

The Make-Up of the Committee

The committee may consist of five or more members, as the size of the school demands. These members may represent the different departments of the school. The chairman should be a member of the Church Missionary Committee, a body now recommended as the unifying and clearing agency for all the missionary organizations of the local church.¹

General Suggestions

Even though this committee may be considered a special agency, there are a few general suggestions, implications of the above point of view, which will help us to regard its work and the results as essential and not optional:

1. The appointment of the committee and the plans of work should not be heralded throughout the school as a provision of the authorities for making the school more missionary. There is some doubt as to whether or not the boys and girls need to know anything about the committee at all.

2. On the other hand, the school officers and teachers should plan that the work of the com-
