

KEEP YOUR MONEY IN CANADA.

When Canadians buy goods made in Canada the money they pay out is kept in circulation in this country, passing from one Canadian to another again and again in the course of trade, so that the whole community is benefited by it, and the man who paid it out in the first place often gets it back again. When Canadians buy goods made in the United States, and other foreign countries, the money goes out of Canada, and Canadians in general receive no benefit from it.

When Abraham Lincoln was defending the policy of building up a steel rail industry in the United States by means of high protection, he said : "When we buy rails in foreign countries we get the rails and the foreigners get the money. When we buy the rails in our own country, we have both the rails and the money." This will prove as true for Canada as it was for the United States. In the words of Adam Smith : "Though the returns of foreign trade should be as quick as those of the home trade, the capital employed in it will give but one-half the encouragement to the industry or productive labor of the country."
