

THE AIR IS FULL OF THINGS YOU SHOULDN'T MISS

"We don't dread the winter any more. Radio brings the companionship of the world right into the living room."

The lonesome evening hours are fast disappearing under the magic of radio.

Now the whole family can enjoy the world's best music, can listen to church services and receive the latest news of the world.

A good radio receiving set will do this, and more—but every radio receiver needs the best batteries, so when you purchase a radio, be sure to buy EVEREADY RADIO BATTERIES to make it operate at its best. THERE ARE NO BETTER.

Insist on EVEREADY RADIO BATTERIES. They last longer.

Federal Parliament Opened Yesterday

Important Legislation to be Considered—Another Home Bank Director Convicted—Toronto Cloak Makers Strike in Sympathy With Montreal Workers—Spanish N. African Subjects Again in Revolt.

HONOR-GENERAL'S SPEECH. OTTAWA, Feb. 5. The Governor General opened the Parliament this afternoon. He announced that parliament would be sought for the call of a conference between the Federal and Provincial governments for settlement of the British North America Act, with respect to the constitution and the powers of the Senate.

APPEAL REJECTED. HANOVER, Germany, Feb. 5. The Court of Appeals has rejected the appeal of Hans Gram, accomplice of Frederick Haarmann, known as the human vampire, convicted of the murder of 26 persons, mostly young men, and sentenced him to be beheaded. Both men will be executed shortly.

DIES SUDDENLY. GLACE BAY, Feb. 5. Donald Lusk, 40, chief electrician of the Dominion Coal Company's plant here, was found dead to-day in the electrical shop, where he was employed. His death is believed to be due to poisoning, as several other men who attended a banquet with him last evening were reported ill to-day. He was a Veteran of the Great War and wore the Military Medal for bravery at Messines Ridge. An inquest and autopsy has been ordered.

YEAST KING DIES AFTER POLO GAME. MIAMI, Florida, Feb. 5. Jules Fleischmann, Yeast King and millionaire philanthropist, fell dead to-day at the finish of a polo game in which he played. He got off his horse and fell to the field and was dead when help reached him.

LANDSLIDES IN KOOTENAY. NELSON, B.C., Feb. 5. Two lives lost, the railway line closed for a season, and one house demolished, are the results so far reported of Kootenay's snowslides in the past twenty-four hours, following days of thaw and rain.

THE CHURCH UNION VOTE. TORONTO, Feb. 5. Last night's Church Union vote summary shows 1,116 Churches for Union and 357 against.

FASHIONS BY WIRE. PARIS, Feb. 5. The spring offensive of picture hats has called for a third successive season and milliners fear that the small chapeaux reign supreme until women allow themselves more hair than at present.

FOX SKIN SALE. MONTREAL, Feb. 5. A feature of yesterday's sale of the Canadian Fur Auction Sales Co., Ltd. here, was the disposal of 895 silver fox skins, being the balance of a total collection of 1,222. The top price paid for these skins which came mostly from Quebec and Prince Edward Island, was $375.

RESCUE OF ENTOMBED MAN SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE. CAVE CITY, N.Y., Feb. 5. Floyd Collins is still alive but he has been permanently entombed in his sand cave prison, 125 feet underground, by a rise in the floor of the cave and all hopes of escape through any natural passage have been abandoned. Two trips into the cave have convinced those in charge of the work that their only chance to reach Collins is by sinking a shaft from the top of the hill, and endeavoring to tunnel the imprisoned man. "I am through," said Collins, shortly after midnight, visibly dejected over the latest turn of events. Collins has been imprisoned in the cave since last Friday morning when a large boulder landed on his legs when he was making his way out of the cave.

Just Folks. By EDGAR GUEST. FATHER'S ADVICE. My dad and I, long years ago, were walking down the street. When suddenly a little dog came yelping round our feet. He snarled and snarled so violently—that angry little pup appeared to me, as though he thought that he could eat us up. I turned and threw some stones at him which always missed the mark. But when I tried to drive him off the louder he would bark.

"Now, son," my father said to me, "just plod along your way. Don't turn your head for yelping dogs. Remember what I say! You'll notice if you pay no heed to him and hold your peace. That little dog will soon grow tired and all his noise will cease; but every time you stamp your foot and shout to him: 'Begone,' you show that he's annoying you and keep him following on."

"It takes a dog to fight a dog! Post that above your shelf! When canines come and snarl at you, don't be a dog yourself. And when you're older grown, and petty men attack, don't stoop to pick up stones to throw; don't try to answer back; just walk right on any pay no heed to anything they say. And very soon they'll give it up and turn and run away."

It is a very ancient dodge these petty minds employ. They say the gods first angry make the man they would destroy, and little dogs and little men who snarl behind your back will only snarl the louder if you answer their attacks; and they'll have done the very thing they started out to do. If being yellow digs themselves, they make one out of you!

M. C. L. I. Debate. VERDICT FOR AFFIRMATIVE.

The subject for debate last evening was as follows:—"That the general acceptance of a version of Scripture in contemporary English would help to vitalize religion." The affirmative speakers were Rev. R. E. Fairbairn, Mr. Wilson Clarke, Mr. M. Kelloway and for the Negative, Messrs. A. E. Parkins, I. C. Morris, Wm. Drover.

The main arguments to the Affirmative were as follows:—"That contemporary English means the same as is used in daily talk in the market place. That a new version is needed for the same reason that a new version was needed in 1611 in the language of the day. That the old version had a halo of veneration for the early English style and language and that it prevents the 'raw reality' of religion from being effective. That Jesus talked in the common language. That the New Testament was written in the language of the market. That Missionaries translate the Bible into the common language of the natives and it grips them. That Religion is the Truth as contained in the Scriptures and that the average man cannot read it and understand it without the use of commentaries. That the Ethiopian could not get much out of the Scripture until St. Philip talked with him a 'new version.' Then religion became vital to him. That the same 'truths would

Regeneration in Loop Receivers

Quite often it is desirable to add regeneration to a superheterodyne receiver which is working on a loop. One reason for this addition is that regeneration gives quite a large amount of easily controlled amplification at the expense of only one additional control to the receiver. Another and equally important reason is that regeneration in ANY receiver greatly increases its selectivity. The simplest method to add regeneration to a loop is the one shown in the figure above. In series with one terminal of the loop, preferably in series with the loop and the receiver terminal which connects to the grid, a coil "S" is inserted. In the plate circuit of the detector, a second coil "T" is placed. This coil acts as a regular tickler feedback coil and controls the regeneration.
