

- A Central schoolboard
- B Broadcast communications facility
- C Local school linked by telephone or cable
- D Regional school receiving broadcast
- E Communications satellite
- F Distant school receiving satellite signal

Edutex is transmitted in two languages - English and French - and is even delivered to three schools in remote northern locations by satellite.

As more and more users become familiar with videotex and teletext technology, the number of applications will increase.

Full-channel broadcast delivery and interactive data communication via satellite promise access from every part of Ontario at reasonable cost.
