

TWO TRADEDIES STIR ST. STEPHEN

J. W. Densmore Drowned by Capsizing of Canoe on St. Croix Yesterday Afternoon.

Immense Crowd Follow Body of Galen Love to Grave--Particulars of Accident.

Special to The Standard. St. Stephen, Oct. 23.—A sad drowning accident occurred in the River just above here this afternoon. John Armstrong and John W. Densmore, both of Milltown, were in a rowboat just below the dam at the Union mills when the little craft was upset by the shifting of some ballast.

Mr. Densmore was about forty-eight years of age and unmarried but leaves an aged mother and an adopted daughter, a little orphan whom they took into their home about two years ago. He was prominently identified with the A. O. H., and was esteemed by a large circle of friends. He was employed as a loom fixer in the cotton mill.

The body was found this evening. It will be taken to Chamcook, near St. Andrews, on Tuesday for burial. Galen Love's Death.

All that was mortal of the late Galen Love was laid to rest in the rural cemetery this afternoon, the funeral procession being the largest that has been seen here for many years, all classes, creeds and conditions of men, women and young people uniting to pass a last tribute of esteem to a worthy young citizen.

Galen Love was the second son of Hugh and the late Rose Love, and was twenty-four years of age. When only sixteen years of age he played with the champion hockey team of the Thistle Athletic Association, and during the past summer had played with the Thistle baseball team, being the only local man retained on the team to the close of the season. He was a good athlete, a clean sport and a worthy young Canadian.

Only last Monday morning he left here for McAdam to enter the employ of the Canadian Pacific as a brakeman. He was on his second run and, Friday night, was with a freight train at Birchwood, forty miles north of Woodstock. The train was picking up cars at that station, and the first attempt to attach the engine to the cars was not successful. Mr. Seelye, an older brakeman, told young Love to go back into the caboose and that he would make the coupling.

The engine drew ahead, and for some unaccountable reason young Love attempted to cross the tracks between the engine and car. The engine came back sooner than he could have anticipated, caught the young man, a projection penetrating his body and causing instant death. When Mr. Seelye, who was on the tender of the engine, looked down to see why the coupling had not been made, he was horrified to see the young man, whom he thought was on his way to the caboose, pinned in the narrow space. When the train men made examination it was found that life was extinct.

Captain Sol at Halifax. Veteran Gloucester Skipper Sails Into Port With Cargo of Mackerel Worth $3,000—Sails Again For Grounds.

Special to The Standard. Halifax, Oct. 23.—Captain Sol Jacobs, the veteran mackerel catcher of Gloucester, arrived in port Saturday night for shelter and spent today in Halifax. Captain Sol is not a frequent visitor to Halifax and his many friends along the waterfront were glad to see him. His schooner is the George, and is a trim looking craft.

Captain Jacobs reports having on board one hundred and fifteen barrels of mackerel valued at $3,000. Large schools of mackerel were seen off this port Friday, but the weather was so rough that it was impossible to lower the seines. After entering and clearing at the customs house, the George sailed again for the fishing grounds. Capt. J. A. McKeasy is agent for the owner.

WIND BOTHERS THE AVIATORS

JAMES GORDON BENNETT, Donor of Important Cup.

Only Birdmen Who Attempted to Fly at International Meet Came To Grief Yesterday—Frenchmen Dissatisfied.

New York, Oct. 23.—There were two smashups, no flights and 7,500 disappointed spectators at the second day of the international aviation meet at Belmont Park, Long Island. The wind was so veering that only two aviators, Grahame White and Moissant cared to dare it and both came to grief, though without personal injury. But much as the management regretted sending away a good crowd, it was more concerned with the dissatisfaction of the three French aviators entered for the Gordon Bennett race.

Father Hears of Dr. Crippen. Aged Parent of Man Under Sentence of Death, Still Believes in His Innocence—Nearly Penniless.

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 23.—"My son is innocent, even though he stands convicted, and I believe his wife Belle Elmore is living somewhere in the United States," Myron C. Crippen, father of the physician sentenced yesterday in London to be hanged, made this statement when the news was broken to him here. It was apparent that the aged man has small hope of the course of the law being changed. In his hour of sorrow, however, he referred with pride to the early life of his son.

He said that as a child, "Harvey" had an unusual mind—that in his desire for music when his parents would not permit him to indulge his artistic taste, he made his own violin and that at an early age he had entered the office of a physician at San Jose California, and received the rudiment of a medical education which was completed at Ann Harbor, Mich.

Mr. Crippen is practically penniless. (See also page 2.)

RECIPROCITY NOT WANTED IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Premier Hazen Interviewed at Toronto, Says There is No Feeling in Favor in This Province.

Special to The Standard. Toronto, Oct. 23.—Premier J. D. Hazen, of New Brunswick took a firm stand against reciprocity in an interview today. "I can find no strong feeling in my own province nor anywhere else in Canada in favor of reciprocity with the United States," he said.

"In my own province there are a few natural products that we might derive benefit from, if a reduction in the tariff was secured, but we do not for a moment believe that the United States will be satisfied with reciprocity in natural products alone."

"They will demand more favorable conditions for their manufactures and the result of this could hardly fail to injure Canadian interests."

