THE CAUSE OF WOMAN'S TROUBLES

Is Diseased Kidneys and the Cure is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Wonderful Cure of Mrs. James Kinsella. Who Slept in a Chair for Two Summers—What She Says Of It.

St. Malachie, Que., March 20.—(Special).—A cure of great interest to women has attracted the attention of those interested in medical matters in this neighborhood. Mrs. Jas. Kinsella, wife of a well known citizen, had suffered from a complication of troubles for about two years. She had a pain in the right hip, in the back and was obliged to pass water every fifteen minutes in a burning itching sort of way. She could not sleep at night and had to sit up in a chair for two summers.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Mrs. Kinsella speaking of her cure says, "After the first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I felt much better. Then I got more and they did me a world of good. I have never slept in the chair since I used Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Woman's health depends on her kidneys. Nine-tenths of the so-called female complaints are caused by uric acid in the blood. Cure your kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills and you can have no uric acid in the blood.

Conceded.
Lyles—Did you ever come across a more conceited fellow than Bulger? They say he is an atheist, and I believe he is. Bonter—I wouldn't like to go so far as that, but I know that he doesn't recognize the existence of a superior being.—Town and Country.

A Careful Judge.
This story is related of an old time judge: During a session of court there was so much talking and laughter going on that the judge, becoming angry and confused, shouted in great wrath: "Silence, here! We have decided half a dozen cases this morning, and I have not heard a word of one of them!"

VALUABLE ADVICE TO MOTHERS
If your child comes in from play coughing or showing evidences of a gripper, sore throat, or sickness of any kind, get out your bottle of Nerviline. Rub the chest and neck with Nerviline, and give internal doses of ten drops of Nerviline in sweetened water every two hours. This will prevent any serious trouble. No liniment or pain reliever equals Polson's Nerviline, which has been the great family remedy in Canada for the past fifty years. Try a 25c. bottle of Nerviline.

A King Who Could Change the Wind
King Ericus of Sweden publicly confessed that he was a sorcerer and magician. He was the owner of an enchanted cap, which he pretended on subject him to control the spirits and change the direction of the winds at pleasure. So firmly did his subjects believe in the supernatural powers of their ruler that when a storm arose they would exclaim, "Ah, the king is again wearing his magic cap!"

DEAD SICK OF ASTHMA?
You couldn't be otherwise with such a distressing malady. Well, for one dollar spent on "Catarrhazone" you can be thoroughly cured. Foolish to delay, because asthma steadily grows worse. Get Catarrhazone today and cure yourself; it's pleasant to use, very simple, and guaranteed. Prescribed by thousands of doctors and used by people of nine nations. Certainly Catarrhazone must be good; it hasn't failed yet, no matter how chronic the case.

The Logical Cure.
"Did you ever have insomnia?"
"Sure!" replied the man who pretends to know it all.
"What did you do for it?"
"Just slept it off."

Women are said to make excellent postmasters. Kind of know how to look after the males, as it were.—New York Mail.

A PERSISTENT BACKACHE.

Can have but one cause—diseased kidneys, which must be strengthened before backache can be cured. Why not use Dr. Hamilton's Pills? They cure the kidneys quick, make them strong and able to filter disease—breeding poisons from the blood. At once you feel better, stronger, brighter. Kidney health is guaranteed to every user of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Get a 25c. box from your druggist, and refuse substitutes.

HUMAN

A MEAN TRICK.

How a Passenger in a Street Car Was Victimized.

He was not tagged the meanest man in town, but he might well have been. He came in through the front door of a Broadway car. The first thing he did after stepping inside was to fall over a suit case; the next was to astonish his neighbors with an outburst of vigorous language. His victim remarks made the owner of the suit case uncomfortable.

"I am sorry," he apologized. "The suit case does seem to be in the way, but I have no place else to put it."

"No place else to put it?" repeated the irate passenger. "You could easily find a place. Any place would be better than right here by the door."

