borne in mind constantly, and the moiety of fines imposed and collected should likewise amply compensate the informers.

As to your inquiry about Indians getting orders for liquor from medical men other than the recognised attendant of the Band, the only remedy of which the Department is aware, is what may be derived from the provision of Section 98- which throws the onus of proof that the intoxicant has been made use of medicinally upon the supplier or user thereof.

Your obedient servant,

Lawrence G. Peck

Deputy Superintendent General of Indian Affairs.
