

ACTION, NOT TALK
DESIRE OF ULLSTER

Little Attention is Paid to Debate Upon Amending Bill.

London Associated Press Cable. LONDON, July 8.—The Belfast correspondent to The Times writes: "I suppose the people in England think that Ulster must be following the debate upon the amending bill with intense interest. That is not so. These debates attract less attention here than they do in England. They are not regarded as having any influence upon the situation. The final and deciding word is rather with the Unionists at Westminster than with the Liberals. It is with Devlin and Redmond and Dillon.

"I am asked every time I offer to discuss the proceedings in parliament, what is the use of these speeches and offers and amendments? They mean nothing so long as the prime minister is in the power of men openly hostile to his country.

MILITIA MINISTER
LAUDED FOR STAND

Rev. Dr. McKay Approves Prohibition of Military Escort for Cardinal.

Hon. Sam Hughes, minister of militia, was commended yesterday for his attitude in the Cardinal Begin matter by Rev. Dr. McKay, editor of The Canadian Baptist. He said: "I recognize the full rights of the Roman Catholics to organize a procession to welcome their distinguished leaders, but it is an utterly unbecoming principle to use the country's troops for that purpose. I am sure that our Roman Catholic friends would have protested if, for example, the military had been called out to welcome Dr. Herridge home after he had been elected moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada at the general assembly at Woodstock.

COURSE DEFENDED
BY ALD. MEREDITH

Stood to Gain by Laundry License, But Action Not Reprehensible.

While admitting that he had stood to make about $154 if the city council granted a laundry license for the property he was trying to sell, Ald. Meredith thought yesterday that the mayor had made a ridiculous statement when he characterized his action as reprehensible and one that should be discouraged, because he had lobbied the members of the city council on behalf of the property owner. The alderman also said that while it might be true that he had attempted to obtain a situation as inspector in the street cleaning department for his father, he averred that almost every member of the city council had used their influence to secure civic positions for their relatives. The alderman will not ask for a judicial inquiry into the laundry license matter as far as he is concerned the whole matter will be dropped.
