BOYS ATE DEADLY SEEDS

Sons of F. Hustwick and J. W. Baggs Have Narrow Escapes

Were Poisoned by Seeds of The Stramonium Weed

Three little lads, two of them sons of J. W. Baggs, of Seventh street, and the third a son of Frank Hustwick, of Stanley avenue, had narrow escapes from death by poisoning through eating the deadly seeds of the stramonium weed last night. The boys found the weeds near Brundage's ice house, and not knowing of their poisonous nature, ate quite a quantity of the seed. A short time after returning to their homes, they were taken violently ill, and for a time their lives were despaired of.

The Hustwick boy's mother gave him an antidote at once. She appeared to know the symptoms of the poison, and her prompt action saved the boy a great deal of agony, and possibly from death.

A physician was hurriedly called to attend to the two Baggs' boys. One of them had not eaten sufficient of the seeds to make him dangerously ill, but Willie, the seven-year-old boy, fell into a stupor, from which it was with great difficulty he was aroused. His condition was very critical all night long, but The Planet understands that his condition this morning was much improved, and his physician hopes for his recovery.

The stramonium weed is known also by the names of Datura and the Jamestown weed. It is a genus of solanaceous plants, with large funnel-shaped flowers, and a four-celled capsular fruit. The commonest species are the (d. stramonium) with a prickly capsule, white flowers and green stem, and the d. tatula, with a purplish tinge of the stem and flowers. Both are narcotic and dangerously poisonous.

NICE ROW IS COMING

Will Be Stormy Meeting of Local Bowlers This Afternoon

Trouble Over July First Reception Will Be Aired

The chances are that there will be quite a stormy discussion at the organization meeting of the Chatham Lawn Bowling Club, which is to be held in Harrison Hall this afternoon at 4.30.

The old feud among the members relative to the reception, or rather lack of reception, on the occasion of outside teams visiting here at the tournament on July 1st, will be brought up, and there will probably be sensational doings.

It will be remembered that a number of the members of the club claimed that the Reception Committee made practically no arrangements for the entertainment of the visiting bowlers during the latter's stay in the Maple City. There were murmurs low but deep, and the trouble has hung fire ever since. The explosion is billed to take place this afternoon.

What the result of this meeting will be cannot be predicted at present, but it is hoped that the whole matter may be amicably settled, and that peace and good-feeling will once more prevail among the members.

A RUNAWAY

A horse from Leithbridge Bros. livery stables on King street created a little excitement this morning, by a mad run down from the power house to the stables.

The horse had been taken out by Ed. Northwood, who had occasion to stop at the C. W. & L. E. offices. He left the horse in the charge of a young man, who afterwards went away without notifying Mr. Northwood. He did not tie the animal securely, and when it became frightened at something, it broke away, and ran down home. In running into the stables the wheels of the buggy just grazed the doors. Beyond a break to the shafts, there were no serious results to the runaway.

MAKING A GREAT HIT

Passion Play Pictures at Wonderland Draw Big Crowds

Able Presentation of Scenes in The Great Christian Drama

The Passion Play pictures which are being shown at the Wonderland Theatre, King street, this week, make without doubt one of the greatest treats in the moving picture line of any which have been shown in Chatham in a long time. The citizens have not been slow to recognize the worthiness of this attraction, and large crowds are attending every afternoon and evening.

The pictures are, of course, of a sacred nature, and depict the various scenes in Christ's crucifixion, from the mental tortures of the Garden of Gethsemane till His death on the Roman cross and His subsequent resurrection. The pictures are large, vivid and clear, and are educational which will be endorsed by the clergy. They present and make clear the various scenes of the great Christian drama.

While the pictures are in progress a lecture on the Passion Play is given by Prof. Stacey, who explains everything minutely. Besides the pictures, there are several special numbers, amongst which are the songs by Mr. Gallagher, whose singing has become so popular with Chathamites. During the entertainment he sings the sacred song, "The Holy City," and another favorite, entitled, "There is a Green Hill Far Away."

The Messrs. Rolph are to be congratulated on the success with which their pictures are meeting, and the popularity of the Wonderland Theatre, which has been gradually growing since they took over the proprietorship.

DISCHARGED REVOLVER

Charles Coleman Is Arrested on a Very Serious Charge

He and Morley Tickner Had a Row With Bad Results

Charles Coleman, a young man about nineteen years of age, was arrested this morning on a charge of shooting a revolver at Morley Tickner, also of this city, with intent of doing actual bodily harm.

