A Versatile Champion of the Public Right

On Monday the Telegram published an article taken from the Financial Post which purported to be a statement of the financial position of Besco, and in our comments thereon, we indicated the Government's proposals to the Corporation for the improvement of the working and housing conditions in Bell Island, and the concessions which the latter asked in return.

By some curious process of reasoning the Globe inferred that we were pleading the cause of Besco, and playing to use its own expression—to the "big bugs," and were striving to serve the monied rather than that of the working classes of the community.

If the Globe had not been hibernating at a time when the workmen on Bell Island required the services of a journal that never was under any obligation to the corporation in question, and that could with effect champion their cause, it might have been more fully conversant with the Telegram's attitude in relation to Besco, and its stand on behalf of the men.

The taunt that our forty-six years in the service of the public is an idle boast, is so obviously prompted by the little green god of jealousy as to require no further comment than the simple statement that our existence today is due to such merits as the community has found the Telegram to possess, and provided it can win the same share of public confidence, the Globe will no doubt be proud forty-six years hence to make the same boast.

Far more of an enigma than our attitude to Besco or any corporation that enjoys one-sided privileges in this country is the matter of that peculiar "Star" cheque, which bore the signature of the present Editor of the Globe, and which to such an extent aroused the curiosity of Commissioner Walker. Far more of a mystery is that box of money, which passed from a director of Besco to the campaign funds of a party, of which this worthy Editor was an ardent champion. Who is in a better position than he to throw a little light on those peculiar transactions? So great is the interest of the public in these mysteries, that a statement in the Globe to-morrow to the effect that the story in full would appear in its next issue, would assure a sale such as no local journal has ever experienced. In fact, it might publish a series of articles on this subject which would not only prove enlightening to the public, but would afford sufficient entertainment to while away many a dull evening during the coming winter.

A newspaper is supposed to serve the interests of the public generally. Of the Star, long since defunct, we were told under oath that it was only a political organ. With that paper the Globe's Editor was closely identified, and according to his own evidence, was even one of the three solitary $10.00 shareholders. Are we to presume that the Globe has been revived to serve the same useful purpose? The tranquil state of the country at present is by no means to the liking of certain hotheads, whose political careers throughout have been characterized by an insensate desire to upset the existing state of affairs. Attempts are daily being made to inflame the public mind, but the only effect produced upon those who read these specious articles is to incense them still further against the authors.

They fail utterly to gauge public sentiment or they would hesitate to antagonize the community by hurling abuse at the Throne itself. Some of these writers have so far misjudged the spirit of loyalty in the Old-est Colony as to suggest that its people would prefer to be citizens of the United States rather than subjects of the Sovereign of the Empire, and they have even dared to presume that in this they voice public opinion. Why not at once say of Bolshevik Russia? The United States has already clearly shown that she is by no means partial to agitators, whereas the former would welcome them with open arms.

Magistrate's Court

Two seamen arrested for being drunk on the public street, were released on the condition of a deposit of five dollars to go on board their ship.

A man given in charge by his wife was discharged. The complainant failed to appear against him.

Two drunks and disorderlies were each fined $3.00.

Two other drunks were released on making a deposit.

An old offender named Price was charged with a breach of Section 73 of the Highway Traffic Act, that is, stealing a motor car. The accused pleaded "guilty" and was fined $200 or in default two months' imprisonment.

Another man who is said to be an accomplice of Price, was also arraigned on a similar charge, but pleaded "not guilty." His case was held over until to-morrow to give the police a chance to establish a case. According to the evidence of two witnesses who met Price on Tuesday night, a conversation took place on Barnes Road between the hours of 12 and 1 a.m. When one of the party stated that a dance was on at Nagle's Hill, to which they all agreed to go. Price then said he would get his father's car to motor out and took along with him one of his friends. They arrived with the car a short while later, and upon picking up their two friends they motored to Nagle's Hill, but had not remained there long when they again returned to the city, and parked the car on Gower Street. The car was not the property of Price's father, but was stolen by defendant from Parson's Garage on the Tuesday night. The two witnesses who motored with Price on that night knew nothing of the robbery.

Mr. W. B. Skinner, B.L., is appearing on behalf of the defendant, made a strong plea for mitigation of sentence, claiming that the man's wife was very ill, and whatever sentence was to be imposed she would be the sufferer, and not the offender.

His Honor could offer the defendant no clemency as he declared he was a criminal of the worst type. He was given some sound advice on two previous occasions when he was convicted for larceny, but he failed to pick himself up. His Honor then imposed the sentence as already mentioned.

