CHILD INJURED BY COW

Helen Smith, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith of Goderich St. S., was badly injured on Monday morning by being attacked by one of the cows which she was taking to their pasture field near the mountain about a mile distant.
Arriving at the pasture with the cows the little girl was opening the gate when one of the animals, which had become maddened at the dog which accompanied her, rushed at the child and tossed her up on its horns, inflicting a nasty gash on the inside of the child's left leg between the knee and the thigh. With her clothes badly torn and bleeding profusely from her injury the child managed to make her way over a ten-acre field to the home of Mr. George Ament from where she was hurriedly driven to her home and two local doctors summoned in attendance. The little girl was placed under an anaesthetic and thirty stitches were required to close the wound. Although still in a painful condition the young sufferer is doing very nicely.—Port Elgin Times.

If there was less change in women's clothes there might be a little more in men's.

Such trifling accessories to a marriage are apt to be forgotten these days.

Edward, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Ryan of Kincardine, formerly of Walkerton, was found drowned underneath the north dock close by the light house at Kincardine on Thursday evening last. The little fellow had been missing since five o'clock that afternoon and his body was found about two hours later.
Doubtless the little fellow was playing beneath the dock and slipped into the deep water on the harbour side.

How much is a baby worth? Wm.
C. Greatrex, of Toronto, who lost his only child in a strange mixup of babies in a Detroit hospital last September says $200,000. Mrs. Great-rex died in the hospital after her baby had been born. When her husband returned to the hospital to get his baby, after burying Mrs. Great-rex in Toronto, nurses told him that the baby had been given to a foreigner in mistake. The foreigner, a Belgian, Vlemminck by name, says he gave the baby to some "people in Pennsylvania" and Mr. Greatrex has entered suit against the Evangelical Deaconess Hospital of Detroit, for $200,000. The baby has never been found.

HERE'S A MERCHANT WHO KNEW HOW

There was an old geezer And he had a lot of sense, He started up a business On a dollar eighty cents.
On the dollar for stock,
And the eighty for an ad.
Brought him three lovely dollars In a day, by dad Well, he bought more goods And a little more space, And he played that system With a smile on his face.
The customers flocked
To his two-by-four
And he soon had to hustle
For a regular store.
Up on the square
Where the people pass
He gobbled up a corner
That was all plate glass.
He fixed up the windows With the best he had.
And told them all about it In a half-page ad.
He soon had 'em coming
And he never, never quit,
And he wouldn't cut down On his ads. one bit,
And he kept things humming In the town ever since.
And everybody calls him
The Merchant Prince.
Some say it's luck
But that's all bunk—Why, he was doing business—When times were punk.
People have to purchase And the geezer was wise—For he knew the way to get 'em Was to advertise.

SETTLING BRUCE COUNTY

(Hanover Post)
Bruce County, which has contributed so many landseekers to the new parts of Canada, had its own land rush in its day of settlement. At one period, during the settling of the valley of the Saugeen, no less than 4,000 acres were taken up in six days. Glancing over an old newspaper of the spring of 1851, I came on a description of this rush to the "bush" fronting Lake Huron. There was considerable excitement as the newcomers moved from the more central counties to the cheap, rich land.

"You would not wonder," wrote a landseeker, "if you were to see the country, at the eagerness with which the land is being taken up by actual settlers, and those, too, of a very superior class for pioneers. Not less than 4,000 acres were occupied in six days by actual settlers, each taking up a 200-acre lot, and these of a most respectable class, many carrying with them very ample means." Southampton then had about 20 houses up and four or five stores were to be opened on the completion of the buildings then being erected.
It was expected that the township would have a population of 500 by the autumn. Many of the new arrivals were from Europe, as immigration was heavy.

It will surprise many to learn that the Saugeen was used by the settlers to get into the interior of Bruce County. The river was somewhat rapid, but it was navigated for sixty miles from the mouth by means of a flat-bottomed scow. It was from four to eight chains wide and was fringed by noble cedars.

PUBLIC FUNDS BEING WASTED

Editor Wm. McDonald, of the Chesley Enterprise, in an open letter comments on the expensive system of the Bruce law courts in the following:
"The five charges against Mrs.
Lawrence of Warton for attempting abortion came up before Judge Klein in Walkerton on April 24th and was adjourned till May 22nd to secure the evidence of two women who were ill and couldn't attend the previous trial. The expenses so far are about $500 and as much if not more will be incurred at the next trial. Douglas, the Owen Sound dentist, who was mixed up in the dirty case and was committed to Kingston penitentiary for four years for his connection with illegal operations, was brought from Kingston at a cost of $54 to give evidence against Mrs. Lawrence and was taken back to the pen in charge of two constables without having to say a word. Mr. Staumton, who is an authority on handwriting and who makes the modest charge of $50 a day for his technical knowledge, was brought from Toronto at a cost of $120 to prove Mrs.
Lawrence's handwriting. The goal register was also produced for the same purpose and after all this expense and trouble Harry Tucker, Mrs. Lawrence's lawyer, admitted the signatures and letters written by Mrs. Lawrence were in the same handwriting. There were 15 to raise some funds to assist them.

One of the constables sent after Douglas was allowed three days pay and the other one. The case occupied only one day and yet the Owen Sound witnesses got one day pay and the Chatsworth witnesses two days pay. The treasurer paid in mileage fees for 56 miles from Owen Sound to Walkerton and from Chatsworth which is nine miles nearer to Walkerton the mileage for the two witnesses was $70 each. That will be considered a huge joke by all except the ratepayers of Bruce who will have to pay for this tom-foolery.
Who is to blame for all this?
Dudley Holmes, a Wingham lawyer, was brought in to act for Mr.
Dixon whose duty it is to have the evidence in these cases taken at the court 15 miles from the scene of the crime. The case of Great Bruce is a strong case.