R.R. WRECK AT SOMERSWORTH

Frank Garland Killed and Several Injured in Boston and Maine Smashup—Inquiry Behind Closed Doors.

Somersworth, N. H., Oct. 23.—An official investigation of the head-on collision here last night, which resulted in the death of one and injury to several was started today by the officials of the Boston and Maine Railroad. The wreckers, who worked the greater part of the night last night, made no effort to haul away the damaged engines or cars, but simply ran them onto a siding, where they might be viewed by the railroad officials.

Today William Merritt, Superintendent of the Portland Division of the road, and his assistant, Henry S. Cunnell, came here from Boston and spent considerable time in a personal inspection of the rolling stock and in viewing the scene of the accident, and its surroundings. Neither would make any statement.

Tomorrow the investigation will be taken up behind closed doors in the offices of the officials in Boston, and it is understood that several of the train's hands who were on one or other of the trains which collided, the White Mountain Express, and the Rollingsford-Somersworth local, have been asked to appear. Arrangements were completed today for the funeral of Frank Garland, the victim of the wreck. It will be held on Tuesday.

CONFERENCE TO BE HELD LATER

SENSATIONAL BAPTIST REPLY TO FR. VAUGHAN

Ministers Making Report of Grand Ligne Mission Board Ridicules Eucharistic Congress and Noted Priest.

ARE BAPTISTS THE ONLY PROTESTANTS?

Special to The Standard. Toronto, Oct. 23.—The Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec received the report this morning of the Grande Ligne Mission Board. It was presented by Rev. Dr. E. J. Stobo, who ridiculed the Eucharistic Congress at Montreal.

"I am not afraid of a man like Father Vaughan," said the speaker. "I fear rather the man who tries to minimize the differences between Romanist and Protestant."

"I am grateful to Father Vaughan," he went on, "for that sermon of his on the mass. He came out with the ultimatum 'worship the cracker or go to perdition.' We won't worship the cracker and by the grace of God and the sacrifice of Jesus Christ we will escape perdition."

"I have been told by friends in the Roman Catholic clergy that they regard the Baptists as the only logical Protestant sect, the others having derived a great deal of authority from the Church of Rome."

The Roman Catholics fear the Baptists, but thank God we do not fear Rome. I think we already see signs of the real downfall of Romanism, so let us push the work of evangelization among our French Canadian brothers."

A. A. Ayer in seconding the report said he would like to see all the Protestants of Canada carry the open Bible through the streets of Montreal next year to offset the effects of the eucharistic procession this year.

Prospering on C. P. R. Farms. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy Waited Upon By Delegation of English Farmers—Offers Cup For Competitor.

Calgary, Alta., Oct. 23.—During the visit of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., yesterday to Strathmore in the Irrigation block, he was waited upon by Hal Carleton, chairman of the committee of the first English colony which was brought out last spring to occupy the C. P. R. ready made farms.

Mr. Carleton presented Sir Thomas with a unanimous resolution passed by the colony conveying their thanks for the many kindnesses that they had received at the hands of the C. P. R. and saying that having spent the first season on their farms they were eminently satisfied and felt certain that they were going to make successful and prosperous homes.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy informed Mr. Carleton that he was prepared to give a handsome cup for competition in the colony next season, this cup to be presented to the colonist who had the best cultivated farm, the decision to be given by a committee of the colonists themselves. Mr. Carleton is leaving for Great Britain and is authorized by the colonists to convey a message to the farmers for Great Britain that they cannot do better than accept the invitation of the C. P. R. to come to Alberta and occupy ready made farms as it offers them a magnificent opportunity of becoming land owners at a low cost with every prospect of success.

Provincial Premiers Decide to Hold Further Consultation Before Presenting Case.

Hon. Messrs. Hazen and Haszard Bring Up Matter Federal Representation.

Special to The Standard. Toronto, Oct. 23.—The interprovincial conference which took place at the Parliament buildings today, is the forerunner of one to be held at which the provincial premiers will attend. Two premiers, Hon. J. D. Hazen, of New Brunswick and Hon. F. L. Haszard, of Prince Edward Island, were among the representatives who met Sir James P. Whitney and Hon. J. J. Foy today.

In addition to discussing the legal questions at issue between the provinces and the Dominion, the question of provincial representation in the House of Commons was also discussed. According to a statement given out this afternoon by E. Bayley, K. C., solicitor to the attorney general and who acted as secretary of the conference, "The question of the representation of the different provinces in the House of Commons was brought forward by the representatives present from the Maritime Provinces and their views were presented, argued and discussed."

"A further conference will probably take place at a future date when the premiers of the other provinces may be expected to be present."

Discuss Supreme Court. Much of the discussion today was upon the action of the supreme court in deciding that it would pass upon certain questions submitted to it by the federal government, matters in dispute between the federal and provincial governments.

This tribunal has held in spite of the objections of the provinces that it is competent to pass upon the questions though they arise under the British North America Act. The delegates discussed the advisability of appealing from the order of the Supreme Court upon this question raised as to its own jurisdiction.

The discussion was informal and some of the representatives desired to communicate further with their respective governments. It is understood that the result will be that an appeal will be taken to the privy council by at least some of the provinces.
