

genuine Cutter and Weiss razors received a shipment of these razors handle, 5-8 in. blade. Double, 5-8 in. blade.

WILSON'S- 11-17 King St.

LEAKING? WILL FIX IT. or send us a card. St. John, N. B.

and Machine Works, Ltd. and Machinists. Phone West 598. C. H. WARING, Manager.

ATES and RIVETS R HOOKS LEATHER Balata Belting LIMITED MANUFACTURERS

ELECTRIC LAMP to help with night studies, assortment. ELECTRIC CO., Main Street. Manager

YOU CAN USE FACTORY HARDWOOD FLOORING In rooms where spruce is now used. This, with the clear grain in the halls and parlors, gives you hardwood floors throughout. Try a room now. Phone Main 1893.

The Christie Wood-working Co., Ltd. 186 Erin Street.

Oysters, Clams, Halibut, Mackerel, Salmon, Haddock, Cod, Salt Shad. SMITH'S FISH MARKET

DURING RECENT YEARS We were obliged to turn away many prospective students for want of space for expansion.

S. KERR, Principal.

The Associated Charities Annual

Lengthy Report of Secretary Shows Much Work Accomplished—Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the Associated Charities was held yesterday afternoon at the Board of Trade rooms, W. S. Fisher, president, in the chair.

The treasurer reported receipts of $1,417.91; expenditures of $1,968.22, leaving a balance on hand of $369.69.

The election of officers and board of management resulted as follows: W. S. Fisher, president; Mrs. George F. Smith, Mrs. F. A. Davidson, J. Hunter White, Rev. David Hutchinson, vice-presidents; William Young, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Walker, Mrs. F. E. Marvin, Mrs. F. L. Fyfe, E. L. Rising, G. Robinson, A. M. Bolding, members of board of management.

The report of Miss Grace O. Robertson, covering the work of the year was read and adopted.

At this, the 22nd annual meeting of the Associated Charities, I beg to submit a report of the work done during the year.

There were eight board meetings and fifteen conferences held. At these conferences the ladies of the board met with the secretary and dealt with all the cases which come before the society.

We received 1,504 applications of various kinds; 343 were seeking employment; 183 were seeking relief; 51 were seeking transportation; 5 women were asking to have their children adopted; requests from employers in the city, 163; requests from employers out of the city, 198; requests for women by the day, 156; requests for maids, 108; requests for housekeepers, 6; requests for experienced nurses, 11; requests for clothing, 57; requests for records, 116; proving unworthy of assistance, 11; employment was found for, 224; recommended to employers, 265; relief was procured for 167; visits made, 902; cases investigated, 108; clothing was given to 54; not to be found at given addresses, 18; 11 men were sent where they obtained night lodgings; 5 were sent where they obtained transportation.

The existence of this society, the work which it does, the service it renders, is made possible only by the voluntary contributions of its friends, and to all of these we want to thank you for your untiring generosity and kindness. As one has said, true charity is a social physician ministering to the ill of the body social. As in the practice of medicine emergency aid is often necessary at once to relieve pain, so first aid must often be rendered at once to many families. The Associated Charities maintains an emergency fund for instant use in case of need. We are not primarily a relief society, but an organization for obtaining relief from the proper source after investigation.

During the past year we have sent emergency relief to many families. Sickness remains the greatest single factor, causing dependency among the families we have dealt with. Unemployment is another cause of much of the poverty and distress. With the high prices of the past few years not many who have come to us have had an abnormal wage and could do more than make ends meet, and those who saved during this time have reached the end of their resources. Men with families with six or eight children unable to find work are coming to us; children have had to be kept from school so the mothers could go out for a day's work while the fathers looked for employment. Every sort of human misery, from the wreck of homes to the underfeeding of children follows in the wake of unemployment. The only effective remedy for unemployment is employment, and in this the social worker is helpless. Our experience for the most part is that men want work and want it badly.

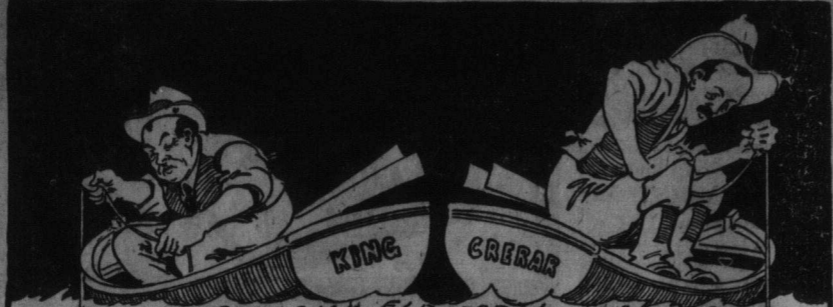

Our thanks are due to our friendly visitors who have so kindly assisted us with the work, and might we again appeal for more volunteers for the Associated Charities in this work. If you have time to give personal service of this kind, notify us and we will introduce you to some family that needs your help. To see the family in the home gives the visitor a better chance to get acquainted with, and above all to be a friend to the family for whom she has become a friend, she is in a position to help and give advice. We cannot deal with human nature in a wholesale way. It is the personal contact that counts, having the sense of sympathy to win the friendship and guide wisely those who are not only material but who are as varied as humanity itself. In many cases there is no need of financial help but rather of a social help, suitable employment, education in home keeping and encouragement in the face of overwhelming difficulties.

