

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Pleasant Evening Reveries dedicated to tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

AT SET OF SUN.
If we sit down at set of sun,
And count the things that we have done,
And counting, find
One self-dwelling act, one word That eased the heart of him who heard, One glance, one hand,
That felt like sunshine when it went,
Then we may count the day well spent.
But if through all the living day We've eased no heart by any way, If through it all We've done not for that we can trace, That brought the sunshine to a face, No act, no word, no thought,
That helped some soul and nothing cost, Then count that day as waste and loss.

One active beech nut, given a chance, Will result in a forest. One little thought started right will go round the world and keep on its travels. It gets there by moving, not by sitting sulkily in the sawdust and wishing it were a plum pudding. Move on. Catch on.
Hold fast as long as you can, and if you're knocked off, grab for the next car that comes along and you will get there.
But don't start in the wrong direction.
Be not start for the drunkard's grave, or you will be sure to get there. Do not start in to go it blind whenever some "Smart Aleck" blows the horn for you to fall in, lest you fall in where it is deep and ever remain there. Be active or get out of the way, and in one year see how much better off in mind, body, and comforts you will be.

The first person to whom Christ appeared after the resurrection was a woman. During all the ages that have come since that first Easter morning, whenever there was a word to be spoken for the Master, a tender service to be performed in His name, a cup of cold water to be given to some wayfarer, or a prayer to be offered for some sin-sick soul, woman has always been the first on the scene.

Never be ashamed of your early surroundings because you are living in a more refined place at present. Do not be ashamed of your old father and mother when they come to your city to visit you because their manners are a little old-fashioned and try to smuggle them in and out of your house. Call in your best friends and say to them "this is my father and my mother, if they had lived in your day and had had the advantage they would be as well up as you." Have you forgotten what a hard time your father and mother had in the early days of life, depriving themselves of the necessities of life in order to save and leave something for their children when they are ready to lay off their earthly toil.

Jesus called a little child to represent who should be the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven. No long-faced elder of the church was brought, nor smileless member of the monastery, but a pratt-ling child in all its innocence and mirth; and unless we are converted from our austere ways, and become in habits and tastes like unto a child, it is declared the door will be barred against us.

The sunshine of life is made up of very little beams that are bright all the time. In the nursery, on the playground and in the schoolroom, there is room all the time for little acts of kindness, that cost nothing, but are worth more than gold and silver. To give up something when giving up will prevent unhappiness; to yield when persisting will chafe and fret rather than come against another; to take an ill word or a cross look rather than to resent it; these are the ways in which clouds and storms are kept off and a pleasant, simpling sunshine secured even in a humble home, among very poor people, as well as in families in higher station. Much that we term the miseries of life would be avoided by adopting this rule of conduct.

On our criticisms of others, let us remember that we have faults which our friends have to excuse. How much would be left of us if all those who see inconsistencies in us should clip away from our character and reputation? It is an invariable rule that those who make the roughest work with the names of others are those who have themselves the most imperfections. The larger the beam in your own eye, the more anxious you are about the mote in somebody else's eye. Instead of going about town slashing this man's bad temper and the other man's falsity, and this woman's hypocrisy and that one's indiscretion, go home with the ten commandments as a monitor and make out a list of your own derelictions.

A woman may be surrounded by all the luxuries that money can buy, and have the fawning friendship of people whose smiles only live in prosperity; but if she feels herself unloved and alone in her heart, the crown jewel in her diadem of happiness is lost, things lose their value and life becomes monotonous. The honest, tender love of two brave hearts who have started out, and are struggling to get a home for their little ones, and money enough to feed, clothe and educate them, makes life a thousand times more attractive and inspiring.

The Plum Hollow cheese factory, owned by Harvey Kilborn, was burned.
Practically everything was lost.

The Dominion Government, last year, appropriated and expended $100,000 for the relief of sufferers by forest fires in Northern Ontario last summer, and $400,000 for the purchase of seed grain for farmers in distress in the west.

Culicturn Farmer Commits Suicide.

Mr. Thomas James, a prominent farmer of Goulburn township, committed suicide Wednesday morning by cutting his throat with a razor, dying shortly afterwards. Although not in the best of health, lately he appeared to be in good spirits and talked quite rational before retiring Tuesday night.
He was heard to get up and go outside about 4 o'clock Wednesday morning.
This was not unusual, but when he did not return for some time, members of the family investigated and found him in an outdoor house with his throat badly cut. Dr. Scobie, of Hazeldean, was immediately summoned but little aid could be given and the unfortunate man died shortly after the doctor's arrival. No inquest will be held. Deceased was about 60 years of age and is survived by a grown up family, his wife being dead a couple of years.—Carp

Last of Confederate "Signers."

A reminder of the tragedy of the American Civil war comes in the announcement of the death of Judge A. P.
Campbell, at Jackson, Miss. He was the last of forty-nine original delegates to the Confederate States Congress who signed the constitution of the Confederate States of America. Judge Campbell was licensed to practise law when only 17 years old. He served as a member of the State Legislature and was a member of the constitutional convention which adopted the ordinance of secession.

There are thousands of children who are bright but frail—not sick but underdeveloped—they play with their food—they catch colds easily and do not thrive—they only need the pure, rich liquid-food in

SCOTT'S EMULSION

to start them growing and keep them going. Children relish SCOTT'S and it carries rare nutritive qualities to their blood streams and gives them flesh-food, bone-food and strength-food.
Nothing harmful in SCOTT'S.

Most of us believe that clouds have a silver lining, but few of us make any effort either to turn the clouds round for to get behind them.

Overland

Undoubtedly the Industry's Crowning Achievement

From your point of view this announcement is most important.

For herein we set forth the achievement toward which the Willys-Overland organization has aimed for the last eight years.

This achievement in a word is the completion of the gigantic Willys-Overland organization to a point where a comprehensive line of automobiles can be made and marketed under one head.

This means tremendous economies—much greater than ever before.

This means the elimination of all waste, all lost motion and much greater factory efficiency.

This means an even higher grade of cars at much more attractive prices.

All of which means a substantial saving for you on the next car you buy.

For now and for the first time in the history of the automobile business we as one single organization offer the public a full and comprehensive line of automobiles.

This concentration—this greater efficiency—this more effective means of pulling together is going to set a new standard of low priced high-grade automobile values.

For we operate on the basis of—

- one executive organization
- one factory management
- one purchasing unit
- one sales expense
- one group of dealers

—to plan, produce and sell all Overland, Willys and Willys-Knight models.

Buying power is concentrated. Costs are distributed over all these cars. The savings are enormous.

As a result we are producing cars of exceptional quality—and marketing them at unusually low prices.

Every car is built to a rigid standard of performance, comfort and appearance.

The new models are listed in this announcement.
They include Overland models from the snappy comfortable $930 Light Four to the beautiful Light Six Sedan at $2220.

They include also the big, handsome Willys-Knights from the Four at $1800, to the super efficient Eight at $2730.

These new models establish price records, value records and performance records which we believe will prove to the public conclusively that the vast economies of vast production are the key note and manufacturing secret of the greatest value for the least amount of money.
