

WAYS AND MEANS—THE BUDGET—Con.

Paterson, Hon. Wm.—Con.

being built—5306. The money will go back into the pockets of the consumers of the country—5307. The Premier's statement. Foster's statement not to the credit of any public man—5308. Foster talked all these things on Tuesday and is back on them again to-day—5309. We have carried into effect every plank of our platform except one, the reform of the Senate—5310. The trade plank of the platform—5311. Put the tariff on a revenue and not on a protective basis—5312. Reduced the rate of taxation and made trade freer—5313. Statement re homestead entries; have carried out our platform—5314.

Schell, M. S. (South Oxford)—5617.

Statistics of the result of the British preference—5617. Not only a legal but an actual preference—5618. English newspapers loud in praise of what Canada had done—5619. Obtained a better place and better prices—5620. The Australian government adopted the principle of the preference—5957. Foster blames the government for collecting too much revenue and for reducing the duties—5958. The advantages of the French treaty—5959. The advantages of the Japanese treaty—5960. Lake and the C.P.R. exemption given by his own friends—5961. Conservatives who obtained timber limits under the late regime—5962. T. S. Sproule made an application for his brother; other names—5963. The names are on the file in the library, any one can look—5964. Sproule admits he made the application, not his fault he did not get the land—5965. It ill-becomes them to proclaim themselves the great apostles of purity; Conservative instruction in 1896—5966-7. From 1893 to 1896 the greatest period of depression ever seen in Canada—5968. A revenue, not a high protection tariff—5969. Trade figures compared, 18 years against 11 years—5970. A larger increase than during the whole 18 years of high protection—5971. Capital has been flowing to our shores—5972. Comparative examination of the debt—5973. Comparison necessary to realize the full benefit of the present tariff—5974. Statement of principal articles of export—5975. Development in railway tonnage—5976. Growth in the Post Office Department—5977. Expenditures on public works—beneficial legislation—5978. Sunday Observance Bill—5979. What true greatness consists in—5980.

Sifton, Hon. Clifford (Brandon)—5338.

Congratulates Fielding on his excellent address—5338. No use continuing to discuss subjects relegated to the limbo of forgotten things; the question of raising revenue—5339. The late panic in the United States largely due to over-speculation—5340. The necessity for a department of foreign trade—5341. Should organize a thorough and complete system of trade agencies in other countries

WAYS AND MEANS—THE BUDGET—Con.

Sifton, Hon. Clifton—Con.

—5342. Reform of the civil service required; credit to Borden—5343. Patronage of no political advantage whatever to the government or any member of parliament—5344. Desirability of a connection between the universities and the civil service. Immigration—5345. Railway and land grants; the land should be open for homesteading; free lands—5346. The construction of the Hudson Bay railway desirable—5347. The All-Red Route—5348. The conference resolution; where did it come from?—5349. What the delegates had in mind—5350. The route statistically treated—5351. Character of the boat required; physical difficulties—5352. Charts showing the percentage of fog—5353. The question of ice; the St. Lawrence route—5356. Investigation as to the cost of such a service, estimate for a 24-knot service—5355. Arguments in favour of such a service—5356. Railway companies have opposed things in Canada before, but they have come to pass—5357.

Smith, E. D. (Wentworth)—5375.

Sifton's speech about as strong criticism of the Trade and Commerce Department as possible—5375. The civil service policy and immigration—5376. The duty of the government to keep out undesirables—5377. Comparative table of increase of imports and exports for several countries—5378. Conditions of the time cause these increases—5379. Comparative table increase of trade in ten years—5388. The position in Japan, and in the United States—5389. The question of the balance of trade—5390. The government responsible for this excess of imports; the French treaty—5391. The export of fruit in cold storage is a dead industry—5392. Exports of butter in cold storage—5393. The Fruit Marks Act—5394. Canadian apples on the British market—5395. After all the expenditure no good results have been obtained—5396. Absence of ministers—5397. The Adulteration of Foods Act—5398. Growth of expenditures in the Department of Public Works—5399. The total amount next year spent will have to be borrowed—5400. Does not object to large expenditures in the public interest—5401. The canals could have been deepened for a moiety of the amount squandered on the G.T.P.R.—5402. Paterson's criticism of Foster—5403. The principle of protection in the tariff; prohibition—5404. The government will be driven from power when the people have a chance—5405.

Thompson, Alfred (Yukon)—5405.

Expenditure in 1906 and now; the bonus on immigrants—5405. The bonus a bad advertisement for Canada—5406. Will support the Conservative party and the principles laid down by R. L. Borden—5407.

Wilson, Uriah (Lennox)—6082.

McColl ought not to attribute motives to as honourable men as were in the House
