

ARTICLE XI.

Of the Duty of the Chaplains.

It shall be the duty of the Chaplains to perform the religious duties customary at the meetings of the Society ; by their counsel and advice to promote harmony and good-will among the members, and to visit such sick and distressed persons as may be recommended to their attention by the Board of Managers.

ARTICLE XII.

Of the Duty of the Physicians.

It shall be the duty of the Physicians to give their advice and assistance to such sick or maimed persons as may be recommended to their care by the Board of Managers.

ARTICLE XIII.

Of the Duty of the Treasurer.

The Treasurer shall have the custody of the money and other property of the Society. He shall keep an account of the fees and dues that accrue, shall collect the same, and shall keep regular accounts of his receipts and expenditure in suitable books provided for that purpose. He shall at each Quarterly Meeting present an abstract of his accounts, stating the sum received and expended since the previous meeting, and likewise the whole amount received and expended since the previous meeting, and likewise the whole amount received and expended since the previous anniversary festival, and specifying the cash in hand and what may become due before next meeting, that the Society may, if they think proper, take order for the disposition thereof. He shall enter on the books each sum paid by him in consequence of the recommendation of the Board of Managers, and the name of the person to whom the money was paid.