The man in the corner seat surveyed the well filled car doubtfully. "But I can't move," he said, "and I can't shove the suit case any farther along with nobody to look after it. Somebody might swipe it."

The irate passenger reflected a moment. "I'll tell you what to do," he said. "Ask somebody to change places with you. Almost any man down there in the middle of the car would be willing to swap. You ought to try it anyway. Somebody is going to get a broken neck if that suit case is left standing where it is much longer."

The prospect of being charged with homicide quickened the corner man to immediate activity. He picked up the suit case and advanced to the middle of the car.

"Sir," he said, addressing a gentleman of portly mien, "will you change places with me? I have a seat in the corner, but my suit case appears to be in the way. If you will let me sit here, I will appreciate the favor."

"Certainly," said the stout man, and began to rise. Before fully surrendering his advantageous position, however, he looked toward the corner seat and sat down again heavily.

"I believe," he said, "I'll stay where I am."

The meanest man in town had usurped the place occupied by the owner of the suit case and was intently studying the panorama of Broadway as viewed through the platform window. His victim sighed and clutched at a strap, and during the rest of the trip he imperiled his own neck by stumbling over the inconvenient suit case.

Why Fido's Tail Curled.
A lady was walking along the streets of one of our cities a short time ago, followed by her pet pug dog. Fido's tail curled so much that it formed a little hook, the tip of it resting on his back at the spot where it "grew out" as the children say. A little street arab ran after the dog, crying out:

"I know what makes that dog's tail curl so round like a ring. I know what makes his tail curl so. D'ye hear, lady?"

The lady, somewhat interested, stopped and asked:

"Well, why, then?"

"So that the flea can loop the loop," was the astonishing reply as the "gaw" in skipped away, shouting gleefully at his own joke.

The Rich Uncle.
"That young man signs himself 'U. S. G. Kraft.'"

"Yes. That's my nephew."

"It's easy to guess what great personage he was named after."

"You're wrong. Those initials stand for 'Uncle Silas Gotrox,' the founder of our house. The boy was named after him for a purpose, but nothing came of it."

Handing Her a Hot One.
She-I heard of a woman who quarreled with her husband five years ago and hasn't spoken to him since.
He-I know of worse cases than that. I know of women who quarreled with their husbands five years ago and have not stopped jawing them yet.

Plausible.
Jessie-Jack, why do doughnuts always have holes in the middle?
Jack (wisely)—I s'pose 'cause if they had 'em on the outside nobody'd know they were them.

A Warning.

Mr. Bug—Yes. That's the great Bug! He was the first to discover that insect powder is good to eat.

The Real Cause.
"She seems to have a very happy disposition. At any rate, she's always smiling."

ONLY PARTLY TRUE

POPULAR IDEAS REGARDING CATARRH.

It is the common belief that what is popularly known as catarrh is simply a cold in the head. This is true as far as it goes, but as a matter of fact catarrh is by no means confined to the nasal passages, but extends wherever the mucous membrane extends, which means nearly every part of the body.

The mucous membrane is the inside skin of the body and is nearly as extensive as the outside skin, and any inflammation of this membrane causing an extra secretion of fluid is really catarrh.

Catarrh is, therefore, an old enemy disguised by many confusing names, for instance: Rhinitis is nasal catarrh; laryngitis and pharyngitis throat catarrh; gastritis, stomach catarrh; cystitis and nephritis, catarrh of the bladder and kidneys.

Therefore, although the location of the trouble gives it various names, in reality the sum total is catarrh and nothing else.

Do not make the mistake of thinking you have no catarrh because the head and nose appear to be clear. If there is a cough, tickling in the throat and hoarseness you have throat catarrh; if it will ever go back to them after once trying so pleasant a preparation as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and one which gives so much relief in so short a time.

All druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50 cents for full sized package, and the regular daily use of them will effectually cure this troublesome and dangerous disease.

