PENDITURES OF $17,000,000 TO BE MADE IN ONTARIO

ording to the Estimates Brought Down in the Budget Speech Yesterday.

ronto, April 13.—The Budget was laid down in the legislature this morning by Hon. Peter Smith, Provincial Treasurer. The estimates will show the expenditure of the province to be in the neighborhood of $17,000,000 including supplementary estimates. When further supplementary estimates are brought down said that they will call for a further expenditure of another $4,000,000.

of the Budget speech delivered in the legislature today by Hon. Peter Smith, Provincial Treasurer.

ome people have said that the estimates did not also reveal the government's policy on the railways. "But for certain reasons we are going to allow it to go on this year, we are going to charge the half tracks, $5,000 a day and the mile $10,000 a day."

increases in succession duties and corporation taxes will also even the deficit of the province. Hon. Mr. Smith stated, without outlining the extent of the increases.

The government has cut capital expenditures wherever possible," the Provincial Treasurer declared. "We must reduce much on public institutions or on education. If anything, we should increase on the latter."

on, Mr. Smith expressed regret at the late government had done away with the one mill war tax during that continuance of the tax would have been a disaster. He said that he had to meet the requirements of re-establishment of the armed soldiers.

With reference to the deficit of $4,000,000 shown in the public accounts for 1919, the Minister stated that he followed the book-keeping system of the late government. He said that the deficit was due to a deficit of only $235,513, had, however, introduced certain changes in the system and had credited to "capital revenue" a portion of receipts from the Department of Lands and Forests as well as other sources which in former years were used as "ordinary revenue."

The province is assuming, in connection with the teachers' superannuation fund, the Treasurer continued, a liability which is likely to grow rapidly in the next few years.

"Today," he declared, "the government were to pay to the money by way of a fund, it would cost us a little over a million and a half dollars."

Ontario's total receipts for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1920, will be $20,101,273.83, according to the estimates submitted by Hon. Mr. Smith. Ordinary expenditure for the year is estimated at $17,044,330.33, while capital expenditures brings the total up to $17,532,830.33, which leaves a surplus of approximately $2,568,443.50.

Further supplementary estimates to be brought down later in the session will consume between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 of this amount.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL SEASON WILL OPEN TODAY

Seven National and American Circuit Cities Will See the Grand Old Game This Afternoon, Weather Permitting—Special Arrangements to Celebrate the Beginning of the 1920 Season.

Major League baseball teams open the season in seven National and American circuit cities today, weather permitting, in the initial games of what is to be one of the best pennant contests in the history of professional organizations.

Forecast indicate fair and colder weather with high winds for a majority of the baseball parks, but this will hardly check the enthusiasm of baseball fans judging from reports of advance reservations, sales at all the cities involved.

According to the schedules of the two leagues, there will be opening games in two eastern and two western cities of each circuit today and the visiting teams will, in turn, open the season at their own ball parks on April 23.

In the National League, Pittsburgh will play at St. Louis; Chicago at Cincinnati; Philadelphia at Brooklyn and Boston at New York.

The American League programme calls for New York at Philadelphia, Washington at Boston; St. Louis at Cleveland and Detroit at Chicago.

In every case special arrangements have been made to celebrate the beginning of another baseball season in which parades of the players, flag raising, band concerts, and the throwing out of the first ball by prominent state or city officials, will form a prominent part.

Analysis of the strength of the various teams on the eve of the pennant race appears to indicate that there will be several changes in the standing of the clubs at the close of the first month of the season as compared with that of a year ago. While it will be fully a month before any accurate line can be obtained upon the real strength of the teams, it would appear from the form displayed in spring practice that they can be grouped generally at this time as follows:

National League
Brooklyn, Chicago and Philadelphia clubs appear to be stronger than last season while New York, Pittsburgh and St. Louis are about equal in playing strength to the form shown early in 1919.

Boston as a Cincinnati are not judged to be as strong as the case last spring, according to close followers of baseball.

American League
Philadelphia, Washington, New York and Cleveland are all expected to play a more impressive game this season than was shown respectively last year.

