DR. GODFREY IS ELECTED

A Conservative Is Chosen to Represent West York

Toronto, June 3.—Dr. Forbes Godfrey, Conservative, on Saturday was elected by a majority of about 2,500 as member for West York in the Legislature, his two opponents, Esten Williams, Independent, and F. J. Peel, Socialist, polling a ridiculously small vote.

Dr. Godfrey came out as a clean-cut advocate of the Beck power propaganda.

In Vaughan he upset a Liberal stronghold, supposed to be impregnable.

He has the vein of a fighter, the convictions of a champion of the people, and from the outset his career in the House will be observed with interest.

DR. FORBES GODFREY.

Forbes Elliott Godfrey was born in West York, near Downsview, 40 years ago. He is an M. D. of Toronto University, and also has the degrees of Glasgow and Edinburgh. After his course at the Scottish universities, he began practising at Belgrave, Ont., where he remained three years. In 1893 he came to Mimico, and in 1894 he was married to Miss Mary Carson of Belgrave.

STEAMER SUNK IN COLLISION.

Serious Accident in Detroit River—Selwyn Eddy Goes Down.

Detroit, Mich., June 3.—The steamer Selwyn Eddy, one of the Shaw Eddy fleet of boats, was sunk in the Detroit River on Saturday, in a collision with the steel barge, Maids, owned by the United States Steel Corporation.

Immediately after the collision the captain of the Eddy headed for the Canadian shore, and his steamer sank about 50 feet from shore in 25 feet of water, with her main deck submerged but a short distance.

None of the crew was injured. The collision occurred just off the Village of Ecorse. The Maids was down-bound in tow of the steamer Vanhise, and was cast off opposite the plant of the Great Lakes Engineering Company, where she was to go for repairs.

The big barge became unmanageable in the current before her anchor caught and she sheered into the Eddy, which was upbound, from Sandusky to Milwaukee, with coal.

The Maids, it is reported, did not suffer much damage.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN HOME.

Veteran Tariff Reformer Still Unable to Resume Active Politics.

London, June 3.—After the recent re-assuring reports from St. Raphael, France, regarding the improvement in the health of Joseph Chamberlain, his arrival in England on Saturday night was somewhat of a shock to the friends and admirers who gathered to meet him both here and at Dover. Quite apart from the fatigue of the troublesome journey, which he bore well, it was evident that Mr. Chamberlain was still a long way from such recovery as to give hope of his resuming political life with any activity.

In response to enquiries, the family authorized the following statement: “Mr. Chamberlain has returned much improved in health and none the worse for the long journey. He has not yet made any plans, but will certainly remain in London for a time.”

Educational Conference.
London, June 3.—(C. A. P.)—An official report of the private meetings of the Federal conference on education shows that in reference to the interchange of teachers and inspectors that the conference resolved that it was desirable that financial and administrative arrangements should be made for such a purpose. The conference also expressed the opinion that quadrennial conferences were desirable, and that the first should be convened by the Imperial Government. This will be held probably in 1911.

Boy Drowned.
St. Catharines, June 3.—Jack Murdoch, 5 years old, was drowned in the old Welland Canal yesterday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock. With his brother, Stuart, aged 7 years, he was playing on the banks of the military canal and fell in.

The body has not yet been recovered.

THE ASSELIN LIBEL CASE

Jury Could Not Agree and Were At Once Dismissed

Quebec, June 3.—The disagreement of the jury in the Asselin libel case Saturday and their immediate dismissal by the judge was no surprise, for as the judge himself declared in addressing the jury, the case had assumed quite a political character for some time past, or ever since the correspondence concerning subscriptions to an alleged electoral fund came out in evidence.

The Government and its friends claim that the jury stood nine for conviction and three for acquittal. Asselin's friends assume to know that the twelve jurymen were equally divided in opinion. The defence consider the disagreement to be a success, and Asselin's friends in court crowded around him after the jury had been dismissed to shake hands and congratulate him.

Sensational Incident.
The most sensational incident of the day was the court's statement that it had received threatening letters during the trial. Judge Bosse did not relate this fact to the jury, but only after the latter had retired to consider its verdict and when the judge proceeded to take up the rule against Le Soleil newspaper for contempt of court in intervening in the case and attacking lawyers and witnesses. For this offence Mr. Dhellencourt, the responsible editor, was fined $50, though his friends declared publicly, after the court adjourned, that Premier Gouin, Attorney-General, who was in court himself during the proceedings, had assured them that the fine would be immediately remitted by his department.

Everybody Attacked.
In dealing with this case Judge Bosse said that a regular tempest seemed to have blown over the city since the trial commenced. Everybody had been attacked, including lawyers and witnesses, and even the court itself. He had been threatened by an anonymous letter to be cited before Parliament and even to lose his pension if he did not change his method of conducting the case. It might seem incredible, but it was true.

The letter he received said: “We are in power at Quebec and in Ottawa, and if you do not change your attitude we will cite you before Parliament and will make you lose both your salary and your pension.”

He explained that he had not read this before the jury because he did not wish it to influence them.

No Chance For Agreement.
The court spoke for an hour and a half and the jury, which retired at 11.30, returned into court at 12.45 and declared they could not agree, even if locked up for a year. They were then discharged. The charge was a moderate one. The court expressed the belief that the case should never have come before it, but have gone to the civil courts. He had done his best to prevent it coming, but the crown had insisted.

He declared that the evidence proved neglect of the mining department by the Minister, though he was busy with colonization matters at the time and not perhaps personally to blame. Nevertheless the facts were proved. As for Mr. Turgeon his character was left intact, and there was no malice proven against Asselin by the prosecution.

BOY KILLS FATHER.

Was Protecting His Mother Against the Man's Attack.

New York, June 3.—In protecting his mother, Anthony Fusillo, a 19-year-old lad, shot and killed his father, John Fusillo, a laborer. The boy, who was with his mother, declared that his father came home in an irresponsible condition yesterday and threatened the mother with a revolver.

He declared he grappled with the elder man, wrested the pistol away, and that his father then started for him with a knife. Then he pointed the loaded gun at his father's head and fired.

Woman's Body Found.

Selkirk, Man., June 3.—A search party found the body of Mrs. W. Chambers, who wandered away from her home at Oak Hammock, on Saturday. She has been missing for nearly a week. The body was found about a mile and a half from the house, and death was apparently due to exposure.

Accused of Grave Offence.

Belleville, June 3.—David N. Fife, who is charged with criminal assault, committed on little 5-year-old Bessie Collins of this city, was brought up in the police court Saturday and was fully identified by his childish victim.

Fife was then remanded till next week.

Forged His Father's Name.

Windsor, June 3.—Russell Lonsbury, the 16-year-old boy, who is accused by his father of taking $130 from an Essex Centre bank, by signing the father's name to a cheque and disappearing, has been located by Detective Campeau. The boy will be sent back to his father's place at Kingsville.

Husband Took Acid.

London, June 3.—William Austin, aged 21, married a year and a half, quarrelled with his wife last week. She left to go to her father's Saturday night, with a friend, Austin called at the house and while the friend went in, Austin swallowed carbolic acid. He will recover.

The minute man's ambition, no doubt, is to be the man of the hour.
