FAIRVILLE MILK SITUATION

There is no particular change today in the milk situation so far as Fairville is concerned. Almost every household not only in Fairville but in Milford and surrounding community, it is reported, has been affected, either by reducing their usual order of milk or stopping it altogether. It was said yesterday that some ladies continued their house to house canvass.

QUEENS OF AVALON

The Queens of Avalon of the Fairville Baptist church had a coronation service last evening in the presence of a large number of parents and friends, in the church auditorium. Helen Sims, Vera Howard, Elizabeth McMillan and Gladys Ross were given this third and highest degree of the order. The keynote of the impressive service was responsibility. Church membership is one requirement. The queens were addressed by the pastor. Each gave, in a very pleasing manner, a poem which had been chosen as a motto. The selections given were "Give the Best You Can," "If We Knew," "Kipling," "My Symphony," "Channing," "If I Can Live to Make Some Life Brighter," Helen Hunt Jackson.

EVIDENCE TAKEN ON CHARGE OF PERJURY

In the police court this morning evidence was taken on a perjury charge against Lorenzo Gibb and others yesterday that, when the city detectives entered Vincent Rogers' place in Brussels street on Saturday night last in the course of their duty, they were under the influence of liquor. Police Matron Ross said that early on Sunday morning while attending to some women prisoners brought to the station by the detectives she had conversations with both Barrett and Briggs. They were both nervous, sober and there was no sign of liquor on them. Chief of Police Simpson testified that he gave verbal instructions to the two detectives on Saturday night about eight p. m. He saw them again between ten and eleven of the same evening and also at two a. m. Sunday. They were both sober and there was absolutely no sign of liquor. It is the intention of the detectives to call Sergeant Rankine and Policeman Fitzpatrick who were with them when they visited Rogers. Rev. W. R. Robinson will also be called.

LOCAL AVIATOR BACK TO CITY

Roydon Foley Says He Proposes to Establish School of Flying Here

Roydon Foley, of this city, who has been in the United States for the last few months in the employ of the U. S. government as an aerial expert, and who also took part recently in aerial activities there in Philadelphia, returned to the city today. Speaking of his trip, he said that he went to the states with the object, to ascertain just how the facilities in St. John were for a flying school, compared with those in the states, and I came to the conclusion that St. John offers a grand opportunity for both land flying and sea flying. "I have offered my services to the Canadian government," said Mr. Foley, "but as yet have not a reply, but feel sure that I shall."

What Mr. Foley intends to do is to have a flying school in St. John. If the government wishes to conduct the school, Mr. Foley said, that he would only be too glad, but whether or not the government takes up with the proposition, he intends to start one about April 1. Five machines will be required.

At present in Canada there is only one school, that is in Toronto, and it is always filled. Some St. John boys are attending schools in the states.

In speaking of a good place for a school, he was of the opinion that Courtenay boy flats would be an excellent location. Mr. Foley, while in the states, was experimenting with the automatic control of a machine, which in time, he says, will be the universal way. Mr. Foley is a graduate of the Pratt Institute at Brooklyn, and has had six years experience in flying. He is a member of the Aerial Club of America.

LLOYD GEORGE MAY HAVE CABINET TOGETHER IN COURSE OF DAY OR TWO

following in the House of Commons and no party machine to help him, whilst the situation of affairs whether at home or abroad, is not by any means cheerful. But the very boldness of the enterprise may win the sympathy of the British democracy in which case lack of support from the party machines will be immaterial.

There is a consensus of opinion among political correspondents that the principal Unionist statesmen will be willing to help the new prime minister, but that war government assistance from his old Liberal colleagues, who, according to the Times, are resolved to support Mr. Asquith through thick and thin.

The attitude of Labor is much canvassed and Lloyd-George's friends in the press say that reports of Labor's hostility are exaggerated. Some go so far as to say that the position that the Laborites will finally adopt toward the new premier are as yet unknown outside their own caucus and may not yet have been decided upon.

Purely War Cabinet?

The Liberal Daily Chronicle says if Lloyd George succeeds in forming a government, the cabinet will consist of not more than a half dozen men who will constitute a war cabinet and a war council in one and that all the other ministers will be outside the cabinet.

Lloyd George's objects, says the Chronicle, is to form not a coalition representing the old or new party, but a government with complete consensus. The newspaper, also Laborites, to whose co-operation the greatest importance is attached. The Chronicle says that Lloyd George doubtless would like to include an Irish Nationalist in the cabinet but that the situation of the home race controversy forbids it.

Seeks Labor Support

London, Dec. 7.—David Lloyd George, the new premier, has opened negotiations with the Labor party, with a view to securing its support in co-operation.

A meeting of the party was held this morning at which regret was expressed at the resignation of Mr. Asquith as premier. It was decided, however, to support any government pledged vigorously to prosecute the war and in which Labor was adequately represented.

The opinion is expressed that not fewer than three labor members will be included in the cabinet. The labor members have been invited to meet Mr. Lloyd George at the war office to discuss the matter.

German Views

Amsterdam, Dec. 7.—The resignation of Premier Asquith clears the sun, according to the Koelische Zeitung, commenting on the English political crisis, the paper says:

The enemy's last forces will now be brought into the field and when they, like the others, have hurled themselves vainly against the strength of Germany, we shall find England ready for an honest peace.

The Cologne Volks Zeitung says that the Germans can view political events in England with complete composure.

"The leading man," it says, "in the most powerful of the enemy countries confirms, by his resignation, the failure of the war policy hitherto followed by the Entente. If the strong men in England now come into power this can only please us for it gives the hope that a decision will come all the earlier."

JOSEPH H. WRAN DEAD

Moncton, Dec. 7.—Joseph H. Wran died last night at the home of his son-in-law, E. J. Thompson of Lewisville. He was 78 years of age, was born in Chichester, England, and came to Canada forty-four years ago. He first settled in St. John and came to Moncton a year later and joined the staff of the government railway shop. He retired in 1914. He was foreman of the copper, tin and water department of the L. C. R.

Mr. Wran was an active member of St. George's Church of England and Westminster Lodge of K. P. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Joseph G. of the L. C. R. offices, Moncton, and Thomas, a druggist, of Campbellton; and two daughters, Mrs. William Capson of Moncton, and Mrs. E. J. Thompson of Lewisville. The late Mrs. Murdoch McLeod and Mrs. J. W. Whiteside of Moncton were daughters.