St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit are classed as equal to their power of 1919, while Boston falls below the form of 1919.

All Prize Fighters Not Ugly Looking

Carpentier, Leonard, Kilbane, Wilde, Mason, Britt, Thomas, Ketchell, Erne, Lavigne, Ritchie, Lewis, Erle, Wells and Corbett, Are Fine Looking Men.

When Georges Carpentier arrived in America to box Dempsey the people at the pier were accorded a surprise. Georges looks anything but a fighter.

Although Carpentier has been in the ring since he was twelve years old, and experienced many long, hard battles, he does not carry a mark. There is nothing of the popular conception of a prizefighter about him.

He bears none of the "war-marks" of his trade. He is a handsome, clean-cut gentleman—looking more fit to pose for a collar and tie than to mix it in the ring.

If you ran across him of an evening—immaculately attired in evening dress—you would find it doubly difficult to believe that he was the man who has been knocking them dead with his fists for the last fourteen years.

There is Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, who would be taken for a bank clerk more often than a professional prizefighter. Leonard carries no cauliflower ears, smashed eyes, or broken nose. He is just a quiet, well-behaved young man who makes his living by the skill of his hands.

Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, is clean-cut and intelligent. Recently he ran for office in his home town of Cleveland and polled a big vote. All that has to show for a long career inside the ropes is a pleasant smile—and a bank roll.

Little Jimmy Wilde, the king of the little fellows, looks more like a choir boy than a prize fighter.

Frankie Mason, his next opponent, is the sporting editor of a newspaper and gives no facial indication of many years in the ring.

Jimmy Britt—one of the very best fifteen years ago. A kid glove fits his hand as well as a boxing glove. He wore the best of clothes—silk topper and all—much to the disgust of his old schoolmate, Ted, and his celebrated opponent Battling Nelson. Nelson alluded to Britt as the "Dude" and was much chagrined to lose several battles to him.

Britt stripped without the sign of a muscle on his smooth body. Yet what he lacked physically, he made up mentally—being one of the most intelligent fighters ever in the game. He whipped the tough guys, such as Battling Nelson, Willie Fitzgerald, Martin Canale, Young Corbett and Charles Sieger. He is on the stage today, a successful little gentleman.

Joe Thomas and Stanley Ketchell were two of the handsomest men ever in a ring, yet they met in one of the greatest battles ever fought. It lasted thirty-two rounds before Thomas was beaten down to stay.

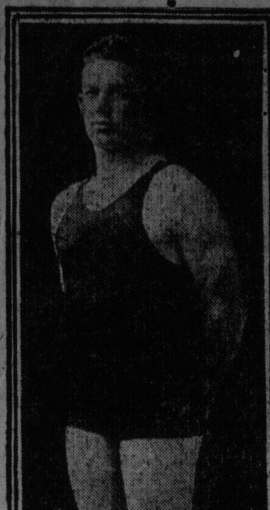

Frank Erne, once champion of the world, is another neat appearing little man. Kid Lavigne, another champion and a terror, looked like a nice quiet little blue-eyed boy. While Ritchie even attended college while he was champion, Johnny Erle—the "Kewpie"—looks like a baby. The Mitchell boys, from Milwaukee, are two fine appearing young men. Willie Lewis is still handsome after sixteen years of hard battling against tough men. Bombardeo Wells has lost none of his good looks despite the many K. O.'s that have landed on his nose.

And James J. Corbett was called "Gentleman Jim."

SHOES COST TOO MUCH.

There was no parade of the elephants and the big Hippodrome organization in New York this year to mark the fifteenth anniversary of the Hippodrome opening. One reason given is the high cost of shoes.

AMERICAN MEN SWIMMERS THE FASTEST IN THE WORLD, WITH WOMEN CLOSE SECOND

FRANCES COVILLE SCHROTH

LIEUT. NORMAN ROSS

States are the best in the world. This is certainly true of the sterner sex, and it is a question if it is not also the case with our women who are adepts in aquatics.

Possibly Fanny Durack and Mina Wylie, the Australian stars, may be able to defeat the best of the fair swimmers, and if they can only adjust their differences with the Amateur Athletic Union some of the most interesting competitions of the year should ensue.

