

This Treaty is of particular significance to Canada given its geographic proximity to the United States and the fact that the vast majority of Canadian extradition cases arise from requests for rendition of fugitives to or from the United States.

--- The text of the Extradition Treaty is attached.