TELEGRAM FROM MR. ROSS.

The following telegram was received by the Nugget today in response to a congratulatory wire from this paper—
Victoria, Dec. 10.
Editor Klondike-Nugget, Dawson—
Thanks for your wire of congratulations. The majority, on account of the candidate's absence, was greater than I expected. I must attribute my victory to the strong advocacy of the favorable press, to the work done by the committee and the platform work of my speakers. Under these circumstances, having been elected without effort on my part, implicit trust has been placed in me. I hope to accomplish what is expected of me.
The long rest I have enjoyed will better enable me to undertake the responsibilities of representing the Yukon and its electors to the commons of Canada.
J. H. ROSS.

CANDIDATES COMING OUT. BRIBERY WAS ATTEMPTED.

H. Douglas Announces Himself for the Yukon Council—Grey Has Withdrawn—Vernon May Run for Mayor Instead. Other Candidates.

The candidates, and also the would-be candidates, are hustling around pretty lively today. Only one of them has come forward and officially declared his intentions, and this is H. Douglas, who adds his name to the list of candidates for the Yukon council from this city. Mr. Douglas began life in Montreal, where his father was a prominent citizen and a large shoe manufacturer. The candidate's family are in Victoria, where he was settled when the All-Canadian route to the Yukon stamped broke out, and he established a hotel on the Sticking river. From there he came to Dawson and was for a time a merchant on Lower First avenue. Later he started the Northern hotel, Third avenue and Princess street, which he gave up a few weeks ago. This makes four who have so declared themselves—Thompson, Grey, Vernon and Douglas. But Mr. Grey is not going to run; in fact he is going outside at New Year's, and as to Mr. Vernon there are doubts whether he will not withdraw his name and become a candidate for the mayoralty. His many friends have been urging him in this direction, and he is giving the subject careful consideration. Mr. Vernon, for so young looking a man, has had a somewhat adventurous career. It began in Leicester, England, and was continued in 1878 in Australia, six months having been spent in a survey of the mining districts of South Africa. He was mining in Australia for about three years, then went to Temora, New South Wales, as a miner. After a time there he engaged in the sugar industry in the Fiji Islands for four years, then went to the Mauritius to inspect the sugar industry there, returned to England and took unto himself a wife. Then he went back to Australia and for nine years was Marxist Superintendent of the Australian Steamship Co. He was a mining broker at Brisbane, Queensland, for four years, and came to the Yukon in '88. He is now the proprietor of the Flannery hotel, which he owns, and he also owns other real estate in the city and has a considerable number of mining properties. The morning joke announced Attorney Tabor as a candidate for the Yukon council, but Mr. Tabor says the announcement is premature. He has been requested by a number of friends to stand, and is giving the matter careful consideration. Mr. Woodworth stated in conversation last evening that the Nugget was in error in stating that a political meeting had been held in his office the previous evening. He may have intended this merely as a legal quibble. But the Nugget did not say that the meeting was held in his office; it said it was held "in the newspaper office of Mr. Woodworth." One of those who were present at that meeting said this morning when questioned upon the subject: "You were certainly correct in stating that the meeting was held in the old Miners' office, which, I believe, is owned by Mr. Woodworth. But it certainly was not a Woodworth meeting by any means. It was called for a general discussion as to the selection of a candidate. There were no party politics in it. There can be none. It is purely a Yukon affair and we were discussing the selection of a Yukoner. In order to come to a conclusion as to the best possible man the discussion was adjourned for a few days." It is quite likely that Mr. Vernon will be the first candidate to announce himself for mayor. Alderman Murphy has been training for the race for the last six months, but he seems timid about getting on the scratch now the time comes. Ex-Mayor of Nanaimo Davison is still in the hands of his friends but is treating the matter very seriously. Ex-Collector Davis is also in training and will probably come up to the starting post. No one else seems to be mentioned seriously.

Operators Offered Presidents of Local Unions $2,500 Each to Put an End to Strike—Enormous Volume of Evidence Taken—Big Sensation.

