Copy of Letter Sent to Mrs. Newell Mrs. Newell, Calgary. Dear Madam: I have been censured for my statement that the credit system cost 10 per cent, some retailers jumping to the conclusion that I meant they alone could sell at 10 per cent. discount. This was not my meaning. This saving would be on the entire trade, not retailers alone.

We are prepared to sell 6 per cent. off our regular prices for cash P.O.E. our warehouse. This will account for over half of this 10 per cent. his 6 per cent. is made up as follows: Cost of selling, 1-1/2 per cent. Cost of drawing, 2 per cent. Cost of had accounts, 1-1/2 per cent. Cost of credit, interest, exchange, booking, etc., 2 per cent.

Owing to only a brief account of my remarks being published, they have been misunderstood. Will you kindly see that this has the same publicity, otherwise business men will feel reluctant to give information? This would be unfortunate, for I am confident your investigation will benefit every legitimate, progressive business in our city and injure none.

Yours truly, R. J. PPE.

Annual Meeting The annual meeting of the Wesleyan Church Ladies Aid will be held in the church parlor this afternoon.

BRITISH ACADEMY WHICH OPENS TODAY HAS LITTLE SIGNS OF INSPIRATION

New School of Painters Appears to Lack Ambition—Sargent Has Collection

London, May 4.—Society turned out in full strength for a private view yesterday of the 14th exhibition of the Royal Academy. The Academy, which is not so good as it used to be, today one heard, that is not exhilarating and going through the rooms is like a dull walk. There is little sign of the presence of work produced by the artists of today.

AN EARNEST REVIEW OF OUR IMPERIAL CONNECTIONS

London Times Does Not Deplore Divisions in the Empire—But is Inclined to Borden

London, England, May 3.—The principal editorial in the Times Saturday was devoted to the "Imperial Connections" in now doing into naval debates as set forth in Hansard, which has just come to hand.

"Our parliament in Westminster," the Times writes, "is in fact, as well as in name, the imperial parliament, but it is questionable if it has ever attempted on any occasion since the American war to do more than to discuss the political meaning of the bond between the mother country and her daughter countries."

The Times then reviews the Borden and Laurier speeches and concludes: "We must confess to sharing Premier Laurier's inability to see how his 'brotherly love' is in fact, an empty vessel, and how the 'brotherly love' is in fact, an empty vessel, and how the 'brotherly love' is in fact, an empty vessel."

The correspondence included an invitation from Victoria, B.C., local council, asking the National Council to meet in that city in the autumn.

The officers of the National Council were declared all re-elected by acclamation. The last time the National Council met in Montreal, 17 years ago, the Council was composed of 20 local councils, and five nationally organized societies. Today there are 31 councils and 16 affiliated societies.

NEW MAN TO BOOST TOWN OF MACLEOD

W. A. C. Moffatt, of Owen Sound, Accepts Post as Publicity Comm'r.

Macleod, May 4.—At a special meeting of the town council, the board of trade W. A. C. Moffatt, for the past three years was in eastern Ontario as editor of the Owen Sound Herald, was officially appointed as publicity commissioner for the town. Since his graduation from Sandwich College, where he first entered the newspaper game as editor of the College Review, Mr. Moffatt has conducted the editorial department of the Owen Sound Herald, winning a reputation for his ability to help in the making of Macleod, a prairie town, into a town of 2,000 people. Western Canada, dates its growth, which has been remarkably rapid, back only as far as 1870.

Immediately following his arrival in Macleod, the new commissioner outlined his energies to the disposal of the pile of papers, mostly in silver, which they carried away on burros.

The government is encouraged by reports from the Durango garrison, which for three days has been able to withstand attack. Between Toronto and Angus, Calientes rebels are reported to be robbing trains and marauding the country.

A wholesale block of buildings, including 23 structures, were destroyed with dynamite by the rebels when they gained possession of Matehuala on Monday. The news is brought here by mail from San Luis Potosi, the censorship there having prevented telegraphing.

The Matehuala garrison of 90 soldiers was wiped out in an unequal fight, the rebels being aided by hundreds of miners, who continued in the ranks when the rebels evacuated the place. Just how many were killed is unknown, but there was house to house fighting, looting, executions and debauchery of the bloodiest sort.

Mariano Zuniga, the Jeffe Politico, was executed because he refused to cry "Viva Carranza."

The government had shipped 200 rifles into the town for its defence, but the guns were still unpacked when the attack occurred. The rebels seized them. The robberies committed netted the rebels approximately 60,000 pesos, mostly in silver, which they carried away on burros.

MORE MILITANTS AND MORE MILITANCY

London, May 2.—Denunciations of the British ministry were freely indulged in by speakers at an indignation meeting of the Women's Freedom League in Caxton hall tonight. A few phrases culled from the speech of Miss Nina Boyle, a militant suffragette, will serve as samples. She said the government was composed of "cads and cowards" and that the ministers were "illiterate and ignorant."

Mrs. Charlotte Despard also appealed for militant recruits. "More militants and more militancy," she said, "will be our answer to the latest move of the government. And I don't care how often they are arrested."

As a challenge to the threat of government counsel that subscribers to the militant suffrage funds be likely to get into serious trouble, Lawrence Robinson, the English poet, announced today that he had sent a contribution to the Women's Social and Political Union.

Mexico City, May 4.—One hundred and twenty persons were killed by the dynamiting of a train by Zapatistas near La Cascaeta, in the state of Morelos, Thursday, according to information received here today. Contrary to earlier reports, there was a military escort aboard the train, all of the members of which are said to have been killed in an attack by the Zapatistas.