The bone of contention is whether these two young Australian women should be allowed to make a tour of the country with a male manager, George H. Dowling, a Seattle promoter, or be accompanied by a chaperon.

The body governing amateur athletics in the United States frowns on the idea of competitors barnstorming with a manager, as it savors too much of professionalism. It seems to be a case of splitting hairs, however, to distinguish between a chaperon in a case of this kind and a manager. There is no reason why a woman could not act as a manager as well as a man.

At the present time Norman Ross, of California, stands out as prominently as Charles M. Daniels did in his day, when he was easily the world's greatest swimmer. In some respects Ross is even a greater all-around performer.

If present plans materialize, Mrs. Frances Coville Schroth, of San Francisco, champion marmalade of the Pacific coast, will start shortly on a competitive tour.

It is only in the last five years or so that the women swimmers of the United States have shown startling progress. Since the A. A. U. decided to foster women's swimming events there has been a rapid advance. Miss Claire Galligan and Miss Charlotte Boyle have had practically a monopoly on the championships.

Miss Galligan has been in a class by herself from 220 yards up.

CAN NO LONGER HAVE THE OLD BOAT HOUSE

Historic College Boat House on Banks of Schuylkill Has Been Picturesque Landmark Since 1872, is in Damaged Condition.

Philadelphia, April 8.—The historic College Boat House, on the banks of the Schuylkill river, can no longer be used by the University of Pennsylvania oarsmen because of its damaged condition.

Since 1872, it has been a picturesque landmark. It is contemporary with the birth of rowing at the University.

Time has laid a heavy hand on the ancient structure, according to University of Pennsylvania rowing authorities. For the last five years, it has struggled against the ravages of the elements, but this winter the storms caused a portion of its walls to collapse.

Repairing is out of the question, since the whole wall is shaky, and stones have fallen on the inside, causing considerable damage to the shells and barges stored there for the winter months.

The College Boat Club was organized as part of the Schuylkill Navy, and the boat house was built a short time after. "Captain" John Smith, who has guarded the University of Pennsylvania shells for 25 years, looks upon the structure as a "ghost of the past."

The graduates advisory committee at the University of Pennsylvania is responsible for placing Dr. Whelan in supreme command of the boat house.

From the point of view of the boat house, the graduates advisory committee is responsible for placing Dr. Whelan in supreme command of the boat house.

Although Dr. Whelan has announced officially that his professional practice as a physician must take precedence over his athletic duties, he will surely do a lot of coaching. He has already issued an appeal that at least 400 men report for track and that he will give personal attention to every man who does come to the field no matter how awkward or inexperienced he may appear.

Naturally enough Dr. Whelan cannot accomplish this in a half hour or an hour a day. Pooch Donovan will be nominally track coach. As a trainer of men there is no better man alive than Dr. Whelan could have been secured to direct Harvard athletics. He accomplished some wonderful things as a track coach at Volkman School, but aside from his own ability in college as a shot putter and broad jumper he has had little else to recommend him as a track coach.

Dr. Whelan has a wonderful opportunity to furnish Harvard with a successful track system if the graduates give him sufficient opportunity for building up an organization. The effort cannot be accomplished overnight. It will take time, and must be started at the very bottom of the building. Whelan is promised every possible assistance, and both Pooch Donovan and Eddie Farrell have assured him of their hearty cooperation.

Three protectionists registered at the central police station last night, and six guests of the city were sheltered from the elements.

Bill Sharon Has Been Sold

Speedy Youngster Raised from Colt by Sam Boyle of Fredericton, Goes to Archie Alcoine of Boistown for $3,500.

Fredericton, N. B., April 13.—"Bill Sharon," the speedy youngster was reported today to have been purchased by Archie Alcoine of Boistown for $3,500.

Bill Sharon is supposed to be the greatest piece of horseflesh in the province for his age. He is about five years old and got a record last year of 1:17, and can beat that mark by ten seconds or better.