Again we wish to thank the numerous churches, organizations and individuals who supplied dinners to over 60 families at Christmas, and also a number of citizens who sent the secretary generous gifts of money to be expended by her for Christmas cheer among the families of the worthy poor; a number would otherwise have been left out, we were able to send loads of coal, groceries and clothing so many, it means so much for them to be remembered by friends at this season.

Again, as in the past few years, a young man of our city asked for a list of names to whom he wanted to send dinners. We collected and took a substantial dinners and groceries was not only the gifts that counted for so much, but was the personal service.

A manager of one of our lodges

THE WISE FISH

THEY TAKE ME FOR A SUCKER - HA, HA!

1,100,000 INDIA VOLUNTEERS WAIT DISOBEDIENCE REVOLT

All-India Congress Votes Adherence to Policy of Non-cooperation—Proclamation of Independence is Looked for Within Fortnight.

Delhi, India, Nov. 5. (Associated Press.)—The All-India Congress committee, consisting of two hundred delegates, after long discussion of the political situation and the imprisonment of the All-India Congress, today adopted a resolution, with only seven dissenting votes, adhering to the policy of "civil disobedience" including non-payment of taxes and complete non-cooperation.

Gandhi, the National leader, emphasized the seriousness of the proposed non-violent revolution and urged a warning against adopting the measure in a light-hearted manner. He also fore-shadowed the starting of the disobedience movement in the Gujarat district within a fortnight.

During the past year we have sent emergency relief to many families. Sickness remains the greatest single factor, causing dependency among the families we have dealt with. Unemployment is another cause of much of the poverty and distress.

During the past year we have sent emergency relief to many families. Sickness remains the greatest single factor, causing dependency among the families we have dealt with.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children In Use For Over 30 Years

SUES FOR TWO NIGHTS SPENT WITH MANIAC

Plaintiff Asking $25,000 from Ship's Owners, Says Room-mate Dived Overboard.

New York, Nov. 6.—The notion that the life of a passenger in a modern steamship approximates life in a luxurious hotel except that hotels do not float is controverted by Emil Goldberg, a plaintiff in the Supreme Court who filed a suit against the Baltic American Line yesterday, in which he asks $25,000 recompense.

His complaint sets forth that he took passage on board the Estonia of the defendant steamship line on June 23 of this year, and at the end of the first day of the voyage repaired to the stateroom he had engaged and found a mother and her child asleep there. He complained to the head steward and then the purser, and ultimately was assigned to another room. He climbed into the berth and pulled the coverlet to his chin. Then the door was flung open and a wild-eyed man stalked in.

The stranger, according to Goldberg, looked the door and put the key in his pocket, snuffed blandly and produced a formidable knife. Explaining to Goldberg that the police were after him, he looked at Goldberg and seemed to make up his mind about something. Presently he and Goldberg were rolling about the stateroom floor, the stranger beating a tattoo on Goldberg's skull with the handle of the knife and occasionally inserting the point of it into his flesh. Ultimately the lock on the door gave way, and Goldberg rolled into the corridor and all but under the foot of a ship's officer.

Goldberg insists that he received no aid or comfort that night, beyond a general assurance that he must be mistaken about his roommate. At all events he slept in the ship bar. On the following night he went back again to the stateroom which he and the maniac shared in common. He found his roommate to be in a state of vivacity which left his behavior of the preceding night pale and only vaguely interesting. By morning, after the madman had worked his will, Goldberg had lost teeth as well as sleep. Hunting up a ship's officer as soon as he could crawl, he insisted that he and his roommate be separated and for good.

The maniac, he declares, and not some one in authority on the vessel, brought him succor from this final situation, for later in the morning the man went to the stern rail, took a good, hard look at the ocean and dived in and stayed.

Among the internal and external injuries of which Goldberg complains are nervous dread, anguish and mortification, and doctors' and dentists' bills, which, he insists, are chargeable to the steamship company's negligence, and $25,000 will repay but can never repair him.

