Warranted

A Rockford couple recently purchased a baby carriage at a local store, and having the child with them placed it in the conveyance and started homeward. On their way they passed a number of people who looked at the carriage, then at them, smiled blandly, and appeared greatly amused. The actions of their friends was a matter of great annoyance to the young people, and was wholly inexplicable until they reached home. As the little one was being taken from the carriage, their eyes fell on a printed card on the front of the vehicle, which read: "None better; our own make."—Mount Morris (Ill.) Index.
