Make a Place!

No one was ever born into the world all ready to fill his niche. Your career will take on the shape you give it. Hitting your stride is half the race. The world's successes were potential misfits who made themselves fit the needs of their times. The greatest men at some time avoided failure by a hair's breadth.

A stout heart and a determination to find out what you can do and then to do it is the best equipment you can have. Ability counts only when you are man enough to put it to work. Keep working, keep observing, keep learning — and you'll be waiting for Opportunity on the doorstep.
