WILLIAMS-ANTLE.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday evening, Nov. 14, when Mr. Frank Williams, of Utica, New York, and Miss Jane Antle, of Placentia, Newfoundland, were united in the bonds of Holy Matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. O'Donovan, Parish Priest of Our Lady of Refuge Church. The bride wore a pretty dress of white crepe de chine, with veil and wreath, and carried a large bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was Miss Madeline Norris, of Salmonier, Newfoundland, who wore a dress of pink chiffon over satin. The groom was supported by Mr. Joseph McKerney, of Brooklyn, New York.

After the ceremony the happy couple motored to their future home, 52 Lincoln St., Brooklyn, where supper was served to about 50 guests. The bride was the recipient of many presents including a silver tea service. The groom's present to the bride was a diamond La Valliere, to the bridesmaid a gold ring, to the best man a gold stick pin. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Williams wish them many happy years of wedded life.

A Waterfront Wedding

A social event of much interest along the waterfront, and particularly among the fishermen of the port, took place on Monday evening, when Mr. Russell Kearley, secretary of the Halibut Fishermen's Union, and Miss Martha Mary Monk, were married at St. James's Church by the Rev. H. Edwards. Bride and bridegroom are daughter and son respectively of Newfoundland fishermen and both hail from Newfoundland. Mr. Kearley, who has been a resident in Vancouver, both as fisherman and as official of his union, for upwards of ten years, has made himself esteemed among employers and employed alike and there was a large attendance of fishermen at the church and afterwards at the residence of the bride's parents, where several of the local shippers added their congratulations. Mr. A. Caveran acted as "best man" at the wedding and Miss Annie Solder was bridesmaid. The many presents of which the pair were made recipients included a handsome one from the Halibut Fishermen's Union.—News Advertiser, Vancouver, Nov. 12.

Doctors and Gas Fires

In an article which recently appeared in the London "Evening News," Mr. W. G. Faulkner stated: "In making my inquiries I discovered one significant fact. This was that one company—the Gas Light and Coke Company—had among their consumers 2,500 doctors who had gas fires installed in their houses, some as many as ten or a dozen; that 1,500 of these doctors had become users of gas during the past three years; and that not one had ever given them up."

Professor C. V. Boys, F.R.S., says, in the "Standard": "Sentiment and inertia are the only obstacles against the general adoption of gas fires and cooking appliances. Wonderful strides have been made, in spite of deep-rooted prejudice. A gas fire, burning with a blue, is an admirable agent for heating a room; and, as a scientist, I fail to understand how such a gas fire dries the air in a room more than any other fire."—Nov. 17.

Naval Gunners' Work.

Up-River Excursions of British Destroyers. The Press Association's Dover correspondent telegraphs:—"Some details have reached here of the fine firing of the British naval gunners off the Belgian coast. I have it on good authority that the crew of one of the monitors watched the Germans bring up one of their big guns. They allowed them to get it into position, to take the range, and even to put the shell in the breech, when one of their 6 in. guns 'let drive.' The first shot told, and a further five shots hit every time. The gun and men were smashed to pieces."

"It is also stated that our destroyers are having a fair picnic," as it was put. They go up the river at Newport, give a broadside, turn round, let drive with the opposite guns, and, as a parting shot, fire her stern gun. The Germans must have lost terribly. It is estimated that they left 2,000 dead in one field alone, whilst the naval fire has swept the trenches and caused enormous loss."

Overcoats.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Shavah."

An overcoat is a sort of supercoat, designed for defence. Against a good thick overcoat a hostile winter can charge vainly for months, retreating with great losses in the spring. The overcoat is the logical division between the bread line and the pay check. It is the first thing a man buys after he has acquired a job and the last thing he pawns while watchfully waiting for the eminent financiers of the land to get over their regular attacks of tenth year shivers.

A good thick overcoat against which a blizzard will curl up and ruin its edge can be bought for $7.00. A considerably thinner overcoat can also be purchased for $12.00. Yet the man who buys the latter coat regards the purchaser of the former with scorn and alludes to him as "the ignorant" class.

