THE CHILDREN'S AID.

The Children's Aid Society of Ottawa propose to adopt the system of supervision which has been tried with such good effect in Philadel phia. Mr. W. L. Scott, who has per sonally investigated the working of the system and thinks very highly of it, addressed the members on the subject. The plan, in brief, is that instead of sending children who are brought before the magistrate as in- LEAD PACKETS ONLY corrigible to the industrial school or reformatory, they will be paroled and an officer of the society will be appointed to enquire into the case choroughly and endeavor to have the Reliance Loan & Savings Go influences removed which tend to inculcate bad habits. In many cases the home influences or lack of home training or proper supervision are responsible for the youngster's precocious badness, and an effort will be made by tactful suggestion and, if necessary, the exercise of authority to remove hurtful influences and substitute salutary restraint. Of course the success of such supervision will depend to a large extent S. F. The success of the new system will mean a great deal both in reforming children without resorting to the stigma of sentencing them to confinement in a reformatory, and also in a financial sense to the municipalities which under the existing methods have to pay for the maintenance of incorrigibles in the industrial schools.-Ottawa Citizen.

Society is doing exceptionally good of the highest praise. That their thrills as they dodged the customs work is effective was shown at their officers. last meeting, when it was found that complaints were very few and there are now practically no cases of very great importance requiring the investigation of the executive officer. There is no system, however, that is perfect in every detail, and the adoption of some such scheme as is proposed in Ottawa might prove source of help to the members in this philanthropic work.
