

May 5, 1933.

His Eminence Cardinal Villeneuve, Q u e b e c , P. Q.

Your Eminence,

McGill University is indeed greatly honoured by your consenting to accept the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

This will involve, as you know, your attending our Convocation on May 25th, and there are a few details on which I would like to be clear.

Usually the recipients of the honorary degree assemble in the robing room of the McGill Redpath Library and join the Convocation procession to Loew's Theatre, where our Convocation proceedings take place: this is unfortunately the case because we have no assembly hall at the University large enough to accommodate the five hundred graduates and their friends.