At this interlude Judge Morris took occasion to congratulate Mr. Skinner, a member of the bar, and wished him every success in his chosen profession.

Arthur Crotty, who was held on remand about a week ago, charged with the larceny of $500, the property of Joseph Cocker, from the Anglo-American Show Room, on October 27th, appeared this morning. After the charge had been read to the accused, he agreed to be tried before Judge Morris, and entered a plea of "guilty." Mr. Cocker, who first reported that a robbery had taken place at his premises, gave evidence that access to the building had been gained by a window from the rear, the glass broken, latch unfastened from the inside and the window dropped about eight inches. The contents of the safe were found missing, such as gold and notes amounting to $503.00; also a diamond ring which he was unable to value. The ring was produced in court and identified by witness. He could not state whether or not the safe had been locked on the previous evening, and only two others knew the combination. Head Constable Byrne, who investigated into the robbery, gave evidence on the arrest of the accused, besides presenting a statement, in which he defendant confessed everything in connection therewith. His original intention of breaking into the premises, so he claims, was to get a B Battery for a radio set, but in groping about in the dark, he found the safe door open. He then forced open the drawers on the inside and took their contents. He made his exit by the back door. Head Constable Byrne stated that $122.00 of the notes have been recovered; also $70.00 in gold, besides the diamond ring. The accused, who had two former convictions against him for larceny, was then sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment.

Canadian Runner Arrives

Mr. James Hawboldt, of Westville, N.S., one of Eastern Canada's fleet-footed runners, arrived by ship this morning, to compete in a series of races against our local runners. Mr. Hawboldt, who is only 30 years old, has made a name for himself in long distance running in the Maritime—the past two years, and he comes here in the pink of condition, and heavily backed by all Halligonians to do honor for his country.

He was welcomed on arrival by Mr. J. M. Tobin, on behalf of the Halifax Sports and Athletic Committee, and taken to an hotel, where arrangements have been made for his comfort while here. Mr. Hawboldt feels little the worse for his sea trip, and hopes to have a trial spin at the Rink tomorrow.

Mr. T. W. O'Neill, his manager and trainer, was unable to come on account of pressing business matters.

Rev. W. P. H. Kitchen, Ph.D., Domestic Prelate

Last evening a telegram from Rome from His Grace the Archbishop brought the pleasing announcement that the Rev. W. P. H. Kitchen, Ph.D., Rector of St. Patrick's and at present Administrator of the Archdiocese has been elevated to the dignity of a Domestic Prelate of His Holiness Pope Pius XI. The new Monsignor is a native of St. John's, having been born here on the 26th of May, in the year 1878. He made his early studies at St. Bonaventure's College, and thence, with a view to studying for the Priesthood, proceeded to the renowned Sulplian Seminary of Issy, Paris, where he studied philosophy.

He then entered as a student in the University of Louvain, studying theology and concurrently taking the higher courses in philosophy. Louvain was then at the height of its fame under Monsignor Mercier, who since that time has become Cardinal Archbishop of Mechlin, the Belgian churchman and patriot of international fame. The new Prelate was one of Monsignor Mercier's most brilliant pupils and a particular friend of the great scholar of Louvain. After a most successful course he obtained his degree of Doctor of Philosophy in 1901 and was ordained Priest on the 24th May, 1902. Arriving in St. John's in September he celebrated his first Holy Mass on the 8th of that month at St. Patrick's Church where he remained as curate for five years under the late venerable Dean Ryan. He spent one year as assistant at the Cathedral until May, 1908, when he was promoted to the Pastor of St. Joseph's, Holyrood. In January, 1921, he succeeded His Lordship Bishop Renouf as Rector of St. Patrick's which position he has filled with remarkable success. Beside the spiritual interests of the parish, which have unfalteringly been his chief concern, a notable achievement of his administration has been the building and financing of the new Memorial School.

Right Reverend Monsignor Kitchen, as he will henceforth be known, is a scholar of some repute. His literary productions have been appearing for years in many American and European periodicals and have been widely commended for their purity and grace of style, whilst as a pulpit orator and public lecturer he excels. Outstanding as are the talents and scholarship of the distinguished cleric he is esteemed by his friends and by his flock in greater measure because of his modesty of character, his earnest piety and his sympathy and love for the weak and the poor. The honour that has come to him from the Sovereign Pontiff is the reward of real merit and we have great pleasure in joining our congratulations to those which the Roman Catholic citizens of the community unite in offering to their distinguished spiritual leader upon his new dignity.
