

TOWN HALL WAS FILLED TO HEAR LIEU. ARNOLDI

Lieut.-Col. Walter Brown, A.A.G., M.D. No. 1, Presided at Interesting Meeting Tuesday Evening—George C Carey, Soloist, St. Thomas as "Delighted Audience."

The Town Hall was filled on Tuesday evening with citizens from Aylmer and this district, who were anxious to see and hear Lieut. Joan Arnoldi, of the Field Comforts Commission, Shorncliffe, England, who has been speaking at a few places in each province on the wonderful work of the commission in forwarding and supplying field comforts sent from Canada to the men on the field. Captain Mary Plummer and Lieut. Arnoldi are in charge of the Commission, and in a most interesting manner Miss Arnoldi told how the parcels were received in England, sorted and forwarded with quick despatch to those intended to receive them. She gave the large audience some idea of the enormous amount of detail work entailed in keeping the addresses of all the men up to date, the splendid system used in handling the thousands of parcels sent, and a list of the articles asked for the most by the men at the front. The majority of those present have some relative or friend overseas and were greatly interested in knowing just how their parcels were handled by this splendid system.

Lieut. Arnoldi, who was in uniform, possesses a very commanding appearance, has a good voice and is a most fluent speaker. She spoke in Detroit on Monday evening and was unfortunate in missing her train for Aylmer, which made her a half hour late in reaching here. Aylmer is highly honored by Miss Arnoldi's visit, which was under the auspices of the Travel Club and Field Comforts Society, and the Aylmer Women's Institute, as this is the only place visited by Miss Arnoldi in Western Ontario. In her address she highly complimented the women of Aylmer for their splendid work in making and sending field comforts and informed them that Aylmer stood among the very highest of any town its size for the amount of work accomplished, even exceeding many Canadian cities. While in Aylmer, Miss Arnoldi was the guest of Miss Lewis, sec-treasurer of the Travel Club.

Lieut.-Col. Walter J. Brown, of London, as usual made a most capable chairman, and in his remarks told how the parcels sent by the Field Comforts Commission were appreciated by the men on the line and what an important thing the splendid socks knit by our women were to the men, who were almost constantly in the wet and mud. He gave a short account of the situation during his period at the front, when Fritz sent over a thousand shells to the Allies hundred, when he had practically no reserves and the men simply hung on by grit and determination. Col. Brown thought the place to celebrate was in the churches, where the people should give thanks to God for the splendid victory over the enemy.

Mr. George C. Carey, the noted tenor of St. Thomas, kindly consented to give a couple of numbers, and his selections were greatly appreciated. He was encored on both occasions. Mr. Carey possesses a wonderful voice over which he has appeared in Aylmer, and he will receive a welcome on any future occasion.

A silver collection was taken for the work of the Comforts Commission and some sixty dollars was realized.

They were ordered by the Hydro Commission that the order was not removed as yet, and the lights must still remain off, as there is still a shortage of power in this district on account of the munition plants still being in operation. It is expected relief will be forthcoming in a few days.

"The Throb--of the Heart"

---Please don't think of the Big Store as a Building. ---Buildings are so impersonal, of iron, of steel, stone, mortar and strength. But did you ever have a building greet you with a pleasant "Good Morning!" as the sunlight breaks the day? Is it possible to regard stores as buildings and impersonal when; why it is the throb of the heart that makes stores stores, the throb of the heart that makes life, personality and friends, and if you will sit down and look the Big Store in the eye, you will find the Big Store looking warmly back into yours. You will find the heart throb there, the heart throb of sincerity and wisdom, and purpose, and other characteristics that go to make this business, that knows your way to be its way, that thanks to-day for opportunity and accedes accomplishment, recognition as a means but never as an end. And so the path lies onward, and voyages of discovery, and heart throbs and you, and we are there, and a building is here, a building that is big and good, and a store is here but it is the throb of the heart that we would like you to know, the throb of the heart that makes the Big Store. The Big Store sincere, a personality, and Friend.

THERE IS NO DEATH

There is no death-- They only truly live Who pass into the life beyond, and see This earth is but a school preparative For larger ministry.

We call them "dead". But they look back and smile At our dead living in the bonds of flesh. And do rejoice that, in so short a while, Our souls will slip the leash.

There is no death. To those whose hearts are set On higher things than this life doth afford; How shall their passing leave one least regret Who go to join their Lord?
