ANNIVERSARY SERVICES AT ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH, CHATHAM.

Rev. Dr. Morison of St. John Was the Preacher at the Reopening Sunday.

Chatham, N. B., Oct. 4.—The fourth anniversary of the re-opening of St. Andrew's church, Chatham, was celebrated yesterday. The Rev. Dr. Morison, of St. John, was the preacher on the occasion, and needless to say he delighted the very large audience who listened to his thrilling, inspiring and appropriate services.

St. Andrew's church is the oldest and one of the most substantial, beautiful and yet most modern looking churches in the province of New Brunswick.

The church is rich in associations, many of the well known public men of the north shore being in its roll of members in the past, and today it is flourishing with life and perhaps more active and wide-awake than ever it was.

B., Oct. 4.—(Special)—Mrs. Minnie Cable, wife of Sydney Cable, who is employed with the Frost & Wood Company, St. John, died very suddenly at her home at Kingsclear, yesterday, from heart failure. She was a daughter of the late Daniel McKinley, and was 33 years of age. Besides a husband she leaves three brothers, two of whom reside in Winnipeg, and one at Elgin, Albert county, and two sisters.

Tornado Kills Two People. Portland, Wis., Oct. 4.—A tornado which visited this section last night tore down many buildings and damaged much property. Mrs. John Fisher was killed, and Mrs. Wood, who was injured, has since died. Much stock was killed and injured, and the farmers are heavy losers.

THE HORSE OUR FARMERS SHOULD RAISE

Interesting Addresses by Duncan Anderson, Rugby, Ontario, and Dr. Twitchell, at the Fredericton Fair.

After the Clydesdale horses had been judged Mr. Anderson retained in copying the government imported station Copyright, owned by Cass Yone, Lakeside River, and addressed a very interesting gathering of horsemen and others. He professed his remarks by stating that, while a doctor, a veterinarian or a lawyer might receive the knowledge requisite for his profession during a college course, a farmer could not do this, and no college could give him the insight into his business necessary to his highest success.

At exhibitions like this there were many instances of men who were going to be good and would call their attention to a few matters in connection with horse breeding that were worth considering.

While the farmer, if properly started, could undoubtedly breed good carriage horses, he should not try to do it with a cold blooded mare. There were a number of good reasons why it was safer and more profitable for a farmer to breed his working horses to a draught sire, than to a horse of the Clydesdale or Shire breed.

Some men thought they could breed driving horses and use them for farm work. His experience was that when driving horses were put at farm work they were pulled down in the neck and other parts of the body, and so their value was much lessened.

A much sired sire was the plan of breeding half-bred Clydesdale or Shire. They will sell to bands of farmers, and are useful for farm work and more sure to make a ready sale at good prices than the lighter horses.

Quality means conformation, a fine skin and good bone structure. The greatest quality is what you get for your money. Do not be misled, mix your breeds, choose the best which you fancy and grade up to that, always using a pure bred sire.

A pure bred sire is more valuable than a grade on account of his progeny or the quality which this security gives him of transmitting his qualities to his offspring.

Do not be afraid to pay a decent service fee for a desirable mare. Learn to be a judge of a desirable horse, too many of our draught stallions are wanted. Thirty dollars worth of feed will give a venter on a horse. Flesh and fat in some people's eyes cover up a multitude of faults. It is bottom that counts, and the best way to follow good feet and legs.

In judging a horse you will begin with his feet, look carefully at them from each side to the knee or before you look any higher. A horse without the best of feet and legs is unfitted for a sire, no matter how handsome his head and body.

Over the frame should be a soft skin covered with short fine hair. While a heavy growth of hair on the legs of a horse is not objection, the hair should be one and silky. Coarse hair indicates coarseness of bone and skin and a tendency to greasy legs and heels.