Special to the Daily Nugget.
Washington, Dec. 10.—A great volume of evidence has been secured by the commission sitting at Washington to arbitrate the dispute between the anthracite coal miners and the operators. A sensation was caused today when an alleged attempt to break the miners' strike by the use of money was revealed. John Early of the Erie company and who is president of the local union said he and another president each had been offered $2500 to have resolutions passed calling off the strike.

MAILS GET IN.

Man Reported Killed in Seattle one of the Passengers.

The Merchants' stage arrived last evening with 300 pounds of second-class mail and 500 pounds of express. A stage of this line went out today with all the seats taken. Among the passengers were H. Taylor, Mr. Belanger, E. A. McDiarmid, C. Pickering, Thos. Sheridan and George Whitmore.

The White Pass mail stage got in at noon today, with four passengers and 20 sacks of first-class mail, five of which were for the lower river. Mr. Braner of the Stewart Crossing roadhouse was one of the passengers. Another was Mr. Fay, at one time a broker here, who left for the Tahana and Koyukuk with Mr. Archibald. He went out with Mr. Archibald to obtain capital to work some of his mining properties and while in Seattle his untimely death was reported in the newspapers, and he was dead to the people of Dawson until he turned up this morning. He is staying at the Regina and is as chipper as if he had never been dead. He says he is going back to the Koyukuk.

Mrs. Stanton's Funeral.

New York, Oct. 29.—The funeral of the late Elizabeth Cady Stanton was held today at her residence in this city. Besides the family there were present only a few close friends who had been invited, including Susan B. Anthony, the life-long friend and co-worker of the dead woman; Lillian Devereaux Blake and Mrs. Wilbour, who represented Sorosis. Addresses were made by the Rev. Martin B. Conroy of the South Place Chapel, London, and by Mrs. Antoinette Brown Blackwell of Elizabeth, N.J. The interment was at Woodlawn cemetery this afternoon, where the ceremony included an address by Mrs. Phoebe Hazard.

Reform in New York

New York, Oct. 30.—David Beadle, formerly a policeman in this city, was sentenced today to two years in the state's prison for bribery. He was convicted of having taken $200 from a woman against whom certain charges had been made. It is proven that Beadle told her the trouble could be "fixed" for $100, and that she had paid $20 down and arranged to pay $10 a week for protection.

Botha's Article

London, Oct. 30.—The Contemporary Review has published an article by Gen. Botha, in which the writer insists upon the loyalty of the Boer leaders to Great Britain. He expresses regret that the language of some of their continental appeals has been "misinterpreted," when scanned microscopically in England, and reiterates his fervent desire to cooperate with the British government in smoothing the effects of the war. Gen. Botha says it is humiliating to have to appeal to foreigners for funds to aid his countrymen, and he believes that if Englishmen realized the position of their vanquished foes there would be no need to make appeals for help. In conclusion the writer urges a general and complete amnesty, which, he says, would remove the most potent cause of estrangement between Britain and Boers.

RECIPROCITY

Is Now the Watchword With Many Americans.

Special to the Daily Nugget.
Detroit, Dec. 10.—Reciprocity is now the word in many American mouths. The tariff has got to be altered, say many statesmen, including Governor Cummings of Iowa, who recently addressed a reciprocity meeting at Detroit. In particular a treaty is sought with Canada.

MR. DOUGLAS A CANDIDATE.

Dear Sir—At the request of numerous friends, and electors who have kindly requested me to run as a candidate for the Yukon council, after thinking the matter over carefully and having the welfare of the country at heart, I accede to their request and offer myself as a candidate. If elected a member of that honorable body I will endeavor to the utmost of my ability to promote the betterment and progress of the territory, use my best efforts to pass proper laws to protect the honest miner, urge the council to decentralize the Dominion government to reduce miners' licenses, reducing fees, timber dues, and all other exorbitant fees, rescind all monopolies and monopolies and have an assay office established in Dawson as soon as possible so that the miners will receive full value for their gold dust, and advocate other reforms necessary. Yours respectfully,
H. DOUGLAS,
Headquarters at Yukon Hotel.
