On both sides there was a general consensus of opinion that the best thing to do was to "wipe off the slate." It would have been "wiped off" yesterday but for Centre Toronto and South Ontarlo. Mr. Robinette has blood in his

Squirrel Tails Police Count

Gotham Amused at Attempts of Officers to Tie Strings to Appendages of Little Animals.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The most difficult census ever undertaken is now being carried on in Central Park—a counting of the squirrels which live there. The undertaking is made necessary to determine whether the Central Park squirrels are becoming extinct.
At one time these little animals, always a source of amusement to visitors, became so numerous that it became necessary to thin them out with a shorteness.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—New York was a storm centre to-day of argument for and against woman suffrage and in the very vortex of the whirling

Of late, however, their numbers have held accountable for at least four deaths a day since squirreis are being constantly run over. It is also stated that race suicide is becoming as common among these animals as it is among the fashionable residents around Central Park, chiefly because of the fact that the squirrels are so plentifully supplied with candy and peanuts that they lay up nothing for the winter.

Whatever the cause, however, a dozen policemen have been given the job of taking the squirrels' census, compared to which putting salt on sparrows' tails is a simple feat. Each policeman is furnished with a pocketful of nuts and another pocketful of colored strings. With the former he is to entice the squirrel so that he can tie one of the latter about his tail to avoid double counting. The men deavoid double counting. The men de-tailed for this peculiar employment have had to put up with a great many gibes from their fellow-cops, especially since it was learned as a result of their labors that the squirrel popula-tion was somewhere between 761 and

Dr. Lyman Abbott was the principa speaker, and it was he that presented a letter from President Roosevelt, The letter was interpreted in various ways by the auditors and Dr. Abbott was often interrupted by applause and by shouts of disapproval.

A climax came when a score or more suffragists united in denunciation of the attitude of conservatism, which the president had taken in his letter. The shouts of the suffragists leaders became so troublesome that a few police-men were asked to seek out the offend-ers. They were threatened with eject-ment, and finally the disturbance was At the conclusion of the lecture, however, the suffragists withdrew to the sidewalk where an indignation meeting was held. Mrs. Berman Wells, who said she had just come from England after spending three weeks in Holloway jail for trying to break into the house of commons, was one of the leaders of the outside meetings. At the meeting proper the theatre was well filled. Richard Watson Glider presided and said that the members of the society did not believe that women should be burdened with politics. President Butler of Columbia University spoke in sympathy with the league's work and read a letter from Secretary of State Root.

At the same time it must be admitted that the situation is alarming. In many cases the blame is traced to an employe, but the question remains:

"is not the employe overworked? is not the system to blame?
"I intended at once to have a conference with the chairman of the rail-way commission, and the public may rest assured that within the next few days there will be set on foot a searching enquiry."
In this connection the minister added:

"I do not agree with The World in politics, but I am prepared to follow its suggestion that the service in Ontario is being discriminated against in favor of other localities. My friends and neighbors in Ontario need have no fear but that so far as I have the power, any such discrimination, if it does exist, will come to a speedy conclusion."

Board's Power Limited To Ordering Enquiry

OTTAWA, Dec. 4.—(Special.)—"The board may appoint such persons as it thinks fit to enquire into all matters and things which it deems likely to cause or prevent accidents, and the causes and the circumstances connected with any accident or casualty to life or property occurring on any railway, and into all particulars regarding thereto.

shall report fully in writing to the board his or their doings and opinions on matters respecting which he or they are appointed to investigate, and the board may act upon such report and may order the company to suspend or dismiss any employes of the company whom it may deem to have been negligent or wiful in respect of such accident."—Section 292, Chapter 37, of the Rallway Act.
