errible Accident in a Varnish Factory— Workmen Bathed in Burning Turpen

DETROIT, May 19 .- A shocking accident betwork, may 19.—A snocking accident occurred at Berry Brothers' varnish works this afternoon while a gang of men were working in the varnish boiling shop. This shop is a long low brick building exposed to full draughts to feed the coal fires under immense kettles embedded in brickwork, each kettle being provided with a separate chimney. The material being boiled up was of the most inflammable viz., turpentine and linseed oil. It has to be watched as carefully as nitro-glycerine or if a drop boils over and touches the burning coals beneath there is sure an explosion. This was the case this after noon. Several kettles of varnish were boiling in the shop when the two nearest the door boiled over and exploded with a Princess Marie of Hanover, for whom his terrific detonation. A PERILOUS LEAP.

From the New Suspension Bridge into the Niagara River.

A DROP OF 192 FEET.

Harmon P. Peer's Jump at Niagara Falls Yesterday-The Scene on the Ground-

How the Feat was Performed. NIAGARA FALLS, May 21. -At 3.40 p.m. day, as previously announced, Harmon Peer made his tremendous leap from e new Suspension Bridge into the surging river beneath, a distance of 192 feet. scaffold four feet long had been erected near the centre of the bridge, projecting over it. About one thousand spectators were scattered in viewing distance along both sides of the bank and on the bridge. Peer came forward bareheaded and mount. ed his platform. He was dressed in tights and striped merino stockings. A wide rubber life preserver of his own construction was fastened around his waist, reaching from his hips up under his armpits. It was funnel-shaped, so as not to interfere with the velocity of his descent or hamper his actions in the water. A sponge was tied over his mouth and nose, two smaller ones were stuffed in his ears. A leather shoulder suspender with two small brass rings was attached just over his shoulders, and fastened to these was a fine brass wire coiled on a roller attached to the bridge to assist him in keeping his equilibrium. Crossing his legs he adjusted a wide elastic band just above the knees, and another across his insteps, to keep his feet from spreading. When all was ready he let himself through a square hole in the platform and hung a few minutes by his two hands. When he let go his hold and made his fearful drop, occupying three seconds and three-quarters, as fast as the weight of his his back and carried him some fifty feet, when he arose to the surface, being under the water ten seconds. He is thirty-four pleasant appearance, but has determina-tion written on his countenance. He is married and has one ehild, born in the suburbs of Hamilton, His father was a Prussian, and his mother an Irishwoman. He resides at Teetersville, county of Norfeet. After that, in Milwaukee, he was accidentally thrown from a vessel mast sixty-two feet. Not being seriously injured in these falls, he jumped from Watson & Co.'s elevator, Milwaukee, a distance scent. That was his last jump till that of to-day. There is no jump recorded to exceed this. The next is Sam Patch's jump at Niagara Falls, 142 feet, in 1829. Peer intends to repeat his feat of to-day at the same place on the fourth of July.

In 1878 Mr. G. W. Ross, M.P., drew $1,351 from the Ontario treasury for services as county model-school inspector. In the same period Mr. Æmilius Irving was paid $2,136 for services as Crown prosecu-tor. The old Reform doctrine that Dominion members should not be in the pay of Local Governments is almost as dead as the party itself.

A DESERTED HOUSE.

OTTAWA, May 16.—The Parliament puilding is like a banquet hall deserted. A few members still linger here fulfilling their last duties to their constituents and paying pious pilgrimages to Ministerial departments. But to-day there was an exodus of some of those who had been left over. Mr. Mousseau went east in the afternoon without any apparent signs upon the Governor-General. Mr. Mackenzie did not wait till the closing scene. It would have been unreasonable to expect him to listen without an opportunity of expressing his "amazement" to the Governor-General's speech approving of measures which in his "humble opinon" were going to be imjurious to the

Dr. Tupper has obtained the completest control of the railway system years of age, weighs 140 pounds, is of the country, and has, during the whole of the five years of Opposition, been the guardian of public rights and public interests in regard to the has now inaugurated a scheme which, having now the enthusiastic support of a critical majority in the Commons and He resides at Teetersville, county of Norfolk, Ont. He got his first idea of jumping when a sailor seven years ago in the Carribean sea, being accidentally knocked off a topmast into the sea, a distance of 108 feet. After that, in Milwaukee, he was then an indefatigable, economical, and successful administrator. Mr. Campbell was Postmaster-General under former Administration of Sir J Macdonald, and thus brings Administration of Sir John of 72 feet, turning twice over in his deing out the duties of his position. The office of Receiver-General has been abolished under the act of this year. Thus the new and improving changes do not add anything to the cost of the public service while they add much to its efficiency. PROBABLE VISIT TO ENGLAND.

Looking at the results of the legislation of last season, it is impossible to resist the couclusion that a visit to England will be necessary on the part of some of the Ministers during the coming summer. Indeed it is highly probable that Sir John Mac-donald, Dr. Tupper, and Mr. Tilley will visit England at an early day. The Premier will visit England—he will not be accompanied by Mr. Huntington—with pecuhar pleasure, to receive the honours due to his long service in the cause of the
