—Through numerous cases may appear to turn the hair gray, all that is needed to restore the natural color is Hall's Vegetable Sulfur Hair Restorer. For more than twenty years its sales have been enormous, but we have yet to learn of its first failure.

—Workmen digging at Little Hulton, England, have discovered what is believed to be a Roman road in good preservation. The road was six feet under the ground. Ancient horsemen and carts were found by the workmen at the same time. It is supposed, says the London Standard, that the road led from Manchester to the north, probably to Lancaster.

—Philosophy, Science and experience have proved that the more a man resembles Nature in his curative action, the more effective it is. This is further established by Nature's own remedy, which cures by supplying to Dyspepsia the real digestive principle.

—It is reported that a proposal is being made to Mr. Asa Hupman of Allendale, Shetland Co., to introduce his remarkable child to the English market. This child, although nearly fourteen years old, weighs only twenty-two pounds, and is in height 15 inches, is fairly proportioned, possesses extra intelligence, and musical talent.

—An elastic step, buoyant spirit, and clear complexion, are among the many desirable results of pure blood. The possessor of healthy blood has his faculties at command, and enjoys a clear and quick perception, which is impossible when the blood is heavy and sluggish with impurities. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best purifier and vitalizer known.

—It was remembered that during the first visit of cholera at St. Petersburg in 1831, says a firm of iron founders, employing 500 men informed them that all those who would not take the medicine powdered charcoal on entering the works in the morning must enter their employ. The consequence was that they did not lose a single man when cholera was dying around them.

—Some business of $100,000—S. Carley, of Montreal, one of the most extensive of good dealers in the Dominion, is using the Bradstreet mercantile agency for $100,000 damages, alleging that June he was represented by the agency as appearing to his English creditors for an extension of notes amounting to $400,000. Carley always refused to subscribe to mercantile agencies and he declares himself to be a victim of blackmail.

—The Liverpool chamber of commerce reports to the royal commission on trade depression that there has been a gradual decline in trade during the past year, and that the number of vessels is largely in excess of the demand for cargo. The chamber approves of free trade, and urges foreign countries to abandon the tariff system, adding that if they refuse the British government must impose counter duties upon goods from those countries.