Answers To Correspondents: MARTHA—Housework and washing is only an excuse for red and ugly hands I know a great many women who do all their own housework and yet have beautiful white hands. They use, what I use, CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM. It is the most wonderful thing in the world for preventing chapping and redness of the hands. I wouldn't be without it. Keep a bottle of CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM on your bathroom shelf and rub a little on your hands every time you have had them in water to do cleaning. It will soften and whiten them and will protect them from the wear and tear of housework. You can buy CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM at any Drug Store. 40c a large bottle. MARGARET.

THRONGS WILL HONOR UNKNOWN U. S. SOLDIER

Hotels and Railroads Prepare for Pressure Equal to Inaugurations.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—Tremendous crowds are expected to come to Washington the last of next week for the funeral of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery and the opening of the conference on the limitation of armaments. The advance guard of the throng already is at the city but the great influx is anticipated for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

Information received by the railroad companies makes it certain that the series of events will be considered equal to if not greater than the usual inauguration ceremonies. The most spectacular from the public point of view of all the events will be that of November 11 on the occasion of the burial of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington. This will provide something specific for the public to see, a funeral procession that will be spectacular. The crowd intends, of course, to remain over to see what can be seen of the opening of the conference on the following day. In this, however, it is apt to be disappointed for there will be nothing of the spectacular at least so far as the public is concerned. Groups of foreign dignitaries may be seen in passing automobiles, but little more of the spectacular has been made in advance and there is every indication that those who have not already made reservations will have to sleep in the parks. For the most part, however, hotel rates have not increased. The fact that the staffs of the various delegations are housed in the different hotels also has been a contributing feature in making accommodation at a premium. The staffs in most instances are numerically large.

The programme calls for the opening of the ceremonies of Armistice Day at noon at Arlington Cemetery. The coffin bearing the body of the Unknown Soldier will arrive at the cemetery just before that time. The services will take place in the amphitheatre and there are limited accommodations for the crowd. It is expected that the cemetery itself, which occupies the entire estate that one time belonged to Robert E. Lee, will be filled to capacity.

When the services there are at an end the crowds will have another chance to see the distinguished visitors when the President and Mrs. Harding in the afternoon will hold a formal reception at the White House. The delegations may be seen passing in and out of the gates to the grounds of the Executive Mansion.

The police believe that the first few days of the conference will attract the largest crowds, but they anticipate a constant flow of sightseers throughout the time the sessions are in progress. Persons who find the opportunity of visiting in Washington during the time of the meetings are expected to do it, but the throng in the ordinary sense is expected at the start.

GOOD! Because Its Fine Qualities Are Protected by the Sealed Package

Does the Canadian Farmer Realize His Danger? Reciprocity was defeated in 1911 because the Canadian farmer was convinced that any advantage resulting from the trade pact of that date was more than offset by the disadvantage of the fierce competition he would meet in his Home Market from the prosperous and highly specialized farms of the United States.

If that was the attitude of the Canadian farmer towards a free, unhampered exchange of natural products, how much more determined should be his opposition, today, towards the trade policies of the parties led by Messrs. King and Crerar?

Both these parties advocate the admission, duty free, of all foodstuffs; in other words, ALL FARM PRODUCTS. This in spite of the fact that the United States has imposed—and there is no reason to believe that it will not be permanent—a stiff "Emergency Tariff" against Canadian Farm Products. To put it plainly, the United States shuts out our Farm Products by what is practically a Prohibitive Tariff and Messrs. King and Crerar calmly propose to meet this action by admitting, duty free, into Canada All U. S. Farm Products.

We did import, in 1920, $110,000,000 worth of Farm Products from the U. S. What would be the figure if the Tariff Bars were down, say, in 1922?

Consider the new U. S. Tariff rates, Mr. Farmer, and see where you fit.

Table with 3 columns: Old U.S. Customs Rate, New U.S. Customs Rate, and various agricultural products like Potatoes, Apples, Live Cattle, Sheep, Wool, Butter, Milk, Wheat, Flour, Bacon and Hams.

Under ordinary conditions, many Farmers are Protectionists on principle, realizing as they do that the building up of great industrial centres to serve as Home Markets is really their salvation. Blind, indeed, is the farmer who would accept the policy of Free Trade in Food Products under the present conditions.

Mr. A. E. Trites, Farmer candidate in Westmorland, before the Tariff Commission at Moncton, Nov. 10, 1920, stressed strongly the importance of the home market and declared that "No changes should be made in the Customs Tariff which will in any way adversely affect the manufacturing industries which are developing our local market."

Hundreds of farmers all over the country gave the same evidence. These are the men who are standing shoulder to shoulder behind the Meighen Government as the one and only party offering

Safety to the Farmer

(National Liberal and Conservative Party Publicity Committee).

Do not suffer another day with itching, burning, or stinging PILES. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once during the time of the meeting. Dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto and Montreal. If you mail your name and address 2c. stamp to pay postage.