Korean Mourning.
Koreans wear full mourning for their fathers. The dress is of hemp cloth, with a hempen girdle. A face shield is used to show that the wearer is a sincere and must not speak to any one unless addressed. The costume is retained for three years, the shield for three months. This is worn for a father only. Secondary mourning is worn for a mother and no mourning at all for a wife.

"More haste, less speed," and "hasten slowly," are proverbs born of experience that some things can't be hurried without loss and waste. That is specially true of eating. The railway lunch habit, "five minutes for refreshments," is a habit most disastrous to the health. You may hurry your eating. You can't hurry your digestion, and the neglect to allow proper time for this important function is the beginning of sorrow.

Be a busy man. When the tongue is foul, the head aches, when there are sour or bitter risings, are due fullness after eating, hot flushes, irritability, nervousness, irresolution, cold extremities, and other annoying symptoms, be sure the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition have "broken down."

Nothing will re-establish them in active healthy condition so quickly as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves, purifies the blood, and tempers the medicine containing no alcohol or other intoxicant.

Given Away! Dr. Pierce's great work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing and customs. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 50 stamps for cloth binding, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Cat Island Cats.
On Sable Island, off the coast of Nova Scotia, cats were introduced about 1880 and rapidly exterminated the rabbits, which had been in possession for at least half a century. In one of the harbors of Kerguelen Land, a barren and desolate bit of antarctic terra firma to the southeast of the Cape of Good Hope, cats escaped from ships have made themselves at home on a little islet known as Cat Island, which has long been used as a wintering place for sealers. Here they live in holes in the ground, preying upon sea birds and their young, and are said to have developed such extraordinary ferocity that it is almost impossible to tame them even when captured young.

AN OFFENDED BISHOP.

The Way a Fond Mother's Joke on Her Son Went Astray.

"Bishop Maxwell, is it not?" inquired Mrs. Spaulding cordially as her guest came down to breakfast, suit case in hand. "I feel that I know you through my son, and I was so glad when he arranged to have you stay with us on your way through the city. But what does this luggage mean? You're going to stay a day or so?"

"No, thank you, Mrs. Spaulding," returned the bishop. "I must go right on today."

"Oh, that makes it doubly unfortunate that I had to be away last evening. I hope you found my message of explanation? The friend I was called to was very ill, and I felt sure you would understand, but the fact that Mr. Spaulding was out of town, too, made me regret going especially. I do hope my maid took care of you comfortably and that you rested well. I thought you must have been weary when I came in at 10 and found you had retired."

The bishop replied politely, but there was an odd constraint in his manner which lasted until he had bowed himself out of the house after breakfast.

"What can be the matter?" puzzled Mrs. Spaulding as she watched the distinguished gentleman stalking down the street. "Dick was so anxious he should like us!"

Then a sickening thought struck her, and she darted up the stairs.

It had been Mrs. Spaulding's custom during the boyhood of her only son to correct his failings by posting about the house little placards which gently pleaded with him on the error of his ways. A week or two earlier, when Dick was coming home for a college vacation, she had unearthed some of these old signs and just for a joke had placed them up in his room, like old times. They had been taken down later, but she remembered now that, after being summoned to the sick friend the morning before, she had led her new—and not brilliant—maid to Dick's door and had said: "I want this room swept and arranged for Bishop Maxwell exactly as we did it for Mr. Dick last week. Do you understand?"

With wings on her feet Mrs. Spaulding flew to the room the bishop had occupied, but at the threshold she paused and gasped.

On one of the pillows was a staring notice to this effect: "Please put your bed airing in the morning!" Over the mirror, "Please don't spatter the glass!" On the window curtain, "Please don't throw your shoes on the floor noisily!" Everywhere, on pictures and wall:

"Please don't leave your coat on a chair. Hang it up!" "Please don't leave your toothbrush in the bathroom!" "Please turn off the hot water faucet!"

There were at least fifteen of these placards, the "Please" underlined three or four times in each, but—horror of horrors—the largest of all was this, on the inside of the door: "If you take a bath please wash out the tub. It's disgraceful not to!"—Youth's Companion.
