WAR SUMMARY

The Allies and Germans have paused to recover breath before beginning another battle along Alsace and Verdun, which may prove as extensive and as important a battle as the battle of the Marne.

Official Communiqué of the French War Office says the left wing of the Germans, heavily entrenched east of the Aisne, offered some resistance to the French troops on the line from the Forests of L'Aslette to the town of Oranienbourg, 15 miles southeast of Laon.

German Headquarters Staff, at 9 p.m. Tuesday, issued a statement saying the battle which has been continuing for two days on the right wing of its army in France extends now to armies in the neighborhood of Verdun.

The Russian left wing has fallen back on Etain, Metz, Delme and Chateau-Salines. In Vosges and in Alsace the situation is unchanged. Belcourt, France, 34 miles southeast of Nancy, is in a state of siege, but, according to military authorities, is in a position to defend itself indefinitely.

Russians report they have put sixty per cent. of the Austrian fighting force out of commission, and taken over 200,000 prisoners, and that another ten per cent. of Austria's fighting force has been destroyed by Serbians.

The Russians have crossed the River San without meeting resistance from retreating Austrians. Grodek has been occupied, and the Russian army is now within a day's march of Przemysl.

Servians and Montenegrins are reported to have joined forces and to be advancing along the entire frontier. Servians are said to have 150,000 troops in Hungary, and to be besieging Vlahograd, in Bosnia.

A despatch from Berlin by way of Rome, reports a naval battle in progress, in which 15 of the 29 units of the German Baltic squadron are in action. This is confirmed by the Admiralty.

In official circles at Constantinople it is reported Turkey will not support Germany, and will remain neutral. Japanese forces have captured Chi-Mo, ten miles from Kiao Chau fortifications.

RUSSIAN MARKET YIELDS GREAT PROFIT

Nation That Foresees Possibilities of This Field After War Will Reap Rich Reward

MUST FILL GERMANY'S PLACE

(Special to The Journal of Commerce.) Petrograd, September 16--Sergius Sazonoff, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, declared that as a result of the war the great markets of Russia would be thrown open to England and America.

"It is the country which foresees the situation commercially in Russia, that will reap the enormous benefits that the Russian markets now afford," he said. "It is not enough that the merchants and manufacturers should offer their goods here. Experts should be sent here now while the war is on to study and examine the needs of our country.

"For America especially does Russia open opportunities for an industrial outlook such as can hardly be over-estimated. We have an Empire of 170,000,000 souls and the $200,000,000 we have been paying yearly to Germany is but the beginning of a demand that soon will make Russia among the most desirable and valuable markets of the world.

UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM IN GREAT BRITAIN NOT ACUTE

(Special Correspondent W. E. Dowling.) London, September 16--The unemployment problem still shows few signs of becoming acute, and such distress as exists is confined in the main to the wives and families of men called to the colors.

In Germany, on the other hand, if the statistics given by the Berliner Tageblatt with regard to Berlin, may be taken as a reliable guide, the situation is more than serious. The returns given are strictly limited to the members of the various unions and so do not include any classes of unorganized labor.

THE KAISER TO GO TO EAST PRUSSIA. Paris, September 16--Petit Journal prints telegram from Berlin, via Copenhagen stating German Emperor will proceed to East Prussia and assume chief command against the Russians.

VIENNA CLAIMS SITUATION IS FAVORABLE. Vienna, via Berlin and Amsterdam, September 16--Official announcement was made that the Servian army which invaded Austria-Hungary along the River Save, has been defeated at all points, and driven back to its own territory.

RUMOR GERMANS WILL EVACUATE FRANCE AND BRUSSELS. London, September 16--A despatch from Rome quotes a telegram from Basel to the Messagero, stating that the Germans have received orders to retire as far as the right bank of the Rhine, completely evacuating France, Belgium and Luxembourg.
