

INTRODUCTION

---

It should be distinctly understood that this work is merely a preliminary look over the field with a view to learning the lines of investigation which would likely prove most profitable in an intensive social survey to be undertaken later. The field work, which occupied the last two weeks of March, 1913, was done by Mr. Bryce M. Stewart, who also compiled this report.