ILDERTON MAN IS APPOINTED MANAGER
CLANDEBOYE, Feb. 28.—The directors of Clandeboye Farmers' Co-operative Company, Ltd., have engaged Mr. Zavit of Ilderton as manager of the elevator and crushing mill here. The new manager is expected to take charge early in March, with William Gilmore as assistant.
Before moving to his new home, Mrs. Lewis Kilmer, entertained the members of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church at a tea. After the members spent a pleasant time in discussion of methods and plans for the coming year's work, several gave interesting readings.
A very pretty wedding was celebrated at Moorville, when Miss Vera Simpson and Mr. Boyle were married at the home of Mr. M. Simpson, father of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Boyle started from Clandeboye station on their long journey to the groom's ranch at Moose Jaw, Sask. A party of relatives and friends gathered to see them off.

THE ELECTRIC SWEEPER-VAC
Presented for the first time many years ago, is destined to be a standard favorite, if the way in which it is greeted by a thorough up-to-date, 1931 audience last night, can be taken as a criterion. As presented by the Majestic Players it has been thoroughly modernized and there is not a dull moment in it.
A pleasing feature about the production is that it gives full play to the talents of practically every member of the company. The humor does not rely on one or two characters and for that reason is well sustained and varied so that it carries the audience from one mirth-provoking scene to another without the least possibility of it growing tiresome.

"FORBIDDEN FRUIT"
IS SPLENDID FILM
Prologue Entitled "Midnight Cabaret" Fine Feature of Grand Program.

Luxury, magnificence, wonderful gowns and scenery carried out on a stupendous scale makes "Forbidden Fruit" all this week a masterpiece in film art. "Forbidden Fruit," with Agnes Ayres, Forrest Stanley and Clarence Burton as the three central characters, tells the story of a young woman who is torn between her noble duties to a husband, who is a crook and a gambler, and the love of another worth-while man who crosses her path. The film is replete with pathos and thrills that are of human interest.
Agnes Ayres as Mary Maddock plays the part of a young wife, who to support her husband's employment as a gambler, she has been forced to become a courtesan. Her mistress has arranged an elaborate dinner party. One of the guests invited cannot come, and Mary is asked to take the place of the absentees. Mary's preparation at the hands of the manicurists and hair dressers and costumes is most amusing. She appears at the dinner party and causes a sensation in her wonderful gown. What happens when Mary's husband appears on the scene is another story which is most exciting.
The special feature on the program is a prologue entitled "Midnight Cabaret." This is carried out in a most realistic manner with a jazz orchestra of local musicians and dancers. Miss Marjorie Primie, who possesses a delightful soprano voice, gave several classical selections, and was only after many encores that the audience was satisfied. Bert Caldwell also gave a varied program of songs. Miss Ella Elliott appeared in classical Russian and interpretive dancing, and Hymie Menon played "Humoresque" as a violin solo. All the numbers are excellent, and the setting for the cabaret is good. "The Garage," a comedy featuring Fatty Arbuckle, provides a lot of mirth and completes the program which will be repeated all this week.

AT THE ALLEN
In no picture which has been presented to local patrons of the silver screen has "Forbidden Fruit" been more truly depicted than during the first three days of this week. Allen's Theatre in the De Luxe special picture, "Forbidden Fruit," starring Agnes Ayres, Forrest Stanley and Clarence Burton, the "mother" of "Humoresque."
The remarkable talent for depicting the part of a mother whose sole thought and action is wrapped up in the welfare of her children, which Miss Gordon plays in "Humoresque" is, if possible, still more apparent in this latest production.
The wonderful artistry of her conception of the role grips and holds the audience in its grasp. In a sense that cannot be told in cold type, the picture must be seen to appreciate the wonderful heights and depths to which mother love as depicted by Miss Gordon reaches, or to grasp its reality and all enveloping beauty.
Thrilling drama, lavishly staged and true to the real life of humanity makes the picture one that will long live in the memory of those who see it. The production is supported by a round company which includes the two famous child stars, Colleen and Dorothy. The picture is a Rollin comedy, a beautiful scenic and a vaudeville musical offering, will be presented again today and on Wednesday.

AT THE MAJESTIC
Possessing more laughs in one minute than the average modern production in an hour, "The Private Secretary," as presented by the Majestic Players last night, fairly convulsed the capacity audience. Humorous lines, humorous situations and above all, humorous characters provided one long round of merriment.
"The Private Secretary," although presented for the first time many years ago, is destined to be a standard favorite, if the way in which it is greeted by a thorough up-to-date, 1931 audience last night, can be taken as a criterion. ACTRESS TELLS SECRET
Tells How to Darken Grey Hair with a Home-Made Mixture.
Jolee Williams, the well-known American actress, recently made the following statement about grey hair and how to darken it with a home-made mixture:
"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will gradually darken grey, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of olive oil add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Orlex Compound, and 4 ounce of glycerine.
These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a grey-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky, or greasy, and does not rub off. Advise."