It appears that Coleman and Tickner got in a row, in North Chatham, when the former pulled out a revolver, and pointed it at Tickner's breast. Tickner became frightened immediately and commenced to run down the street. When Coleman saw him running, he evidently wished to scare him more, and this is when the revolver was discharged.

Coleman is employed as teamster for Graham the butcher. The revolver which he used is said to be one purchased from Andrew Thomson for $1. Although it is a cheap one it does the business all right. It is a .38 calibre, and the cartridges used were bought from Geo. Stephens.

When he was arrested this morning, P. C. Dezella found a number of cartridges in the young man's pocket. The gun was in the pocket of one of the pairs of trousers which he kept at the butcher shop. Two of the cartridges in the revolver were empty.

It is likely that Coleman will come up this afternoon before Judge Houston and will be remanded until to-morrow.

PASSED AWAY

Walter Brock, aged 45 years and eight months, passed away last evening at 5.15 after an illness of about three days duration. The cause of death was heart failure.

The deceased was born in Ongar, Essex County, England, in 1862. He was manager of the Miles Hotel, and was a man who was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. He was a hearty, whole-souled gentleman, generous to a fault, and his death will be sincerely mourned by a large circle of friends.

The late Mr. Brock was a member of the Sons of England, which Order will have charge of the funeral. He is survived by his wife, his parents and six sisters, and one brother, all of whom are living in Ongar, Essex County, England. Wm. Chellis, J. P., who lives near Thymessville, was a cousin of the deceased. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

WHERE IS FLEMING?

Rumor Says he Was Killed—His Mother Is Anxious

He Was an English Immigrant Who Came Here Short Time Ago

Chief of Police John Holmes has received a letter from J. C. Cropp, the postmaster of Ayr, asking as to the whereabouts of a young man named David Fleming.

The young man arrived in Chatham from England on August 1, 12, or 13. Mr. Cropp has a letter from him dated September 13. This is all that is known of him. There is a rumor around his home in England that he was killed and his mother and family are quite anxious about it. His mother wrote to Mr. Cropp, who is an old friend of the family, asking concerning the rumor. When the young man was first sent out, Mr. Cropp promised to look after him as much as he could. He has been expecting him every day to come to Ayr. In his letter of September 13, Fleming stated that he was living at 4 Wellington street, Chatham, and that he was working for the waterworks. He expected that his job would not last much longer, and he was then going to Ayr. He has not gone, nor has he sent any more word as to his intentions. His mother lives in Plumstead, Kent, England.

It has been learned since the receipt of the letter that a young man named Fleming was employed by the waterworks department, on the streets, and he may be yet. Further information concerning him could not be received before this afternoon. As far as the people of Chatham are concerned, they have certainly not heard of any young man named Fleming being killed, and unless the young man left Chatham, he is still safe and alive.

STILL LIVE IN A CAR

Chatham Immigrants Having a Hard Time In St. Thomas

Have Taken up Quarters in a Box Car—Shameful Neglect

St. Thomas, Oct. 2.—There are five men, five women and eight children occupying the three railway box cars on Yarmouth Heights.

As told in a previous issue, they are in straitened circumstances, the men are laboring on the Michigan Central.

They are some of the party of English immigrants who arrived in Chatham some weeks past and made the railway station their domestic quarters.

Their unpromised dwelling will never stand the winter weather, and a suggestion comes that the township of Yarmouth give them some protection over the coming cold season.

Their uncleanly surroundings and the sparse supply of furnishings, both personal and household, are a danger to their health and the more immediate neighborhood.

The unfortunate people are making the best of it and the residents in the vicinity are giving a helping hand.

SUCCESSFUL TEA

The Ladies Guild of Holy Trinity were taxed to their limit Tuesday night to provide accommodation for the large crowd who attended their social in the school room. People were there from all over the city, and they were not disappointed in the entertainment provided. Mr. F. J. Naflet, of the Bank of Montreal, was in the chair, and before introducing the musical program gave a short address on the work of the Guild. He stated that since their organization less than a year ago they had made by their own efforts over $200, and after contributing the necessary expenses for their work have on hand at present $195. The following ladies and gentlemen contributed an excellent program: Misses Beatrice Smith, Hope Rankin, Flossie Edmondson, and Mr. Will Butley, vocal solos; Miss Evans, of St. Thomas, three pieces on the mandolin; and Misses Vera Sheldon and E. Smith, daughter of the Public School Inspector, three or four splendid readings. Coffee, cake and sandwiches were then dispensed, and after a few remarks by the rector the company sang the National Anthem, which brought the evening to a close.

EVERYBODY likes to look well, which is both natural and proper.

The careful spending of money to that end is something that appeals to everybody, too.
