DOWN PRINCE BACK IN GER-MANY.
PARIS, Nov. 10. While the Inter-Allied Council sat on with alarm, former Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm, left his exile on Wieringen Island, Holland, and returned to his estate in Silesia, where he had been driven in 1918, five years ago, when the military aspirations of him and his father, the former Kaiser, were finally dashed to the ground and a revolution robbed them of their dignity in the Fatherland. The former Crown Prince made the move with the full consent of both Dutch and German governments, and a note was des-

WILLIE'S FAREWELL MESSAGE.
THE HAGUE, Nov. 10. In a farewell message posted at Wieringen, following the departure of the former Crown Prince for Germany, Frederick Wilhelm thanks the people cordially and explains that a personal farewell was impossible, because his departure under such conditions would have been difficult. "In a desperate plight, slandered and roofless, I came to Wieringen in November, 1918, and here, I quickly found rest and human sympathy. I say good-bye to you and wish all that is best for the Island of the future. Many thanks till we meet again."

FLIGHT FEATURED BY LONDON PAPERS.
LONDON, Nov. 10. The former Crown Prince's startling flight into Germany is featured conspicuously in London's daily papers, which speculate on whether the Allies will force Germany to give Frederick Wilhelm up. The press makes much of the fact that the Prince was allowed to depart from Holland and enter Germany in face of the strong declaration by the Allies against his return.

NOT AT OELS—WHERE IS HE?
OELS, Nov. 10. The former Crown Prince has not arrived at Oels up to eight o'clock to-night. There is no information as to where he spent Saturday, Sunday or to-day.

BERLIN NOT WORRYING.
BERLIN, Nov. 10. The present whereabouts of the German Crown Prince is not known, but it is announced in official quarters that Frederick Wilhelm spent Saturday night with friends on an estate near Hildesheim, in the neighborhood of Hanover, and would probably arrive Monday at Oels, where it is his intention to sojourn in his own castle. The departure of the Hohenzollern Prince from Wieringen, and his entry into Germany, does not seem to have caused the excitement in Berlin that might be expected. Popular opinion appears wholly dis-

ATHENS, Nov. 12. King George will comply with the request made by the military republican faction that he leave Greece for a brief period, pending clearing of the general situation. BRITAIN ABANDONS ALL IDEA OF ENQUIRY.
LONDON, Nov. 12. In consequence of the failure of the negotiations between France and the United States over the scope of the proposed Expert Committee, Great Britain has abandoned all thought of an immediate reparations enquiry either with or without the participation of France. The British Government will henceforth devote itself to pressing domestic problems, awaiting a more promising moment to re-open the reparations question. The Government authorities repudiate the recent talk about any impending break with France, arguing that the existence of the Entente is the only anchor whereby the European ship of state can be prevented from going on the rocks.

CONFERENCE WAS MADE.
On the matter of Empire Defence Conference, first declaring that views and conclusions of the Conference necessarily were subject to the action of the Governments and Parliaments of the various parts of the Empire, suggested the following as guiding principles:—The primary responsibility of each portion of the Empire represented at the Conference, for its own local defence; the desirability of the maintenance of a minimum standard of naval strength, namely equality with the naval strength of any foreign power in accordance with the provisions of the Washington Treaty; the desirability of the development of air forces in several countries of Europe upon such lines as will make it possible, by a means of adoption, as far as practicable, of a common system of organization and training, and the use of uniform manuals and patterns of army equipment stores, with the exception of aircraft, for each part of the Empire, that it may co-operate with other parts with the least possible delay, and greatest efficiency. The Conference also took note of the following:—In the interest of Australia and New Zealand, the provision of a naval base at Singapore is essential for ensuring the mobility necessary to provide security of the trade of the Empire in eastern waters, and the necessity for maintenance of safe passages along the great trade route to the East through the Mediterranean and the Red Sea. It also urged the necessity of maintenance by Great Britain of home defence by an air force sufficiently strong to give adequate protection against air attack by the strongest air
