Last July it was stated that, after providing fo the full 6 months on the income bonds, the receipts for the first six months of 1914 were sufficient to provide for the declaration of an interum dividend of approximately £6,000 on the shares, but that the board had decided to defer the question of a dividend payment until it could be dealt with in the audited accounts for the complete year. No dividend is forthcoming on the shares now that the full re sults of the year are known. After providing for the full income bond interest £35,000 was carried forward as compared with £45 200 in 1913.

ndon General Omnibus was reduced from 18 per cent. to 16 per cent., but, because of the issue of £450,000 of new capital, the dividend payments for 1914 at the reduced rates are nearly £50,000 larger than for 1913. JAPANESE DEMANDS

garding Pressure Exerted on China

TWENTY-ONE PROPOSALS

These Were Withdrawn-No Disposition to Criticize the Political Aspect of the Action of Japan.

London, February 22.—British commercial men are keenly interested in Japan's alleged demands on China, although the exertion of pressure there after Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey's statemer Thursday as yet seems unlikely

There is much confusion on the whole subject, as the text of the Japanese proposals is unknown, but private advices received in London from China, where there is great anxiety as to the effect of the demands, say there were originally twenty-one proposals. representations of China caused ten of these to be withdrawn. The great Powers interested in Ch were informed of this step, which was true at th time, but it is believed that since then owing to pressure China agreed to the restoration of the ten proposals to the original list.

Two versions of the situation are published both of which are admittedly incomplete and inaccurate, yet British merchants have to formulate their views on data which they know are not too reliable, although all they are able to procure.

There is no disposition to criticise the political aspect of the action of Japan, but the demands fo special exclusive privileges are inspiring great anxiety in commercial circles, not merely in regard to Fukien and the Langtse Valley, but more especially in respect to railway concessions, which seem to b still demanded; namely, first, from Wuchang tothe wise Hankow) to Kiu-Kiang and thence to Nat chang; secondly, from Nan-chang to Kan-chow and thence to Hang-chow.

The real significance of these demands is that if they are granted they will give Japan practically the whole trade of Yangtse Valley to the detriment of Shanghai and allow her to tap the trade of all southern China as well as the interior. Coupled with the fact that Japan will control southern Manchuria and Shan-tung, as well as the province of Chang-su, through the Hang-chow terminus, the demands show that practically all the coast line with the country adjoining will be subject to the sphere of the railway influence of Japan.
