries are trying to regulate it is an admission that it is an evil, and the centuries have demonstrated that there is no sense whatever in trying to regulate an evil. Evils are to be killed, not regulated. The question of to day is whether the individ ual man shall have any right, by means of a posson, to demoralize mankind for profit. It is a question every working man, every employee, every father and mother, has a right to answer. - North American Review,
