a prev to the flames. The fire started about 4 o'clock in Denahey's iron foundry, on Pembroke street, and quickly spread to the works of the National Manufacturing Company. Fanned by a high wind the flames ran down the street, jumping from one building to another despite the best efforts of the fire-fighters to quench the flames. The National Manufacturing Company made scales and metal articles. It was a new industry, and employed many hands.

No fatalities are recorded. Special trains from Amprior and Renfrew took all the hose and firefighting equipment that could be spared, and firemen from those places went along. Chief Prevost, of Ottawa, was asked to send help from Ottawa, but this IMPORTANT DECISION To Have Railroad Crossing Need Not Have Land Both Sides.

Hamilton, Nov. 4.-A local legal firm has received an important decision from the Dominion railway commission respecting the application of Henry New for permission to have a crossing over the T., H. and B. Railway. The decision is important because it is the first under the new section applying to crossings. It means that in future people who want crossings need not have land on both sides of the railroad property, and need not use the crossing for farm purposes only. These two conditions were contained in the old section, but the commission's interpretation of the new section sweeps those obstacles away as Mr. New was given permission to have his crossing.