Sam Boyle of Fredericton who made the sale raised "Bill Sharon" from a colt and has only raced the horse in Chatham and Fredericton and the new owner expects that something will transpire this coming season as he intends to race the horse in all parts of the Maritime Provinces.

CHANCES OF GIANTS
Depends on Infield Experiment of Manager McGraw.

New York, April 12.—The chances of the Giants in the 1920 pennant race will depend entirely on how Manager McGraw's infield experiment turns out. With a pitching staff, catching department and outfield which ranks with the best in the league, it is the infield which must bear the brunt of the blame if the Giants fail to come through during the coming season.

Upon George Kelly's ability to play first base in big league style and on Larry Doyle's physical condition, have been the keys to the season largely depends. Kelly has been up in the major leagues more than once before, but each time he was not used regularly, and his work as a pinch hitter was not of marked success. However, he had thorough seasoning last year in the International League, where he attained high ranking as a batsman.

He joined the Giants late last season, and for a time he was unable to hit. Toward the end of the season, however, he hit his stride, and when the season ended he was batting at a .300 clip.

SCREEN TO EDUCATE PEOPLE OF SERBIA
Throughout Serbia there are few moving picture houses. This is an art that has not yet been generally introduced to that country. In Belgrade and a few other larger cities cinematograph companies have set up their machines. Recently Famous Players has taken out a license from the Serbian Board of Trade.

Motion pictures are utilized by the Serbian Child Welfare Association of America, through its National Birth-day Committee, New York, to show Serbian families how approved scientific methods require up-to-date methods.

The greatest difficulty has been to procure electric current in some of the small outlying towns. The Red Cross has solved this problem by sending to projector in an auto truck which is touring the country in the interests of better health.

Conditions of Golf Championships

New York Authorities Receive Copies of Condition Governing British Open, and Amateur Championships of 1920.

New York, April 10.—(The Associated Press.)—Local golf authorities have received copies of the conditions governing the British open and amateur golf championships of 1920 which were adopted at a recent meeting of the Championship Committee held at St. Andrews, Scotland. As the United States will be represented by amateur and professional players in these contests some of the announcements will be of interest to American golfers.

It was unanimously decided that the amateur championship be played by holes, at Muirfield, Scotland, commencing on Tuesday, June 22, the championship trophy and four medals being the prizes. The entrance fee must be paid by the competitors each entry and all competitors must enter through the secretaries of their respective clubs. All entries must reach the secretary of the Championship Committee not later than Saturday, May 22.

If there are more than 128 entrants the Committee has arranged to have elimination rounds by holes, played over links adjacent to the championship course at Muirfield on Thursday and Friday June 3 and 4 or both, in order to reduce the number of players to 128. At the conclusion of the elimination play a fresh draw is to be made. In the event of a halved match, in any round, the competitors shall continue to play until one or the other shall have gained a hole when the match shall be considered won. The winner of the tournament shall be the champion amateur golfer for that year and the trophy shall be held for that year by the club from which the winner shall have entered. The winner shall receive a gold medal and a silver medal will be awarded to the runner up and each of the other semi-finalists will be presented with a bronze medal.

The competition for the championship Challenge Trophy, open to all golfers, will be played over the links of the Royal Claque Ports Club, Deal, England, on June 30 and July 1, and, if any, will be played off on July 2. OLYMPIC MARATHON Course for Race Has Been Decided On.

Antwerp, April 12.—The course for the Olympic Marathon race, the principal individual event of the Olympic games, has been officially selected, and promises an excellent test for the long distance runners of the world.

The start of the race will be made for August 21 or 22, will be made from the Royal palace at Laeken, just outside of Brussels, and the finish will be made in the Olympic stadium at Antwerp. The distance will be 26.65 miles including the final laps over the stadium track proper.

Leaving Laeken the runners will follow a little more road from the palace for a kilometer making a detour which will bring them to the main highway between Brussels and Antwerp. This road is almost as level as a table, and leads through five or six small villages as well as the large hill of not more than 10 per cent grade near Malines, and this is the only obstacle which the competitors will have to surmount during the race.

All traffic will be stopped during the race, and the course will be well guarded.