Overcoats tell much more to the careful observer than the palms of the hands. When a man wears a broadcloth coat with a Persian lamb collar it is a sign that he will curse fervently when the income tax is mentioned. When a man wears a costly old coat with a greasy collar it is a sign that he is rich but not socially ambitious, and that dollars escaping from his hands will be considerably thinner and wider than before.

When a husband and father wears an arrogant overcoat which flares in the skirts and looks saucy about the waist, it is a sign that his wife has to plan an attack upon him for a new winter hat as carefully as if he were defended by floating mines. On the other hand, when a husband and father is continually making last year's overcoat do for one more winter his family devours his pay check and he walks to bed from work for exercise.

Now and then a young man may be observed wearing an overcoat which was apparently designed by a cubist master. In such cases it is perfectly safe to approach the young man in a familiar way and ask him for a cigarette and his college yell.

Occasionally one also discovers an elderly man with iron gray hair wearing an overcoat with billows of furry collar and cuffs. In this case one should mention the stage with caution unless he is willing to spend the rest of the afternoon hearing about Broadway.

Overcoats are a punishment to the small boy, a boon to the grown man and a trial to the old settler who has to be hoisted into one by two daughters and a grandson. Americans are divided roughly into two classes—those who worry about styles in overcoats and those who ask how long they will wear.

Have You an Itchy Spot?

Somewhere on your body? If so, attend to it at once. In Eczema, and Itchy spots, whether dry and scurfy, or moist and inclined to "weep," are generally eczematous delays, are foolish, allowing the disease to spread and affect more of the good skin. Your best chance for a cure is to use Zylex, which will give almost instant relief, and if used in the earlier stages of the trouble will almost certainly bring a cure, and in any event will greatly ameliorate the trouble. Ask your druggist about it. Price 50c. a box. Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake.

VOUCHES FOR TRUTH OF ATROCITY STORY.

New York, Nov. 21.—The American says: "Germany has army corps, equivalent to 300,000 officers and men, in this country already, and if she wins the present war, it will be our turn next."

Such was the statement made by John R. Drexel, of this city, when he returned from Europe to-day on the White Star Line steamer Adriatic. He has spent most of the last two months in Vichy, France, and declared he had a splendid opportunity to see the German fighting machine at work.

"It is a wonderful machine, and is being very cleverly handled by the most astute group of men in the world, the German General Staff," he continued. "It is up to this government to take immediate steps to increase the strength of her standing army and to double our fleet."

"My brother, Anthony T. Drexel, is fighting with a French regiment. He was in London two days before I left having brought home Lady Sarah Wilson, whose husband had been killed at Alsace. Lady Sarah, up to that time, had been with the Red Cross. Her husband's death and the terrible weather on the Continent were responsible for her prostration."

"You are going to hear of more atrocities before the war is over, and some of them will be more horrible than anyone ever imagined. While I was at Vichy, a wounded German soldier was brought into the hospital. In his pocket was the hand of a woman with four valuable rings still on her fingers."

THE COLORS OF THE FLAG.

What is the blue on our flag, boys? The waves of the boundless sea, Where our vessels ride in their timeless pride.

And the feet of the winds are free; From the sun and smiles of the coral isles To the ice of the south and north, With dauntless tread through tempests dreed.

The guardian ships go forth.

What is the white on our flag, boys? The honor of our land, Which burns in our sight like a beacon light.

And stand while the hills shall stand.

Yes, dearer than fame is our land's great name.

And we fight wherever we be,

For the mothers and wives that pray for the lives

Of the brave hearts over the sea.

What is the red on the flag, boys?

'Tis the blood of our heroes slain On the burning sands, in the wild waste lands.

And the froth of the purple main; And it cries to God from the crimson sod

And the crest of the waves outrolled.

That he send us men to fight again As our fathers fought of old.

We'll stand by the dear old flag, boys, Whatever be said or done;

Though the shots come fast, as we face the blast.

And the foe be ten to one—

Though our only reward be the thrust of the sword.

And a bullet in heart or brain; What matters one gone if the flag float on.

And Britain be lord of the main.

Overgarter boots are one of the winter fads, and they have the merit of being very warm.
