His fervor in the pulpit led his neighbors to trust him.

A few days ago Berry's wife visited him and gave him her corset steels, and out of these he made some very sharp and fine saws, with which he filed off the bolts of the locks. TO." A lady, well known in Lendou, Ont., writes as follows: "I am prepared to part with a great many things that I now possess, and, if necessary, forego many of the pleasures that I now enjoy; but there is one comfort and blessing that I will cling to and refuse to give up; this blessing is Paine's Celery Compound. This reliable remedy has been my friend in days of suffering, and has given me rest, sleep and appetite when the doctors failed. Years of agony from dyspepsia and nervousness made life a burden; and owing to the numberless failures of doctors to relieve my sufferings hope had almost fled. Paine's Celery Compound has been my deliverer and life-renewer, therefore you cannot wonder that I am ready to sacrifice a great deal in the way of every-day pleasures rather than lose a precious life-giver. Paine's Celery Compound is giving me health and strength, and making me feel young again."
