PRESENT AND NEW BILL AT OPERA HOUSE

If you have not enjoyed a hearty laugh with Marion, the fair and somewhat stout comedienne at the Opera House, do so tonight for it will be your last opportunity. The Apollo Trio, one of the big features on the programme, is an act that is seldom seen on a local stage—act that is seldom seen on a local stage—there are three other good acts as well, also the thirteenth episode of "The Voice on the Wire."

SCHOOL SHOES!

It's time for school shoes again. Remember we guarantee our boys' school shoes to do everything that can be expected of them.—Wiezel's Cash Stores, pected of them.—Wiezel's Cash S on the Wire."

The regular weekly change of programme, coming tomorrow afternoon, offers some good novelties with the Gilfain Trio, international singers, dancers and Irish and Scotch pipers; John O'Malley, the famous Irish tenor; De Marr Sisters, singers, dancers and character change artists; Brodini Bros, instrumentalists and vocalists; Edwards and Beatrice, singers, chatterers and acrobatic dancers; and Billie Burke in the fourteenth chapter of "Gloria's Romance. Two shows as usual tomogrow afternoon at 2 and 3.30—evening always at 7.30 and 9. Same little prices.

THREE MEN HURT WHILE

AT WORK ON NEW SCHOOL

Three men were injured this morning at the new school in Cliff street. They are employes of the contractor, John Flood & Son, and were on a staging doing some masonry work when the woodwork is said to have collapsed and the three fell twelve or fifteen feet. Michael Murphy and Cornell Gallant were rushed to the General Public Hospital and M. Blanchard was taken to the Infirmary. The first mentioned sustained a cut on his head and after receiving treatment was able to proceed to his home, but Mr. Gallant was quite painfully incut on his head and after receiving treatment was able to proceed to his home, but Mr. Gallant was quite painfully injured and it is not known as yet whether or not he was internally hurt. He was badly shaken up and bruised as the result of stones and bricks which were on the staging, falling on him. Mr. Blanchard was quite badly shaken up, but his injuries are not considered as serious.

It had been expected that five students would be enrolled for the camp, but the other four have secured positions in which they are getting practical instructions or will not return to the university. It has been almost twenty years since an engineering camp was omitted.

This state of affairs is directly attributable to the war, young men who or dinarily be at college being in the army. The total attendance at the university is expected to be less than last year when lectures begin at the middle of September.
